Official Paper of the City of Jacksonville, Oregon

A weekly newspaper published every Saturday at the county seat of Jackson County, Oregon. D. W. BAGSHAW, Editor.

Entered as second-class matter June 22, 1907, at the post office at Jacksonville, Oregon, under Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

It is reported that some persons whose love for the truth is not on a par with their imagination are circulating the statement that the candidacy of Mr. Hanna for the office of prosecuting attorney was brought about by the whiskey interests in order to protect those engaged in the liquor traffic. Such statement is wholly false—Mr. Hanna is the tool of no ring, clique, or class and his candidacy as stated in a former issue of this paper was announced only after the earnest insistence of a large number of men in different parts of the district, men who are honored and of high repute in the communities where they reside: men of no one class or calling, but of different avocations, in fact those composing the better element in our county and district. The evident intention of the circulators of the falsehood referred to was to discredit Mr. Hanna among the prohibition people and secure the nomination of a weaker man one whom it is thought the democratic candidate could easily defeat at the polls next November. The people are not easily deceived however and this falsehood like a boomerang will return to strike the hand that launched it.

To those who know Mr. Hanna, no further words are necessary, but for the information of those who are not personally acquainted with him we will add that Mr. Hanna stands for the enforcement of all the laws of our state and equal justice to all; that he has no axes to grind nor persons to favor; that he will discharge the duties of the office fairly, impartially and with strict economy, so far as the welfare of the district and state will allow. If you favor the enforcement of all the laws and the conviction of the guilty, vote for Hanna.
