Oregon Upholds Wilson but Ready to Furnish Troops.

Salem, Ore., Nov. 21.—Speaking for the state, Governor West has today advised the New York Sun that Oregon upholds President Wilson in his efforts to bring about adjustment of Mexican affairs, but that the state is ready for war if the call should come.

The governor received a message from the Sun asking "whether or not you favor intervention in Mexico and how many troops your state can furnish in two weeks."

Governor West replied:

"Replying to your telegram reference Mexican situation, will say, realizing great responsibility resting upon President Wilson, we uphold him in his efforts to bring about peaceful adjustment of the matter. However, we are all the time getting ready for business and are prepared to respond promptly to any call of the president with two segments infantry, one battery field artillery and one ambulance company. Another regiment infantry and several troops of cavalry would be made available upon short notice."

MAY LAND MARINES

In Mexico to Protect British Interests.

Mexico City, Nov. 21.—A fuel famine threatened the Mexican coast today. Of coal there were less than 100 tons in the city, and it was impossible to get more. Of oil there were but 24,000 barrels. It was all there was to be had, for the rebels control the Tuxpan region, whence it is obtained. Three concerns controlled the entire supply on hand and they were boosting the price steadily.

Business was practically suspended. There was no work. Hundreds of business men were bankrupt. Thousands of persons were starving. The streets swarmed with beggars. Numberless families which had never before known anything but comfort and even luxury suffered from cold and hunger.

Vera Cruz, Mex. Nov. 21.—Evaristo and Daniel Madero, brothers of the late President Madero, were taken from the United States consulate on board the American battleship Rhode Island in the harbor there.

The Maderos were arrested in Monterey some time ago, charged with plotting to turn that town over to the rebels. After remaining in prison here until Wednesday they were released on bail. Yesterday General Maas, the Vera Cruz military commander, summoned them before him. Instead of obeying, they fled to the American consulate.

Grants Pass After S. P.

Grants Pass, Nov. 20.—The papers have been filed upon the Southern Pacific officials in the action being brought by the city of Grants Pass before the state railway commission seeking a reduction of the freight rates on steel rails and structural iron from Portland to this city. This action was authorized by the council some time ago, but before commencing suit the city attorney took the application for the reduction up directly with the railroad company. The attorney addressed a letter to the general manager of the company, stating that the city was building a railroad leading out of Grants Pass toward the coast, and that ten miles of the grade was now about ready for the rails. That the freight rate of 46 cents per hundred pounds on these rails from Portland to Grants Pass was deemed excessive and asking that the company make a material reduction in the same.

Burglars Brought From Coos

A. L. Irwin returned Sunday night from Marshfield, Ore., bringing with him Jack Miller and Joe Howard, who are charged with having burglarized the store of T. O. H. Simpson a couple weeks ago. They were arrested at Sumner, some distance up the river from Marshfield, by the chief of police of that city who took them in the beds at 3 in the morning. The men are both known at Roseburg, Miller having waited on table at one of the hotels here. He also played ball at Medford recently. Howard had been around Roseburg some time and was a horse trainer. They had spent the money taken and sold 27 of the knives to a man named Brett in Marshfield, who informed the police. They were given a hearing before Judge Hart Tuesday and bound over to the grand jury.—Ashland Tidings

Apple Demand Increased.

Portland, Ore., N. V. 19.—The demand for Oregon apples abroad is increasing. London, Bremen, Glasgow and Liverpool are all after supplies. One of the greatest sales of the season was confirmed Tuesday for foreign shipment by the Northwestern Fruit Exchange, but the officials of the exchange would not make public the exact details at this time.

Red and yellow apples are both in demand abroad at this time. Sales being shown for both Spitzenburgs and Yellow Newtowns at very firm prices. The strength in the foreign demand for apples is a strong contrast to the stubbornness of the American situation. There is scarcely anything doing in the American trade at this time; the market at most places being stagnant.

Practically no concessions in prices are being made by apple interests at this end, because they don't need to. The foreign situation is good enough at the moment to absorb all of the best offerings, therefore it would be foolhardy for shippers to have their light dimmed by the inactivity of the general American trade.

The literary Digest has an article on "Stopping the Waste of Gas." And yet it never once proposes to shut down Congress or the Chautauquas.

The lawyers in the Shaw case are now preparing to give New Hampshire a lot of advertising that it does not want.

The American Bonding Co. of Baltimore will go on your bond and write burglary insurance.

The Geologists' Clock.

Each fossiliferous rock bed contains characteristic forms or groups of forms that determine the period in which it was laid or sand. Former Director Powell of the United States geological survey once tersely explained to a congressional committee the value of paleontology by saying that it is "the geologist's clock," by which he tells the time when rock beds were formed. The economic importance of paleontology has been repeatedly shown in this country. In the earliest exploitation of anthracite coal thousands of dollars were fruitlessly expended in New York in search of coal beds until the New York geologists showed that the beds in that state could contain no coal. The fossils in the rocks exploited are Devonian, whereas the fossils of the Pennsylvania anthracite coal beds belong to the carboniferous, a much later period. This discovery at once stopped a useless expenditure of money.—Argonaut.

A Fatal Sleep.

Hugh Miller, the Scottish geologist and writer, was one of the most illustrious of sleepwalkers. Miller, who had been addicted to somnambulism in his youth, found his restlessness return while he was engaged upon his "Testimony of the Rocks." He used to wake in the morning feeling, as he said, as if he had been abroad in the night wind, dragged by some invisible power and ridden by witches. On the night of his death he slept alone. In the morning they found him stretched dead on the floor with a bullet through his breast. He had written a note to his wife: "My brain burns. I must have walked, and a fearful dream rises upon me. I cannot bear the horrible thought. My brain burns as the recollection grows." So intense had been the poor fellow's anguish that to make certain his end he had torn back shirt and vest and placed the muzzle of the pistol to his naked flesh.—St. James' Gazette.

Time For Tact.

"I won $200 in that game last night," confided a friend.
"Good for you," we cried. "I want to tell some folks about that—they're—"
"Now, look here! You keep still about that. I wouldn't let my wife know about that game for anything."
"But you told me that your wife was a good fellow and let you play poker all you wanted to?"
"She does. She never kicks about my sitting in a game, and even if I lose she cheers me up and—"
"Well, I thought so. Why shouldn't I tell her about this game?"
"Why, you chump! I won $200—that's why. And I need the money if my wife asks where I was. Tell her I was out losing $50 on a prizefight."—Cleveland Plain Dealer

Cries and Penalties.

When Mrs. Wilkes recently met out punishment to Master George Wilkes with a carpet beater that young gentleman gave vent to such weeping and wailing that the lady next door was constrained to perk her head over the back yard fence and inquire what was the matter.

"Got about a couple of hundred feet of gas inside him, that's wots the matter," Mrs. Wilkes replied.
"A couple of hundred feet of gas?" echoed the lady somewhat incredulously. "What on earth's 'e been doing, takin' the gas pipe for a feedin' bottle?"
"No, 'e ain't," snapped Mrs. Wilkes. "E's been swallowin' the skillets wot I laid by for the gas meter."—London Tit-Bits.

Semi-precious Metals.

It appears from recent geological survey publications that the "semi-precious" metals are copper, lead and zinc. Where quicksilver and tin get off on this classification we are not informed. Aluminum also sometimes sells higher than the three first mentioned and antimony for more than lead and zinc. These are probably the quasi-precious metals. When we were younger the metals were classed as precious and common, we believe. Now probably iron is alone in the "common" category. What is the use anyway—if there are no privates in an army what is the joy in being a corporal, and why "semi-precious" if there is going to be only iron besides?—Engineering and Mining Journal.

Worfully Mistaken.

"I suppose," said the new saleswoman, "that you want a suit that will make you look attractive to your husband?"
"Attractive to my husband?" echoed the shopper. "I should say not. He wouldn't know if I wore a suit ten years old. What I want is something that will make my next door neighbor turn a pale pink green with envy."—Buffalo Express.

A Lingering Regret.

"I think it is disgraceful to be enormously rich."
"Oh, so do I! I was brought up to think that way. But say—"
"Well?"
"Don't you wish once in awhile that you weren't so damned respectable?"—Toledo Blade.

The Verdict.

Prisoner—I didn't steal the horse. I only took him from the fellow who stole him.
"Shure! I phoned that to the rig lance committee, but it's no go. They phoned me to hang up the receiver."—Life by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Big Surprise to Many in Jacksonville

Local people are surprised at the QUICK results received from simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler's-ka, the German remedy which became famous by curing appendicitis. The City Drug Store states that this simple remedy draws off such a surprising amount of old foul matter from the body that A SINGLE DOSE relieves sour stomach, gas on the stomach and constipation INSTANTLY.
