ORDERS FROM INDIA

Rogue River Grape Juice Sent to Calcutta.

The Jacksonville Conserving Co. has this week received an order from Calcutta, India, for three cases of their famous Rogue River grape juice with the prospect of additional orders in the near future.

The foreign residents in British India are large consumers of fruit juices of different kinds and their good judgment is evidenced by the order to our local factory.

Medford's Modern Creamery

Earl C. Gaddis has sold his creamery business to W. L. Chappell, formerly of Laurel, Wash., an experienced creamery man who will establish a new and up-to-date plant in the Medford Creamery building next to the Nat.

New machinery valued at $1000 is now on the road including a cream ripener, a modern churn with a capacity of 550 gallons and a butter print cutter. The new plant will have a capacity of 2000 pounds of butter a day.

To give some idea of the amount of cream that is now being sent out of the valley to Portland and Independence concerns, between January 1 and 21, Talent shipped 838 gallons and nearly 500 gallons were shipped from Phoenix.

Mr. Chappell intends to keep this cream here and the first step toward doing so will be paying 30 cents per pound for butter fat and settling all accounts the 10th of each month.—Mail Tribune.

Municipal Ownership at Capital

There is a bill before Congress purporting to bring about municipal ownership of the street railways in Washington. How far the bill may go and how seriously it may be considered are matters of conjecture.

Apparently it is introduced with the utmost sincerity of purpose, and if it finds its way through committee and to open discussion in the House and Senate, the country ought to be treated to a very thorough exposition of the whole subject of municipal ownership which from year to year is looming more significantly.

Suppose that the bill should be considered favorably, which possibly may be the fact, what would be the effect of the adoption of municipal ownership in the Capital City? The course of it would be watched with deeper and more widespread interest than would be the case if the experiment were tried in any other city.

The public has been apprised from time to time of the results of partial municipal ownership in Chicago, where the city's dividend of 55 per cent of the net profits has run up to a handsome revenue annually. There also has been more or less information concerning the experiment of municipal street railways in San Francisco, from which we at least have appreciation of the one fact, namely, the people are satisfied with the arrangement, and that laboring, as it has, under the usual handicaps of a new enterprise it has been profitable to the city and promises to be more so. But these matters are more or less in what we might term the twilight zone of knowledge—which is to say they are not brought so forcibly to public attention as would be the case in successful operation of municipal railways in the City of Washington.—Portland Telegram.

Plan Aero Race Around World

San Francisco, Cal., Feb. 2.—Hundreds of cabigrams and telegrams asking for additional information concerning the aeroplane race around the world to be started from the Panama Pacific exposition grounds here in May, 1915, were received by the exposition managers. The queries indicated worldwide interest in the affair.

Wiring from New York today, Captain Thomas Baldwin, the first entrant, announced his intention of participating in the race.

"You may consider this my application to take part in the great contest," he wired. "It means flying 28,000 miles, but I know it can be done. I shall use a machine capable of carrying two or three persons and a mechanic. In order to make the trip in the scheduled ninety days, it will only be necessary to fly five hours a day. This will not be excessive.

Finds Gold in Old Iron Kettle

Oroville, Cal., Feb. 2.—After having prospected for years along the Yuba River, with little return for his patient work, Frank Davidson has finally made a strike—in an old iron pot. He was walking on a sandbar the other day when his foot struck the pot, which was half buried in gravel. With the impact a few grains of gold rolled out. Davidson scraped the pot and found dust worth $300. The recent high water is believed to have uncovered the treasure.

CUT OUT JOYRIDES

Says Medford Council. Dealers Warned Against Selling Tobacco to Minors.

Girls under 18 years of age, out after curfew hours, and fair members of joy riding parties, must show the written consent of parents and a statement of their ages, by virtue of a police order promulgated by Chief of Police Hittson this morning. This applies to attendance at picture shows, dances and other public places unless accompanied by parents or guardians. The patrolmen have been instructed to strictly enforce the order.

Cigar dealers were warned this afternoon against selling tobacco to minors, and the action of the state law against boys under 21 years smoking in public places or on the streets will be invoked. Many youths when halted after curfew hours maintain that they are 21. Hereafter they must show a written statement from their parents. The law does not protect the sons of fathers who allow them to smoke.

Instructions were also issued to arrest all participants in "crap games," including the proprietor of the place, without the formality of a warning.—Mail-Tribune.

Watters of Stream Claim 3 Lives

Myrtle Point, Or., Feb. 2.—Three youths were drowned at Gravel Ford, near Myrtle Point, yesterday afternoon, named Brumbaugh, Shook and Robertson, the last two residents of Gravel Ford, and about 15 years old, while Brumbaugh, who was aged 20 years, was a resident of Myrtle Point. The three were on board a boat plying the north fork of the Coquille River, between Myrtle Point and Gravel Ford, when it became unmanageable in the swift current, and one of the younger lads fell into the stream. The other two attempted to save their companion, but the swift current made this impossible and all three went down in the icy waters. The bodies of the three youths have not yet been recovered.

Fit His Case Exact.
"When father was sick about six years ago he read an advertisement of Chamberlain's Tablets in the papers that fit his case exactly," writes Miss Margaret Campbell of Ft. Smith, Ark. "He purchased a box of them and he has not been sick since. My sister had stomach trouble and was also benefited by them." For sale by all dealers.—Advertisement.

COUNCIL MEETING.

City Fathers Meet Tuesday Night. Bills Allowed. Petition to Close Saloons at 10 Presented. Election Called March 3.

The regular monthly session of the city council was held in the City Hall, Tuesday evening. Present: Mayor Britt; Councilmen Pick, Florey and McIntire; Recorder Stansell; Attorney Hanna. Absent—Councilman Barnum. Minutes of previous meeting read and approved. Bills for labor, salaries, lights, supplies, etc. were read and on motion ordered paid.

Madames Abbott, Jenkins and Walsh appeared before the council with a petition asking that the saloons be closed at ten o'clock, P. M. After some desultory discussion the petition was laid on the table and the ladies were advised to prepare an initiative petition embodying the restrictions asked for and file the same with the city recorder.

The investment of money in the sinking fund for payment of the water bonds was discussed and on motion the treasurer was directed to invest the money on hands in purchasing city warrants at a discount of five per cent.

A resolution giving notice of the municipal election to be held March 3, and appointing the election officers was adopted and ordered published.

A deed for lots 5, & 6, block 22, recently purchased for a city pound was presented and a warrant ordered drawn for the purchase price.

PORTLAND LETTER

Irrigation Congress Feb. 13-14. Alfalfa Week Set Apart

Portland, Ore., Feb. 3.—(Special)—What is expected to be the most important session of the Oregon Irrigation Congress ever held will be called to order at the Imperial Hotel in Portland on February 13 and will last for two days. It is expected that fully 200 men, representing all sections of the state, will be in attendance. About 40 organizations of water-users, ditch owners and commercial bodies now belong to the congress and each is expected to send five delegates.

William Hanley, president of the congress, has announced that one of the most important problems to come before the business sessions at that time will be "How to Finance Individual Projects in Different Locations and Give the Owners the Right to Install their own Irrigation Plants." It will be contended that each municipality or project shall have the right to make its own affairs. On the night of Feb. 14 a banquet will be given to the visiting delegates at the Imperial Hotel in celebration of the effective work done by the congress since the last session.

Equipped with stock from the Oregon Agricultural College, carrying expert instructors from that institution and also a number of farmers who have proven that hog raising and dairying are profitable pursuits in Oregon, the Southern Pacific demonstration train will start from Independence on the morning of Feb. 2, concluding its trip at Albany on the 14th, in the meantime having passed over all S. P. and P. E. & E. lines. Arrangements have been made for two lectures with demonstrations at every stop. This train is intended to take the advantages of the College direct to the barn door of the farm and stands for practical farm education.

Believing that alfalfa growing is of vast importance; not only to the livestock interests of the state, but also in its relation to the up-building and maintenance of soil fertility, the State Superintendent of Public Instruction has set aside the entire second week of March as "Alfalfa Week." Every school in Oregon, including the one-room country schools, will be expected to place special emphasis on the subject of alfalfa. In the lower grades this instruction will be in the form of story-telling by the teacher and comments and questions by the pupils. In the upper grades, all the written compositions of the classes will be on the subject of alfalfa and its relation to other industries.

The dates for the Pendleton Round-up this year have been definitely fixed for September 24-25-26. The early fixing of the dates was caused by the desirof Eastern roads for ample time in which to list the Round-up in their advertising. It is the present plan of the association to permanently adopt the last week in September for the

Ultimatum Sent Coppelfield

Salem, Or., Feb. 2.—Governor West has today announced that the Coppelfield saloonkeepers may have their stocks of liquors seized by Colonel B. K. Lawson when the town was put under martial law and since stored in the railroad company's warehouse at Baker, if they take them by Saturday, but as Coppelfield is still under martial law the liquors cannot be returned there.

The governor has also served notice on Mayor Stewart and the councilmen of Coppelfield that if they did not tender their resignations by Saturday the attorney general would proceed with the suit to have the town's charter dissolved.

Chinock Wishes Re-Election.

Salem, Or., Feb. 5.—James T. Chinock, Superintendent of Water Division No. 1, has filed with the Secretary of State his declaration of intention of becoming a candidate for re-election. He is a republican and is serving his first term. No other candidates have so far announced themselves for this office.

DAIRY DEMONSTRATION

Train Now on the Road. Will be at Medford February 12

Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, Ore., Feb.—The dairying and hog raising demonstration train has left the Agricultural College on the two weeks' tour of Western Oregon. The first demonstration was at Independence February 2. Fifty thousand towns on the Southern Pacific lines between Ashland and Portland will be visited during the tour, which ends February 14.

The train is made up of two flat cars, two lecture cars, one livestock car, one exhibit car and one living car. These cars were furnished by the Southern Pacific Railway Company and equipped by the Extension Division of the Oregon Agricultural College.

One of the flat cars is out-fitted with ten pens of pigs representing the heavy and light types of market pigs, a number of typical brood sows, and four boars, one of each of the four principal breeds. The other flat car will be used for demonstrating the dairy cows that represent the four principal dairy breeds.

The livestock car contains four head of superior dairy cows and one inferior cow, used to exemplify the undesirable type of dairy cattle.

The exhibit car is equipped with modern dairy machinery, model silos, charts showing dairy rations, and apples of dairy cattle feeding stuff. There will also be exhibits relating to the swine industry.

The two lecture cars are used for the series of lectures given by College specialists and practical Oregon farmers. One for lectures on feeding and management of swine and the other for lectures relating to the dairy industry.
