TERRIFIC STORM

Brings Floods In Ohio And West Virginia.

Wheeling, Va., July 17.—A terrific wind and rain storm visited West Virginia and South Eastern Ohio last night and today, causing floods which endangered the lives of thousands of persons. The telephone operators throughout the territory affected stuck to their posts, sending out warnings to the people to flee for their lives. The storm was most violent of the year.

Immediately after warnings had been issued all wires were demolished, and the extent of the damage is not known, but it is believed that the heroic work of the telephone employes prevented many fatalities.

The storm reached the proportions of a cloudburst in this vicinity. Big and Little Wheeling creeks, which flow through this city soon became raging torrents.

ROBBER SENTENCED

Ray Diamond who Robbed the Glendale Bank Gets Ten Years.

Ray Diamond of Glendale, who held up the assistant cashier of the Glendale bank with a rifle, securing some $3000. in cash, was indicated by the circuit court at Roseburg, Tuesday on a charge of assault with dangerous weapon.

The indictment was returned at four o'clock and in a few minutes after, Diamond was arraigned pleading guilty to the charge and throwing himself upon the mercy of the court and asking that sentence be immediately imposed.

The court sentenced him to an indeterminate term of 1 to 10 years in the state penitentiary.

Diamond's aged mother who resides in California was present at the court house and offered to mortgage her home to raise funds for his defense, but this he refused to allow, declaring he was "ready to take his medicine."

CO-OPERATION THE REMEDY

For Delays in Handling Freight

With the usual rush of business incident to this period of the year, the railroads are scenting trouble ahead in the form of a shortage of cars.

In anticipation of this the railroads have repaired and added to their equipment, but it is the fear of those in charge of railway operation that this alone will not suffice and to avoid serious delays and congestion the shippers and the railroads must actively cooperate.

Delay on the part of shippers in loading and unloading cars is often the direct cause of the carrier's inability to furnish cars whereas if the shippers would load and unload promptly and when consistent load cars to their rated capacity difficulties incident to rush of business would, it is believed, be approximately relieved.

The solution of the problem appears to be co-operation, prompt loading and unloading by the shipper and prompt movement and delivery of cars by the railroads. With this end in view last year the California Railroad Commission as well as the Railway Commission of Oregon and several other states took cognizance of conditions and with the hearty support of many trade and commercial organizations developed a spirit of co-operation between the shippers and the railroads which very substantially relieved the situation and a heavy movement of traffic resulted without serious delay of congestion anywhere. The plan gave such general satisfaction that in all probability it will soon be a mutual permanent working arrangement. Present indications are that in the near future demand for cars will be very heavy and even with a large supply of equipment in serviceable condition to prevent delay and congestion in supplying and moving cars active co-operation between the carriers and the shippers must obtain.

Boys Don't Like Grammar

In answer to the question, "Do you like grammar," asked of fourteen of the young boys who attended the short course in agriculture for boys between twelve and sixteen years of age, at the Oregon Agricultural College in June, fourteen said no. The relative esteem, or disesteem rather, in which part of these sturdy young boys hold the common school subjects is shown by the following list of answer: Arithmetic yes, ten; no, two; history, yes, six; no, one; spelling, yes, four; no, three; agriculture, yes, two; no, none; bookkeeping, yes, two; no, none; geography, yes, one; no, one; civil government, yes, one; no, one. Notwithstanding this apparent antipathy to study they are, according to Professor Reessler, a fine lot of fellows, selected for their leadership in study and deportment and for their liking for agriculture.

Nuggets Found on Puyallup Sts.

Tacoma, Wash., July 15.—Following the discovery of gold nuggets in the streets, Puyallup today presented the appearance of a miniature Klondike rush. Berry-pickers threw aside their baskets, business men left their offices and joined in panning black sand on Second street.

The gold rush started Sunday evening when word leaked out that Chas. Falmer, superintendent of a fruit growers' association had found a handful of nuggets in the sand left by a well digging gang.

Pans used for sorting berries in the canneries were borrowed by the gold-seekers and used to wash the sand. Several nuggets worth $2.50 each were found.

SPEEDY JUSTICE

Indictments Found, Arraigned Plead Guilty and Sentenced.

The old saying about the proverbial slowness of Justice, was proven false in the circuit court Friday forenoon when four persons were indicted by the grand jury, brought into court and arraigned. Each of them waived the time allowed to plead, pleas of guilty being entered. Again all waived the time allowed before passing sentence and asked for immediate sentence.

The court then imposed indeterminate sentences ranging from 1 to 25 years. Three of the offenders were paroled with the direction to remain in Jackson county, live honest and upright lives and to report to the county sheriff once in every two weeks.

Youth Shot For Shooting a Dog

Oregon City, Ore., July 14.—Earl McAlty, 18, of Portland, who was shot by Deputy Sheriff Mumbower while attempting to escape after his arrest on the charge of having killed a dog, is near death today. Mumbower was taken into custody by Sheriff Mass who asserts that he exceeded his authority.

McAlty a companion, Lester Cooney, mounted on motorcycles, were passing the farmhouse of M. M. Chrisman when a dog belonging to Chrisman ran out at them. McAlty is alleged to have shot the animal.

Mumbower notified of the incident, placed the boys under arrest. In an attempt to escape McAlty mounted his motorcycle and started to ride away when Mumbower fired several shots, one passing through McAlty's left leg and another striking him over the left kidney.
