175-FOOT DROP FATAL

Train Crew and loggers Buried Under Wreckage.

Marshfield, Or., Nov. 25.—Five men were killed and several more hurt, some dangerously, when a logging train went through Bear Creek trestle, six miles above Bandon, today. The boiler of the engine exploded when the locomotive fell. The bodies are buried under the wreckage of the train and the trestle. The number of dead may be greater than that shown, as it is not known how many men were on the train. Fireman Anderson and Tim-keeper Guy Ross are fatally hurt and Engineer James Dowell is among the dead. The trestle is 175 feet high and has been in use for years. The victims of the tragedy are all employes of the Seely & Anderson Logging Company. A relief train has been sent from here to the scene of the accident, and physicians have hurried to the scene from Bandon and other nearby points.

BARRED FROM JURY DUTY

Oregon Code Said to Provide That All Juries Must Consist of Men.

Regardless of the passage of the women suffrage amendment at the recent election, there will be no women juries in Oregon. This interesting bit of information was given in a Portland dispatch to the San Francisco Chronicle. Since the right of franchise has been granted to women in this state, the first discovery of the fact has been made by many women and men, although the suffrage campaign leaders say they knew it, jury duty is denied women, the state code expressly providing that all juries, grand, petit, coroner's and otherwise, shall consist of a body of men. Questions have already been raised as to the eligibility of women voters, and inquiries at the office of United States District Attorney McCourt developed the fact that these questions have been threshed out to a considerable extent already, and there are new points of law involved which are still disputed. However, there is no question that a foreign-born unmarried woman must be naturalized in the United States, if she may vote. The requirements for naturalization are the same as those for a male. It is equally understood, according to a local interpretation of the law, that a foreign-born woman who marries an American thereby becomes an American. Registration will be required for women as for men, and the usual residence of six months preceding an election. The filing of the first papers for citizenship one year before an election will be required of women unless otherwise decreed by the federal naturalization laws.—Tidings.

Says Judges are Lax.

Salem, Or., Nov. 23.—Apparent public sympathy for criminals and easy sentences imposed by judges were criticized and strongly condemned last night by State Treasurer T. B. Kay before 100 men at the Salem Six o'clock club, which meets semi-monthly at the First Methodist church. "It is these very things that caused the people of this state to pile up such a big majority against the abolition of capital punishment," declared Mr. Kay. "If criminals were punished according to their crimes I do not think the people of Oregon would have voted to retain the death penalty." He cited such instances as the Hazel Irwin and Tanner cases, where they received sentences of from one to 15 years for enticing a man to a rooming house and then murdering him. He said that the minimum to the indeterminate sentences should be greater, so the convicted persons could not be paroled in such a short time. He censured the district judges for imposing such light sentences. In reply Judge Burnett, of the supreme court, took exception to the remarks concerning the judges, and said that the law fixes the sentence for each crime, and that if a higher minimum is desired the law must be amended. He said the judge was powerless to impose any sentence except that fixed by statute, which usually has a low minimum.

Albany Police Force Resigns.

Albany, Or., Nov. 25.—Ellis Daughtry, Chief of Police of Albany, resigned this morning. With him went night Officers McClung and Webb and four special officers constituting practically the entire police forces of the city. The City Council was at once called in special session to discuss the situation. The resignation is the result of criticism of Daughtry regarding blind pigs in Albany. Daughtry says he has coped with the situation as well as possible, and that the office is not worth the criticism. He issued an emphatic denial of rumors that there has been graft in the police force in connection with blind pigs, and demands a special session of the grand jury to consider the charges. He states that he has secured more convictions of violators of the local option law than any former city official, and that the town is practically free from blind pigs and bootleggers; that the fines in the Police Court are more than three times as much as for any previous period of the same duration. It is reported a grand jury will be called and those citizens who claim they know of places where gambling is being carried on and where intoxicants are being sold, will be asked to tell their story.

Indorses Exhibition.

San Diego, Cal., June 13th. It has been a rare pleasure to see the performance of King Pharaoh. So much intelligence exhibited by one of our dumb animals rouses the human mind to the fullest appreciation of these possibilities of feeling many of the mental as well as the physical conditions we do. King Pharaoh is certainly the best educated horse we ever saw, and the marvellous feats of combining numbers, reading, distinguishing and remembering things keeps one continually deeply interested and highly entertained throughout his performances. It has no doubt done much to create a deeper love for animals.

Yours truly, THOS. COGSWELL, Supt. of Humane Society. King Pharaoh is with Boyd & Ogle's Circus which appears at the Natatorium in Medford Sunday and Monday.

Jump-Off-Joe Mines Operating.

G. E. Howland of Grants Pass reports that all of the Jump-Off-Joe placer mines are either already at work or that they will begin operations before the end of another week. Sufficient water for placer mining was available this season much earlier than usual, and some of the mines were not ready to make use of the first flow. The giants of the Sexton and of the H. & C. are active now, however, and the three giants on the Swastika will commence washing out the gravel next week. The Jack's creek mine is installing a gasoline engine and hoist, and will use the outfit to lift some of the heaviest boulders out of the way. The miners are all enthusiastic over the outlook, and with the early coming of the water anticipate a most profitable season's run.—Tribune.

Great War Threatens Europe.

London, Nov. 26.—The danger of a greater war than that between the Balkans and Turkey absorbs public interest far more than the first bout of diplomacy between the belligerents. Steps toward the mobilization which Austria and Russia are taking have a division of vast consequences, which as far as Great Britain is concerned are considered nothing less than appalling. The liberal press is unanimous in urging Great Britain to preserve neutrality and the majority of the conservatives urge the same policy. The Times declares none of the European people want war and says: "Yet that is whether the nations are blindly drifting." The Pall Mall Gazette almost alone speaks in a warlike voice, declaring England ought to act firmly with France and Russia in refusing to be swept aside. The withdrawal of an Austrian warship at Constantinople is taken as an unfavorable sign and imminent Serbian occupation of Durazzo on the Adriatic, tends to further bring Austria and Servia toward the breaking point. On the other hand, the safe arrival at Uskup of the Austrian consul, who it was feared, had been killed, should lessen the tension.
