It Pleased the Composer.
 A curious story is told as to how the Rothschilds supported Carafa, the composer. The latter was far from rich. His principal income was derived from a snuffbox. And this was the way of it: The snuffbox was given to the author of "La Prison d'Edinburgh" by Baron James de Rothschild as a token of esteem. Carafa said it twenty-four hours later for 75 napoleons to the same jeweler from whom it had been bought. This became known to both child, who gave it again to the musical clan on the following year. The next day it returned to the jeweler. This traffic continued till the death of the banker and longer still, for his sons kept up the tradition, to the great satisfaction of Carafa.

Reversed the Terms.
 An old negro who lived on a southern plantation went to the nearby city for a visit and while there went to see his young "marster," who was living in the city at the time. On his return the young man's mother asked if he was in good spirits.
 "Well, mum," responded the old negro. "I reckon I'll 'spress it a little different an' say de good sperrits wuz in Marse Jeems."—Exchange.

Her Banking Plan.
 "I should like to open an account at this bank, if you please."
 "We shall be glad to accommodate you, madam. What amount do you wish to deposit?"
 "Oh, but I mean a charge account, such as I have at the big dry goods stores."—Chicago Tribune.

Fast Time.
 An Irishman while standing on the deck of a steamship which was bound for America was interested in watching the descent of a diver. Upon the arrival of Pat in New York he was astonished to behold a diver just appearing above the surface of the water. Going to the rail of the vessel, he shouted to him, "Falth, sor, and ye got over as quickly as meself!"—Exchange.
