

THE OREGON SYSTEM

As Viewed in England. Says Boss is Diven Out.

"Reynold's Newspaper" published in London, gives accurate account of the "Oregon" system, recounting its progress and achievements from 1902 up to the present time and cites many incidents showing the application of the system. The following is the closing paragraph of the article in question:

"In fine, Oregon contends, and I believe with good reason, that direct legislation cured for her all the legislative reforms for which other states are struggling; that public opinion is supreme; that waste has been abolished; the 'boss' driven out of politics; and a higher type of official has been evolved. What wonder, then, that the eyes of every student of popular government, from China to Peru, should turn to remote Oregon with expectant hope and grateful benediction."

To Help Children.

An inexhaustible mine of pleasure is open for the boy or girl who loves good books and has access to them. Without effort on the part of the parent they are kept off the street and from the company of the idle and vicious and are storing their minds with useful knowledge, or are being taught high ideals and noble purposes. Thus they develop into men and women who are an honor to their parents and worthy citizens of our great Republic.

Such is the product of a Free Public Library. Is it not worth the small pittance it will cost? Many a laboring man spends more money in a week for tobacco than the maintenance of the Library would cost him in a year. Is not the education and the development of our bright boys and girls worth a little self-denial?

We all desire that our children shall have better opportunities than we have had and not have to work as we have worked. Here is an opportunity to help them help themselves, which is the very best help that can be given anyone.

Let's be "boosters" and help ourselves, help our town, and help our boys and girls by unitedly supporting the library proposition.—Iowa Library Commission.

Why He Retired.

An Illinois editor retired from journalism and his "good-bye" is chronicled in the following language: "The under-retires from the paper with the conviction that all is vanity. From the hour his paper was started to the present time he has been solicited to lie on every given subject, and can't remember having told a wholesome truth without diminishing his subscription list or making an enemy. Under these circumstances of trial, and having a thorough contempt for himself, he retires in order to recruit his moral constitution.—Ex.
