FAUPER SNOES OF INDIA. Beggare That Will Not Work Because They Are Aristocrats.

One-fourth of the Anglo-Indian population hi India is supported by charity. For the Anglo-Indian thinks that work is beneath him, and really at heart he is a born snob. It isn't drunkenness which makes him an object of charity, for there is comparatively little drunkenness among the poor in India. Nor is it the seasonal trades, as it sometimes is with us, for work there is continuous the year round. Neither is it the monotony of a dreary home or daily toil Human Beings and Little Vegetation. that drives him to drink and then to The earth whirls around an invisible poverty. For there is no part of Calcutta where there are people of one socful grade, but the homes of the poor are interspersed with the rich.

He is a pauper purely and simply because he is an aristocrat. He has Englike a moving floor. In the south it live like the English, and the English They have their well appointed homes, their servants and every luxury. The Englishman who works with his hands, the men in the factories, the day laborers, the frontiersmen, the farmers are not found in India. The beggar snob does not know of their existence. He knows only the coolies and the Hindus, who work with their hands, and he will not be one of them. He wishes to pattern his life after the Englishman whom he knows. He wants to have a servant and be waited on, and if he cannot he will not work. To dig with a shovel is a disgrace in his eyes and begging is infinitely more respec-

So the Anglo-Indian pauper is supported on a scale better than that of the faithful workmen among the Hindus and coolies, and the burden of the charity falls on the rich English. The wealthy Hindus will take none of the responsibilities. They say that the Englishman created this class and that on him falls the weight of support.

There is another cause of this pover ty also, apart from this strong false sentiment. That is the insanitary conditions of life which cause the death of the father of the household at an early age. This reduces the fainily to pauperism at once, as the lines of vork open to the Anglo-Indian woman which she will accept are practically none.-Chicago Tribune.

The Greatest Discovery.

We were talking of the great discoveries and wondering which was the greatest, and some of us suggested electricity, wireless telegraphy, flying machines and microbes and annesthetics. One fell back on steam, but another-a reticent man usually-remarked that the most surprising discovery of man was that this earth moves round the sun and is not the most important small holding in the universe. -London Spectator.

Began to Enjoy Himself.

"He stayed so late that in desperation I brought out the graphophone about 11:30 and played 'Home, Sweet Home. "Did that start him?"

"Quite the contrary. When he learned we had a graphophone he made me play about every record we had."-Louisville Courier-Journal.

What She Had.

Swabbs married a widow on being told that she had an ocean of money. He afterward found she did not have a bank account at all. He had only been told that she had a notion of money, which he found out soon enough .-London Telegraph.
