Must Let Nature Have Her Way.

Salem, Or., Oct. 21.—George J. Wolfer of Hubbard is having a peak of trouble and has written to Attorney General Crawford for advice. He says pheasants are eating all his corn crop and that beavers are damming up a stream and flooding his property. He wants to know what is likely to happen to him if he takes his gun and begins to slaughter, in "self-defense, as it were." As the law prohibits killing of pheasants and beavers, the attorney general was unable to give Mr. Wolfer much comfort.

Oregon Sidelights.

The Methodist Episcopal church building at Medford has been remodeled, enlarged and refitted throughout.

The Yamhill Record reports a turnip brought in from the O. B. Nichols farm by W. M. Fryer that weighed 12 pounds. One was raised by Mrs. Badwell that weighed 14½ pounds.

Eugene Guard: Eugene has ten railroad trains a day more than it had yesterday—five each way. That is a good long step toward the goal of 100 trains daily, predicted by President Strahorn at a recent Commercial club banquet.

Klamath Herald: Every pupil in the high school will be expected to take some part in the literary work this year. The seniors will take the lead by giving some old-fashioned drama such as "Noah's Ark." The plays will take place on the rostrum of the high school.

Tillamook Herald: Contractor Roy has a good force carrying on the construction of the new Christian church. The ceremonies for the laying of the cornerstone will be held on the last Sunday in October, the 27th. The new church will be one of the finest in the county, costing in the neighborhood of $20,000.

Grants Pass Courier: The first man who proposed to introduce the wild turkey into the Rogue valley is a public benefactor. Here the turkey can breed in the brush clad hills practically unmoled, and his springtime mating call will add another reminder of the days of the long ago to many a citizen. Let's have the wild turkey.

Seaside Signal. The contract for the new Lawler & Moore building was awarded to J. L. Burgess this week. The building will be two stories and reinforced concrete, 114 by 100 feet. The lower floor will be divided into three large store buildings. The upper floor will be fitted for a rooming house. The cost is estimated at $22,000.

Corvallis Gazette Times: Talking about large potatoes, T. E. Eddell, of the Big Lobster country, raised the "champeen," undoubtedly. He brought some beautiful specimens today, and affirmed that one he left at home weighed 10 pounds. It was large enough to weigh 15, he thought, so he cut it open to see if it was hollow. It wasn't. —Journal.

Vote for Millage Bill Number 320 X Yes

It provides six-tenths of a mill tax for support of Agricultural College and University of Oregon, giving them permanent support and taking them out of politics. It also provides one Board of Regents, thus solving the problems of co-operation, consolidation, division of courses and economy of management.

It does not increase the average rate of taxation.

It repeals the $500,000 University appropriation bill.

The Bill is endorsed by Governor West: "This Bill is in the interest of good business and should pass."

By L. R. Alderman, State Superintendent of Public Instruction: "Experience in other states shows millage bill principle to be correct."

By Will H. Daly, President, Oregon State Federation of Labor: "No argument can successfully combat the benefit to the state that will follow the adoption of the millage tax plan."

Endorsed by Portland Tax Payers League.

Bill prepared by committee of Governor's Commission, Boards of Regents, and administrative officers of the two institutions.

Quite Deaf.

When a defendant in Edgware police court said that he wished to call his mother as a witness the court officer observed that she had been in court all the time and had heard the evidence.

The Mother (from the rear of the court)—Yes, but I'm stone deaf and can't hear a word. The Clerk (in a whisper)—Quite deaf? The Mother—Yes.
