Crowds at Chicago Land Show

As evidence of the interest that the Southern Pacific railroad is creating at Chicago, the land show in that city, by displaying views of the country by stereopticon views, A. S. Rosenbaum is in receipt of the following telegram: "During two weeks of the show last year 77,000 entered our lecture hall. First ten days' attendance this year 72,000 attended. Looks as if we might have a total of 150,000. When the show closes we will have given over 500 lectures. Saturday's attendance 10,327. Sunday's, 8850."—Sun

Experiments in feeding Horses

Corvallis, Ore., Nov. 28.—"Farm horses as a general rule are fed entirely too much hay," says the Oregon Agricultural Experiment League's latest bulletin to the 100 members who are to test the efficiency of a system of feeding suggested by the department of animal husbandry.
"This is a positive injury to the animal, and often lessens to a considerable degree his working efficiency. It should be remembered that every time a horse inflates his lungs, the stomach is displaced, and if this organ be kept constantly full of bulky food, it imposes extra work upon the respiratory system. Heaves, so common among farm horses, is almost wholly due to feeding too large quantities of hay. Colic and other forms of indigestion are often due to feeding too large amounts of bulky food. Aside from its physical injury to the horse, the feeding of excessive amounts of hay is a waste that should be conserved.
"A horse weighing 1,000 lbs. will do more work and keep in better health on 15 lbs. of hay per day than he will on 20 lbs. per day. In fact 15 lbs. of hay per day is sufficient bulky food for a horse of that size. A horse weighing 1,600 to 1,800 lbs. does not need more than 20 lbs. of hay per day. The balance of his nutrients should be in the form of grain.
Feed the 1,000 lbs. horse 10 lbs. of good hay at night and 5 lbs. in the morning and he will perform more labour with greater ease than he would if hay is kept before him all the while. The purpose of the experiment is to cause horse owners to observe more closely the advantages of feeding less hay. If two or more teams are maintained upon the farm, feed one team as suggested and the other the usual way and note carefully the result. In making the test, however, teams should be divided as to size, age, and individuality as nearly equal as possible. Whenever practicable, weigh rather than guess the amount of hay fed."

Just received a full line of gentlemen's furnishing goods and notions.

J. W. Copeland, of Dayton, Ohio, purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for his boy who had a cold, and before the bottle was used the boy's cold was gone. Is that not better than to pay a five dollar doctor's bill? Sold by all dealers.

KILLED AT MEDFORD

James Fabrick, Companion, jumps in nick of time and life is saved.

Leonard Childs, fifteen years of age, was instantly killed about 6 o'clock Tuesday night when caught in the moving ice lift at the Hotel Medford.
Young Childs was accustomed to help his chum, James Fabrick, son of Glen Fabrick, owner of the Domestic laundry, load laundry, and as usual accompanied him on his round of the hotels.
The laundry was taken to the basement by the passenger elevator and the boys prepared to return by the sidewalk elevator. Both boys, it is believed, scrambled on and started the elevator. The elevator moves slowly, but it was dark and it had risen several feet before the Fabrick boy noticed that the iron doors above had been closed. He gave a cry of alarm and jumped, but it is believed his companion, in endeavoring to escape, was caught between a beam and the moving platform.
Young Fabrick, though only twelve years of age, did not lose his head, and endeavored vainly to stop the moving lift, but without avail. The cries of the lad attracted George Titus, the busman, who was chopping ice in an adjoining room, and he ran to their assistance, turning off the power. It was too late, however. When Dr. M. S. Burgess, the house doctor, arrived the boy was dead, his skull having been crushed and his leg broken.
Young Fabrick was completely prostrated by the accident and could not be seen last night to give his story of the case. As there was no other eyewitness the exact manner of death may never be known.—Sun.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local application, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of mucous surfaces.
We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

PORTLAND LETTER

Large Sums for Betterment of Rivers and Harbors.

Portland, Or., Nov. 28 (Special)—Oregon and the Pacific Northwest will fare well when Congress makes appropriations for river and harbor improvements at the coming session, provided the recommendations of the Chief of Army Engineers is followed. His budget calls for appropriations amounting to not less than $3,452,250 for the betterment of waterways in this section of the country.
Among the projects for which money is expected to be forthcoming is $1,000,000 for the Columbia River jetty, while between Portland and the sea channel improvements are estimated to need $475,000. The Celilo Canal is listed for $500,000 and improvements above Clatskanie River, $1,000 more.
Other recommendations included in the report are: Columbia, Bridgeport to Kettle Falls, $25,000; Willamette, above Portland, $20,000; Siuslaw River, $120,500; Snake River, $25,000; Coos River, $3,000; Tillamook Bay, $5,000; Clatskanie River, $1,000.
Although Governor West has no use for hemo, this state can grow it successfully, says N. S. Merrill of Merrill Or. He has made experiments on a small tract of ground and grew hemp plants 14 feet high. The seed germinated freely and evenly and Mr. Merrill says the fibre is of great tensile strength.
Nes Perce, Idaho, lays claim to a model citizen in the person of a Chinaman. Lately that town has raised a publicity fund to exploit its resources and the Chinaman subscribed $120. His name is Fong Way. Incidentally, Nes Perce, with a population of 1500, is raising a promotion fund of $10,000, to carry on a two years work.
The semi-annual meeting of the Western Forestry and Conservation Congress, which is scheduled for Portland, December 4 and 5, will be a forest fire conference and government and state officials, as well as private holders of timber, will be represented. Delegates will attend from throughout the West, from Montana to California. Ways and means to check the annual loss to the forests through destructive fires will be the chief topics presented.
Attractive prizes are offered for poultry exhibited at the annual show of the Oregon Poultry and Pet Stock Association, which will be held in Portland December 4 to 9. Premiums will be given to children who have taken up poultry, as well as to fanciers generally. Multnomah County has voted a special prize of $50 to go to juvenile poultry raisers.
The poultry department of the Oregon Agricultural College has two hens that have tied for the egg-laying championship of the United States, having laid 259 eggs each during the past 12 months. Until now the record was held by a Maine hen, which had 251 eggs to its credit in a year.
The contract has been let by the Southern Pacific for the first 23 miles of the new railroad projected from Eugene to Coos Bay. Between $6,000,000 and $7,000,000 will be spent in the construction of this new line to the coast.

ECONOMY THE SLOGAN

Of the next Congress says our Washington Correspondent

Washington, D. C., Nov. 23—Wherever the industrious legislator turns at the coming session, he is likely to run into the slogan of economy in national expenditures. Army posts and navy yards are to be abolished by consolidation, and appropriations for new public buildings, for waterways, for the conduct of the public business, and for everything else connected with the Government are to be held down as close as possible. This cry for economy has even prevented the consideration in the Army Appropriation Bill of any expenditure for the fortifying of Los Angeles Harbor, for which land had been bought and which is the only important strategic point on the Pacific Coast not already provided with defenses. The President is determined to keep up the programme of economy, and the Democrats will have to get busy, the President's advisors think, if they succeed in showing greater solicitude for the public purse than the Administration does. But this is all very distressing to the hard-working congressmen who are anxious to help districts with the aid of public funds.

Good Bye Boose

London, Nov. 27.—Iceland is preparing for a New Year's eve jamboree that will make New York's annual celebration look like an ice cream social. Anticipation of the law which goes into effect January 1, prohibiting further importation of whisky and other spirituous liquors into that country, the great Scotch whiskey distillers of Glasgow and other points are shipping their product by every available boat. The steamer Ceres alone took 40 huge casks.

KIDNAPS PAPPOOSE

Drives away with youngster. Angers Friends of Mother

White Salmon, Wash., Nov. 27.—There was a variation to Owen Wister's "Virginian," who changed the clothes on a couple of babes while their mothers' backs were turned with the result that each went home with the wrong infant, when William Bates, a bachelor rancher living five miles from town, drove off with Josie Frank's pappoose Saturday evening.
The poor squaw was almost distracted and caused considerable excitement, especially among her Indian friends trading in town. It was learned from her jabbering that she believed an enemy, Susy Wakkamups, had run away with the pappoose. Two Indian boys were sent in different directions, but had not been out long before Bates drove back with the pappoose on the seat beside him.
When part way home he was startled by the whimperings of an infant, and turning around was dismayed by the presence in the bottom of his hack of a swarthy and somewhat dirty infant. How it got there perplexed the rancher and for a time he feared he had a white man's burden on his hands.
The mystery was cleared when it was found that Bates' wagon and the one of the Indian woman were almost alike and that the squaw had laid her pappoose in the wrong rig while she went into the meat market to make a purchase. For awhile, however, Bates was worried, for the Indians who gathered around were angry, believing Bates had intentionally tried to run away with the babe, which was the least concerned of the group.

What Will Congress Do?

Opinions as to the net results of the coming session of Congress vary not a little. Some of the statemen already in Washington believe that Congress will pass practically no legislation. Others are just as certain that it will delve deeply into tariff legislation. It is not very probable that Congress will transact very much business, as both parties will probably feel disposed to go ahead with much caution on the eve of a big political campaign, in order to make as few mistakes as possible. The currency will receive a good deal of attention, and an effort will be made to adopt the Aldrich plan for a central bank. The Democrats are disposed to abolish the Commerce Court, which they accuse of being too strongly biased in favor of the transportation interests. They declare unequivocally that they have "got its goat," as the sporting editors say. The advocates of waterway improvement will try to have a definite policy adopted, and the trust busters are due for a lot of anti-corporation talk.

ANSWERS EVERY CALL

Jacksonville People Have Found That This is True.

A cold, a strain, a sudden wrench. A little cause may hurt the kidneys. Spells of backache often follow. Or some irregularity of the urine. A certain remedy for such attacks. A medicine that answers every call. Is Doan's Kidney Pills, a true specific. Thousands of people rely upon it. Here is one case: M. Powell, 263 Oak St., Ashland Or., says: "I suffered a great deal from kidney trouble and backache and sometimes I could hardly get around. On arising in the morning, I was stiff and lame and the kidney secretions annoyed me by their irregularity in passage. As soon as I commenced taking Doan's Kidney Pills, I improved and I am now in good health. I still use Doan's Kidney Pills occasionally however, but more as a preventive than anything else. I always insist upon Doan's Kidney Pills, for no substitute could be as effective as they."
