Wishes its many patrons and friends

A Happy and Prosperous

New Year

And we take this opportunity to express our appreciation for the confidence and many favors of our patrons of 1913. We feel that, with our new facilities which we are installing and which will be complete with the opening of 1914, we will be better equipped and more able to accommodate the public generally than ever before.

We guarantee entire satisfaction in our business relations and feel competent to meet the demands of our old and new customers for all legitimate undertakings.

We are able to furnish our customers with foreign exchange to all parts of the civilized world.

The new Time and Savings Department of our Bank pays four per cent on deposits. In building up this branch of the business we desire the cooperation of the parents, for the influences and temptations before the children leading them to spend all their dimes and pennies will pauperize them at manhood and womanhood if not counteracted before these become fixed habits.

If you do not patronize us come and see us, and open an account for yourself and each of your children with

The Youth's Companion in 1914

Seven college presidents and a number of college instructors, including ex-President Taft, will contribute to The Youth's Companion during 1914.

Then there is Gene Stratton Porter whose stories of Indiana woods swamps have made her famous, and Kate Douglas Wiggin, who never wrote a dull line in her life, and Mrs. Burton Harrison, who remembers when conversation was really an art as practised in Washington and in the manor houses of Virginia. And this is just a beginning of the list.

If you know The Companion, you have a pretty clear idea of what is in store for next year's readers. If you do not know, ask us to send you sample copies—for instance, those containing the opening chapters of Arthur Stanwood Pier's fine serial—"His Father's Son." Full Announcement for 1914 will be sent with the sample copies.

For the year's subscription of $2.00 there is included The Companion Practical Home Calendar for 1914, and all the issues of the paper for the remaining weeks of 1913, dating from the time the subscription is received.

The Youth's Companion, 144 Berkeley St., Boston, Mass. New subscriptions received at this office.

DO YOU NEED A HAND?

Gov. West Will Furnish The Man if You Can Furnish the Job.

December 1, 1913

To the Editor:

We wish to ask your co-operation in a movement to connect our unemployed with a job. There are undoubtedly many residents of your county who could use the services of a good hand this winter and there are many idle men in Portland and other cities in this state who would be glad to have a place.

If you will be kind enough to run this letter and attached information blank in a few issues of your paper our plan will be called to the attention of those
