

For Game Birds and Animals

There is a law in the State of Oregon which may be made to serve a wonderfully valuable purpose, if its provisions were more widely known. The recent agitation requesting the Governor to suspend the hunting season, to the end that the damage from forest fires might be minimized, calls attention to the above mentioned provision. It is one of the privileges of the State Game Warden to make private contracts with property owners, setting aside their land as game reservations. When once this is done, it is unlawful for any one to hunt game birds and game animals on the land so set aside.

An impression has prevailed that private owners would suffer some inconvenience, were they to take advantage of this act. On the contrary, there is no expense involved, on the part of the owner, nor is the land withdrawn from any useful purpose. It is merely contracted between the owner and the State Game Warden that the land described shall be regarded as a private reserve, upon which no hunting, either by outsiders or the owner himself, shall be lawful. The hunting and killing of varmints however can be carried on by permit from the warden in charge. The owner merely agrees to act in the capacity of Deputy Game Warden for that particular piece of property submitting such evidence as he gathers to the proper authorities.

There are millions of acres of timber land in the state that could be withdrawn under contract with the State Game Warden, as well as hundreds and perhaps thousands of other large tracts. Under this law, the danger from forest fire could be almost entirely eliminated, so far as its origin is due to careless hunters. This law is not only protection against fire, but can be made to serve the farmers a useful purpose by making it unlawful for hunters to trespass on their land, damaging their grain and killing their stock besides making the game protection laws of the state of some consequence.

If something is not done soon Senator LaFollette's locks will be shaken to pieces.

A vast amount of ill health is due to impaired digestion. When the stomach fails to perform its functions properly the whole system becomes deranged. A few doses of Chamberlain's Tablets is all you need. They will strengthen your digestion, invigorate your liver, and regulate your bowels, entirely doing away with that miserable feeling due to faulty digestion. Try it. Many others have been permanently cured—why not you? For sale by all dealers.
