

The Best Oysters the World Affords---
SEALSHIPT

We get our oysters straight from the seacoast beds; they travel every mile of the journey under double seal. By our method of selling oysters, you get all the nourishing delicious quality of the oyster just like those eaten by the inhabitants of the coast.

Sealshipt Oysters

A Nourishing Economical Food

Sealshipt Oysters are sent us weekly in patented air-tight ice-cooled refrigerators. When we receive Sealshipt Oysters, we immediately place them in the porcelain enamelled Sealshipt-case in our store, which also affords perfect refrigeration.

Oysters being a perishable product, it is essential that these precautions be taken, and when you buy Sealshipt Oysters, you can be absolutely sure they are just as fresh and wholesome as the moment they left the shell at the seashore.

Buy Sealshipt Oysters from us today. We have the best and most delicious grade.

:-:JACKSONVILLE POST:-:

Official Paper of the City of Jacksonville, Oregon

A weekly newspaper published every Saturday at the county seat of Jackson County, Oregon. D. W. BAGSHAW, Editor.

Entered as second-class matter June 22, 1907, at the post office at Jacksonville, Oregon, under Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 14, 1911

SUBSCRIPTION: One year by mail $1.50. Advertising rates furnished on application.

Competition between rival transportation lines has one good effect at least—it is bringing more people to town. Now it is up to the citizens here to interest the visitors and induce them to remain.

Work on the dam on Jackson creek is temporarily delayed pending the arrival of material ordered for the core wall. The contractor is however, using his force to make the necessary excavations and when the material arrives which it is expected to in about ten days, the force will be increased in order to finish the dam before the winter rains set in.

It is reported on good authority that the county court will take immediate steps to test the legality of the proposed bond issue, by having a friendly suit instituted in the circuit court and then having an appeal taken to the supreme court. It would be wise no doubt to have the question decided as early as possible. A decision upholding the validity of the proceedings would have a favorable effect upon the value of the outstanding county warrants which are at present salable only at a discount.

Locating Wells.

No well should be located where polluting matter has access to it. Such matter usually comes from cesspools or privies, slops thrown on the surface, backings from hen yards, pigpens, and barnyards, from manured fields, animals falling into the water, and filth thrown in through the open top or washed in through the open top or leaky casings. The matter entering through the top can be kept out by cement, iron, or other impervious curbing. The entrance of material at the bottom of shallow wells can be prevented only by locating them beyond the reach of contamination. Where any of the polluting agents are present care should be taken to see that the well is located at least 100 feet away and on distinctly higher ground, so that both the surface drainage and the underground drainage—which generally moves in the same direction—will be away from it. On flat lands the wells should be at least 150 feet from any source of pollution. The importance of choosing a location safe from polluting influences is almost universally underestimated. Laying aside considerations of comfort and health, a safe well is nearly always, in the long run, the cheapest. Safety should invariably be made the first consideration instead of the last. (From Water Supply Paper 223, U. S. Geological Survey.)

Electric Sparks.

At any rate Canada did not make it as close as Maine did.

The Government seems to have the Shoe Machinery Trust on the string, and it is even liable to peg out.

Lee Oldfield's record of 9 killed and 14 wounded with one fell swoop of his runaway auto has yet no parallel.

The majority that will decide which way Maine went appears to have "took" to the tall timbers and to be still hiding there.

The man who studies the rabbit's foot in Georgia says we're not going to have any winter. We'd like to believe it!

Life to Mr. Taft begins to look like one speech after another.

Governments of the world are learning among other things that the people want to eat with considerable regularity.

Russians take advantage of the occasion to let the world know that they are suffering under a spurious brand of liberty.

The department of Agriculture estimates that $220,000,000 worth of eggs were produced last year. We fear those figures must have been prepared when eggs were selling at mid-winter prices.

That Kentucky wife who died laughing at one of her husband's jokes is probably some men's idea of a dutiful spouse.

It may be that every country has spoken, but so far as heard from, Canada is the only place where the increased cost of living is popular.

There never was a time before when it was worth so much money to big corporations to be in line with the law.

Mr. Bryan says he felt perfectly at home in Canada, and then he flatters us by calling attention to the fact that he came back.

Uncle Sam can testify that it takes courage to make tender advances to "our lady of the snows," who is liable to get cold feet.

Looks as if Italy were trying to hand the unspeakable Turk a phonograph.

Don Jorge Wickersham now appreciates that sensation which comes with the cold, gray print of the morning after.

Tama Jim Wilson has issued an order barring importations of foreign insects. Wonder if he couldn't extend it a little to include bogus barons and some other pests?

Comet is Discovered.

Local amateur astronomers have been busy the last two or three evenings watching a comet that is plainly visible on the western horizon early in the evening. The heavenly visitor can be seen under the handle of the dipper, or to be more accurate, under the extreme end of the dipper handle and about half way down towards the horizon. It can be seen just about as soon as the sun sets, but later in the evening it descends below the horizon,—at about 9:30.

The comet has a long tail which extends almost perpendicularly upward toward the dipper. At intervals it lights up with brilliancy and then fades to a dull grayish color.

The identity of the comet is somewhat of a mystery. It is supposed to be the long overdue Brooks comet. Others opine that it is nothing but a celestial tramp, scooting about the planets in playful mood. Local astronomical "sharks" who went out and viewed the phenomenon could throw little light on the mysterious visitor.—Ashland Tidings.

"Were all medicines as meritorious as Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy the world would be much better off and the percentage of suffering greatly decreased," writes Lindsey Scott, of Temple, Ind. For sale by all dealers.

New System.

If you happen to be traveling over any part of the Pacific System of the Southern Pacific Company, and if you notice as your train pulls into a station, a man attired in a white duck suit, white cap and rubber gloves, do not get impression that he is a public health inspector and that your train is liable to be delayed until he has completed an inspection, nor need you fear that the train may possibly be quarantined. That is not his duty. He is the man who fills the ice receptacles on the Southern Pacific dining and passenger coaches and he is following the latest sanitary measures that have been adopted by the corporation.

This new feature in the icing of passenger trains was inaugurated by H. V. Platt, general superintendent of the southern district of the Southern Pacific Company, and was first tried out on the Los Angeles division.

Harvard Man on O.A.C. Faculty

Corvallis, Ore., Oct. 5—Harvard is now represented on the O. A. C. faculty, since Leonard Carpenter, who took his bachelor of arts degree there in 1904, accepted appointment in place of Stanton Griffin, resigned, who was to have done field work in extension this year. Mr. Carpenter, whose home is at Medford, will also do some work in the public speaking department, though the greater portion of the debating and oratory will be in charge of the new man from the University of Minnesota, Sigurd H. Peterson.
