

JACKSONVILLE POST

Official Paper of the City of Jacksonville, Oregon

A weekly newspaper published every Saturday at the county seat of Jackson County, Oregon. D. W. BAGSHAW, Editor.

Entered as second-class matter June 22, 1907, at the post office at Jacksonville, Oregon, under Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

SATURDAY, MARCH 16, 1912

SUBSCRIPTION: One year by mail $1.50. Advertising rates furnished on application.

It is with pleasure that we call the attention of our readers to the announcement of H. K. Hanna, as a candidate for the office of Prosecuting Attorney. Born and raised in Jacksonville, Mr. Hanna needs no introduction to most of our readers, but for the information of the new comers in the county we will briefly say; Mr. Hanna is the son of the late Judge Hanna who so creditably filled the office of Circuit Judge of this district for more than 25 years; he is a young man of sterling worth, honest and upright in his dealings with his fellow man, one whose word is good as any man's bond. He has had the advantage of a liberal education and is well grounded in the law and the practice of our courts. In a word, he is admirably fitted for the position and if nominated and elected thereto will make an officer of whom the district may well be proud.

The political pot is simmering and from present indications it threatens to boil over by the time of the primary, the contest at present seems to be in regard to the selection of a County judge. Both Ashland and Medford have candidates in the field for the republican nomination and it is stated that Judge Neil of this city has filed his declaration of intention to become a candidate for the nomination on the democratic side of the house. The voter will have considerable leeway in making his choice. May the best man win.

PORTLAND LETTER

Livestock Show Will be Biggest Ever Held on Coast.

Portland, Or., Mar. 12(Special)—With exhibits provided for every pen that had been built and the necessity of planning additional space. The Pacific Northwest Livestock Show to be held in Portland March 18-20 will be of great importance to the livestock industry of the Northwest. Its success is assured. A special train of Inland Empire stock breeders and another from Spokane will be features of the attendance. The Lewiston Boosters will be in Portland on the 18th. Livestock from Montana, Idaho, Wyoming and Utah, as well as from Washington and Oregon, will be shown. A combination sale of Short-horn cattle and Duroc-Jersey hogs will be one of the big events. The clubs and other community organizations within a large radius of Portland, on both sides of the Columbia River, have promised to send delegations.

A meeting to launch a movement that will make the Pacific Coast states the "Playground of America." will be held in San Francisco April 2. Representatives of the Portland Rose Festival, the Seattle Potlatch, the Montara Feste, the Spokane National Apple Show, the Vancouver (B. C.) International Horse Show, the Pendleton Roundup, the Salem Cherry Fair and of all the regular celebrations held in California cities will be in attendance.

The call was sent out by the management of the Rose Festival and it has met with an enthusiastic response. No definite plan of action has been offered, but co-operation is to be the keynote. Each city will be asked to carry on its advertising a dateline calling attention to attractions of the other cities represented in the organization and to work together in securing national conventions and other important gatherings. It is believed that the possibilities for good in such a union are limitless.

Oregon's delegation to San Francisco, on the occasion of choosing the site for its exhibit at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition was a truly representative one. It was made up of the best men and women from all parts of the state and was a fitting recognition of the high honor that has been given the state by fair officials in the matter of the very first choice of location. So many applications to join the party were made at the Oregon Development League headquarters that the complement for a special train was soon made up. Many went by regular trains. The special left the 12th. The commercial bodies of San Francisco made it known long in advance that the Oregon delegation would be royally taken care of in every way.

During the past week new impetus has been given to the "Made in Oregon" campaign recently started in Salem. The Manufacturer's Association of Portland gave up the entire program of its annual meeting March 5 to this subject. Supplementing this some of the retail houses made attractive exhibits in their windows of Oregon-made products and the attention of the city generally was attracted to the movement. At Corvallis, on March 7, delegates from the commercial clubs of the state took part in a rousing meeting that was called for this purpose. One of the suggestions made was that communities should assist each other by a reciprocal pushing of the local products manufactured.

Woman Files Charge.

Warrants were issued Monday morning by Justice of the Peace G. O. Taylor for the arrest of A. J. Wilson and Joseph Sharkey, living at and near Woodville, upon complaint of Mrs. Elma Curry, who alleges that the two men threatened to kill her.

The trouble is alleged to have started during a dispute over a mining claim near Woodville, all three claiming ownership in the property. It is alleged that the woman was ejected by force from the land, whereupon she came to Medford and secured legal action against Sharkey and Wilson.—Sun.

If the people of Russia ever hear about the abdication of the imperialists of China they will likely wonder what kind of imperialists are raised in China.

As China is to be modernized, and may adopt the English language, it would be a good time to reform the spelling of the word queue.
