SCHOOLS ARE CLOSED

Commencement Exercises of Public Schools at 9:30 Friday Morning. Memorial Day Observed.

The commencement exercises of the Jacksonville Public School were held in the Assembly room, Friday morning, that being the end of the regular school term.

As this paper goes to press Fridays we have time to make merely mention of the exercises which consisted of recitations, patriotic songs, flag drills, etc. and were well rendered and highly appreciated by the audience.

Prof. Harrington explained that as this was "Memorial Day," the exercises were intended as a memorial and mark of respect to our fallen heroes; in fact the decorations of the room, the songs, drills and recitations were all on that order, well calculated to instill patriotism in the youthful minds.

At the close of the exercises, Prof. Harrington made an announcement of the grade made and the standing of pupils in the various grades (which we shall endeavor to publish in our next issue) and in a brief address bade farewell to patrons and teachers, thanking all who had co-operated with him in making the term just closed the success it has been.

The pupils formed in line at the door, the high school classes at the head and later with baskets of flowers marched to the cemetery on the hill where the graves of some fifty-six soldiers were decorated with red, white and blue flowers in memory of the national colors under which they had so gallantly and faithfully served.

PORTLAND LETTER

Optimism Prevails Through Out Oregon's Business Life.

Portland, Ore., May 27, (Special)—Despite its unlucky final figures, the year 1913 promises to set a high record for business and industrial progress. A report just made by a leading commercial agency states that prospects for a good year were never better throughout the Pacific Northwest territory. Sales and collections are good, manufacturing is going ahead well and, best of all, the prospects for good crops are excellent.

An indication of the confidence felt in the future is shown in the announced expenditure of about $75,000,000 by the various corporations in and about Portland during the current year on improvements, extensions and betterments. Bank clearings show a gain every month over the corresponding months of former years and 1913 looks like a big year for the whole Oregon country.

Enroute to Portland's Rose Festival, June 8-14, the Royal Oaks, of Oakland, Cal., will visit many cities of the state on their way north, making their first stop at Ashland. As the Oaks will travel by special train, they will be able to stop as often as seems desirable and will bring a message of good fellowship to their northern neighbors.

From the interest shown in the O. W. R. & N. Co.'s corn contest, it appears that Oregon will become a big corn producing state. More than 5 tons of selected seed corn, enough to plant 1,000 acres, has been distributed free of charge by the company, while the Southern Pacific has distributed more than 2 tons additional. This seed will be planted throughout the Pacific Northwest and means the corn acreage of this year will be twice as large as last.

A splendid start has been made by the State Immigration Commission in the work of attracting immigrants from Northern Europe. A German hearing, held recently, was productive of valuable suggestions and many districts will co-operate in bringing settlers here, as well as in aiding them on their arrival. Swedish, Norwegian, Danish and Dutch conferences along the same line will be held by the Commission.

The Mazamas, a society of mountaineers of Portland, are among the best boosters the state has. They are constantly exploring some interesting region and telling about the attractions for the traveler. They are all apostles of the "See Oregon First" movement and their healthful outdoor activities might well be imitated by many of our people. This week the Mazamas are visiting the Josephine County caves. The Grants Pass Commercial Club is aiding to make the trip pleasant.

Eugene has another celebration in sight. When the Portland, Eugene & Eastern interurban electric lines completes its road from Corvallis to that point, hats will be thrown in the air and a general jollification will be held. Western Oregon cities have been rather busy of late welcoming new railroads.

Guy Harper, Frank Coleman and Bill McIntire were at Medford Friday. Nuff said.

The American Bonding Co. of Baltimore will go on your bond and write Burglary insurance.
