Thanksgiving Day has been here and is gone for another year. The people of the United States, as a nation, have many things to be thankful for; the people of the State of Oregon have still more reasons to return their thanks, and specially those in the Rogue River valley. Individually, we believe that every reader of this paper will honestly acknowledge in his heart that he has many reasons to return thanks to the "Giver of all good and perfect gifts." Sometimes, some of us may think that we are unfortunate and unlucky in our affairs; but if we stop to consider how much worse our condition might be, we should be ready and willing to return thanks for the manifold blessings and favors which we have received.

UNCLE JIMMIE TWOGO OD

Writes letter about old-time friends in Rogue Valley.

Boise, Idaho, Nov. 26, 1911.—

I was very much surprised awhile back to notice the death of my dear old friend Mrs. Kenney, (nee Lib T'Vault.) It was in the month of August 1851, that I first met Col. T'Vault in Oregon City. At that time General Joe Lane, Delexon Smith, J. M. Shepard, and his brother-in-law, were called the "Wheel horses of the Democrat Party," and ran things to suit themselves, but it didn't last.

It was the spring of 1852, that Col. T'Vault moved out south to the Rogue River Valley and took up a ranch 10 miles north of Jacksonville and called the place where they had the postoffice Dardanelles, Gold Hill was struck there afterwards by Ish, Johnny MacLothlin, Henry Clippell, August Brown and others. In the Indian war 1853, Doc Rose and John R. Hardin were way laid and killed near there. Hardin had married Amanda Gaul of Gaul's Creek, widow married Hawkins Shelton of Roseburg, lived neighbors to me here many years both are gone now.

Of my old dear friends the T'Vault's the old gentlemen and wife, Lizzy, Sainty and George are all gone now, as are Col. John E. Ruff, who I knew in Chicago in the forties, Mike Hanley, Wayner Foudry and hundreds of others. Dave Lynn and John Hailey of Boise, Joe Pinkham and James H. Finney are all that is left. At the rate the pioneers are passing away, I soon will be all alone. I am approaching my 86th birthday. My oldest sister, Mrs. M. L. Satterlee, of 2704 Michigan Avenue, had 150 guest to her ninety-first birthday party which was on Oct. 16.

Joe Pinkham is manager of the Boise Assay Office, John Hailey and wife, nee Miss Burrell Griffin, and Jim Finney that ran the pack train to Crescent City and now proprietor of the Finny Theatre, that cost $100,000, are all 10 years younger than myself, and are all in good health and vigorous.

The weather in Boise is ideal, warm, clear, sunshiny days, no storms or wind yet. It is next to Rogue River Valley, which has the best climate on the Coast.

ICEBERG GROUPINGS.

Clusters and Long Lines Formed by Storms and Ocean Currents.

Among the perils and wonders of the ocean there are few more interesting things than icebergs, interesting not only by reason of their gigantic size, their fantastic shapes, their exceeding beauty, but also for the manner wherein they array themselves.

Icebergs exhibit a tendency to form both clusters and long lines, and these groupings may arise from the effects both of ocean currents and of storms.

Some very singular lines of bergs, extending for many hundreds of miles east of Newfoundland, have been shown on official charts issued by the government. Two of these cross each other, each keeping on its independent course after the crossing. In several instances parallel lines of bergs leave long spaces of clear water between them.

Curiously enough, while enormous fields of ice invade the so called "steamship lanes" of the Atlantic at the opening of spring during certain years, in other years at that season there is comparatively little ice to be seen. The ice comes, of course, from the edges of the arctic regions, from the icebound coasts of Greenland and Labrador, where huge bergs, broken from the front of the glaciers at the point where they reach the sea, start on their long journeys toward the south, driven by the great current that flows from Baffin bay into the northern Atlantic ocean.—Harper's Weekly.

Why Stars Twinkle.

The twinkling of the stars is chiefly an effect produced in the atmosphere upon the waves of light. It is due to currents and strata of air of different densities intermingling and floating past each other, through which the light passes to the eye. It is seen much more in cold than in warm weather and nearer the horizon more than overhead. The same effect may be seen by looking out of a window over a hot radiator or a candle held on the other side of a hot stove, so that you have to look through a body of highly heated air at the candle flame. The flame will be seen to waver and quiver. In other words, the various layers of air are at different densities and in motion, hence the "twinkle."—Exchange.

The Grass Widow Defined.

It is related of a Methodist bishop that when presiding over a district conference in North Carolina he had an attack of hay fever and in consequence was somewhat irascible and impatient. A young preacher who gave a rather poor account of his work was given a severe reprimand by the bishop and asked to state the reason for his failure.

"Well, bishop," he explained, "we had a lot of trouble the first year with a grass widow, and"

"A grass widow?" roared the bishop. "And what, pray, is a grass widow?"

"A grass widow, bishop," responded the young clergyman, "is a woman whose husband died of hay fever."—St. Louis Republic.

Perhaps.

"Why," said the young man who tries to be cynical, "are dogs and horses so much more faithful in their friendships for us than our fellow human beings?"

"Perhaps," replied Miss Cayenne. "It's often due to the fact that we treat them with so much more kindness and consideration."—Washington Star.

A Vast Difference in Floor Finishes

It means economy—it means satisfaction—it means a beautiful, lasting finish on your floors, to know the difference before you buy.

Common varnishes are brittle and soon show unsightly scratches.

Elastica Floor Finish is so tough that nothing mars it. Heels, scraping chairs, casters, leave no marks.

Common varnishes turn white under water.

Elastica Floor Finish never does. It is water-proof.

Common varnishes and wax need constant care and refinishing.

Elastica Floor Finish keeps its original lustre. It outlasts any finish ever before offered. It saves work and saves expense.

We cannot overstate the importance of knowing the facts about floor finishes. Come in and ask us.

A Child's Delight

is a few of our delicious Candies, but older children, we notice, never turn up their noses at them. The most critical judges pronounce our confections to be pure and wholesome, and we ourselves vouch for the positive cleanliness of their ingredients, and their making and handling. But—though of the highest grade—the prices are moderate.
