PENSIONS INCREASED

By New Law Which Became Effective May 11, 1912.

Congressman W. C. Hawley has mailed to local members of the G. A. R. the following letter regarding the new pension bill which has recently become a law:

"The new general service pension bill became a law Saturday, May 11, last, when the president signed the bill. While it is not as liberal as I had wished, yet I hope it will give fairly good satisfaction.

After granting $30 per month to all soldiers wounded in battle or disabled by disease contracted in line of duty and incapacitated for manual labor as a result thereof, the bill combines age with service in the allowance of pensions from the date of application therefor as follows:

Age—	3 Mo.	6 Mo.	1 Yr.	2 Yr.	2 1/2 Yr.	3 Yr.
62 years.....	$13.00	$13.50	$14.00	$15.00	$15.50	$16.00
66 years.....	15.00	15.50	16.00	17.00	18.00	19.00
70 years.....	18.00	19.00	20.00	23.00	24.00	25.00
75 years.....	21.00	22.50	24.00	30.00	33.00	36.00

This provision will afford a substantial measure of justice to many thousands of worthy veterans throughout the country, and while it will not furnish all the relief for which we have so earnestly struggled, we must accept it as a decided improvement over existing law.

I am sending you this statement, and the inclosed application which the bureau of pensions has just issued, so that you may be fully advised of the situation, and if I can serve you in any way you have only to command me.

W. C. HAWLEY.

TAX MEASURES

For Initiative Ballot. Will tax Incomes and Exempt Household Furniture and Mortgages.

Salem, Or., May 23.—After spending months in preparing them, the state tax commission, working in conjunction with a committee appointed by the last session of the legislature, is today sending out initiative petitions for four tax measures that will be submitted to the people at the next general election.

These proposed measures are a constitutional amendment authorizing the taxation of incomes; a law to exempt from taxation household furniture, wearing apparel and similar non-productive personalty; a law to exempt mortgage notes and other credits from taxation, thereby abolishing double taxation of the same property value; a revision of the inheritance tax law, following the model law recommended by the National Tax association, which proposed law would increase the state revenue from indirect sources.

WATER RIGHTS

Head of State Board of Water Control and Assistant Begin Work of Adjusting Fifteen Hundred Titles.

The preparatory work of adjudication of the water rights of all the streams in Jackson and Josephine counties, that is being carried on by the state board of water control under the supervision of James T. Chinnock, brings to light that all water rights upon practically every stream in the two counties allows claims for more water than the streams contain. In many cases water rights have been filed by different parties, laying a total of five times the flow of the stream.

The work of the department of water control will, when completed, form an absolute settlement of all water questions and take the matter out of the present chaotic state. In this manner questions in regard to the ownership of water that would otherwise take up years of legal procedure in trials, suits, etc., and involve large companies and large amounts of money will be definitely settled when the rights are adjusted and become a part of the court record.

It is roughly estimated that 1500 water rights, ranging from amounts that run into the millions, to small little creek rights that are trivial, have been filed. The contests on many of these may take weeks before they are finally decided by the department but when the thorough work is completed and becomes a part of the court record Oregon will be in advance of many states that are continually at expense over questions of the ownership of the different streams, or rather the water.—Sun.

THE FOREST SERVICE

Praised by Senator Chamberlain. Comparison of cost in Various counties.

Washington, May 23.—In a speech in the senate on the agricultural appropriation bill as relating to the forest service, Senator Chamberlain of Oregon brought forcibly to public attention the abuses and needs of the forest department. He spoke at length covering many phases of forest conservation and forest fire protection.

"The growth of the conservation movement has been slow," said Senator Chamberlain, "but involving as it does a great moral question, it will never be retired from political or economic discussion until it has been rightly solved, and the party or the individual who opposes it must eventually be crushed by an outraged public opinion. So well is this recognized that you cannot find anyone in public life upon whom responsibility rests in this important matter who will not claim that he is in favor of the conservation of our natural resources, and some there are who, while professing to believe in the doctrine, are nevertheless willing, on one pretext or another, to oppose any measure looking to the advancement of the cause.

"The entire cost of the administration and protection of the national forests averages only 2 1/2 cents per acre per annum, and that includes all expenses. In France such administration costs $1., in British India 7 cents, while in Prussia it costs $2.50 per acre per annum, and when there is deducted from the gross expense for maintaining the forest service the amount carried therefrom, it only costs 1 1/2 cents instead of 2 1/2 cents per acre.

"They now have in the national forests only 1325 miles of road, 9163 miles of trail, 7380 miles of telephone lines and about 350 miles of special fire lines. To properly patrol and care for this immense wealth of the national government, they ought to have 80,000 miles of new trails and 45,000 miles of telephone lines, so as to put the different forest in close touch with each other and to keep the whole department advised as to what is going on. The time is coming when this will be done—when it will be essential to be done—in order to protect the property of the government just as the individual would protect his own property against loss by fire. A wise public policy demands the annual expenditure of larger sums than are now being appropriated to protect the vast timber wealth of the country from destruction by fire."—Journal.

Country Lacks Tin Deposits.

Tin is one of the minerals in workable deposits of which the United States is lacking. Our production in 1910 was valued at only $23,447, according to the United States Geological Survey, while our importations were worth $33,913,255. We need one or two large tin mines.

OVERRULLS MOTION

Stock of Confiscated Liquor Not to be Destroyed.

Circuit Judge Frank M. Calkins held a short session of the court in Grants Pass Monday morning. At this time the judge overruled the motion to dissolve an injunction in the Keulen case. The injunction was to prevent the officers from destroying the stock of liquor confiscated last winter from the Keulen place on west G street. The action of the court in this matter has been slow and was not given out until after much deliberation. The case had been under advisement by the court for over a month. Judge Calkins is quoted as stating that this was one of the most difficult problems to solve which had come under his notice for some time, the reason perhaps for the delay in the decision.

The decision of the court in this matter is considered by the defense as a victory mark and the outcome has been eagerly watched. The stock of liquor in question is in charge of Justice of the Peace James Holman, and will remain in his hands until final hearing is had on the main issue.—Observer.

RESUME WORK

Strike Which Tied Up Shipping Suddenly Called Off by Those Who Quit.

London, May 27.—The strike of 100,000 stevedores and lightermen which for several days has completely tied up British shipping, was abruptly ended here this afternoon when both factions met and adjusted difficulties. Both sides made concessions, government officials bringing pressure to bear for an early settlement.

The ending of the strike came as a surprise, as earlier in the day hundreds of strikebreakers had been put to work in an effort to break the strike.
