Cured of Liver Complaint,

His Great Generosity. began the lady who was carrying around the paper. Her voice trembled as she spoke, for the person she was now bracing happened to be the richest fellow in the community. She hoped againm nope that she would get something fat from him.

"You are getting up a subscription?" echoed the millionaire, with a sweet smile. "I'm sure you'll be very suc cessful And what can I do?" "Would you-could you"-she nearly fainted at her assurance-"would you p-p-put your name down on this paper for a h-h-hundred dollars?"

There-it was done. He wouldn't have missed a thousand, but she was pretty courageous to ask for as much as she did. His gentle smile reassured

"Will I put my name down for a hundred dollars?" said he. "Why, my dear young lady, I don't charge that amount for the use of my name when charity is the cause. I will put my name down, of course, but not for a hundred dollars. I won't charge you a cent for it. It is a slight service." -Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The Female Housefly.

A female house fly which has hiber nated in a dwelling house, or else where, may produce in the spring, at the lowest estimate, 120 eggs. Assum ing that one-half of these batch as fe males, and allowing that the breeding goes on without check for four months. we have as the descendants of a single hibernating individual 214,557,844,320, 000,000,000,000 flies. Now, a house fly measures exactly one-fourth of an incl in length; the distance around the earth at the equator is said to be 24, 800 miles. It would take, therefore, 3,688,312,000 files placed end to end to go around the world once. Using this number as a denominator, and the number of flies produced in four months from one mother as a numer ator, we find she will give rise, in the course of a summer, to enough flier to encircle the globe at the equator 5,000 times and have plenty of progeny to spare.-Professor F. L. Washburn in Popular Science Monthly.

Missing a Great Chance.

During an aviation meet in Chicago a professional pickpocket, who was locked up in fail pending trial, sent for the prosecuting attorney and begged to be released. "But," sail the P. A., "you picked a man's pockets. Of course you'll have to 'do some time.'

"Well, sir," replied the prisoner, "I suppose you're right, and, to tell the truth, I don't mind the mere fact of being in fall; but, gee, it's fierce to be here during this aviation meet, with everybody looking up in the air!"-Everybody's Thrown to the Wolves.

A story of a father's desperate act in throwing his child to the wolves is related by the Astrakhan correspondent of the Viedemosti. A peasant named Grusneljoff, accompanied by his wife and four-year-old child, it is stated, was traveling by sleigh to Volchuni. Toward dusk, when only a few miles from the town, he suddenly came on pack of wolves. Grusneijoff's wife in her terror suggested that he should appease the beasts by flinging them the child. This the man at first refused to do, continuing to belabor his horses. At length, seeing that the wolves were gaining on the sleigh, he flung the child into the road. His sacrifice was in valu, for the welves, discarding the living bundle, flew to the attack with renewed fury and at length drugged the peasant from the C use if will be held in the near fature when the franchise will probably be granted and accepted by the railroad granted and accepted by the railroad every one."
