Official Paper of the City of Jacksonville, Oregon

A weekly newspaper published every Saturday at the county seat of Jackson County, Oregon. D. W. BAGSHAW, Editor.

Entered as second-class matter June 22, 1907, at the post office at Jacksonville, Oregon, under Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

SATURDAY, MARCH 21, 1914

SUBSCRIPTION: One year by mail $1.50. Advertising rates furnished on application.

Medford has evidently been "putting it over" on Jackson county by having the county tax collector collect assessments made for various improvements, such as street paving, watermains, sewers, etc. As such assessments have been repeatedly held by the courts as not being taxes, there is no reason why the county should be at the expense of their collection. It is a matter entirely within the province of the city itself and should not be put upon the county officials.

Elsewhere in this paper appears an extract from an editorial in the Medford Sun regarding the construction of a hard surfaced road to the coast. While it is not likely that the road can be built soon, the matter is worthy of consideration and may prove a solution of one of the greatest needs of this valley, viz: transportation for freight and passengers, to and from the sea coast.

So far no candidates have filed for nomination as Representatives in the state legislature. With the elimination of the election of U. S. Senator by the legislature and the possible graft attending the same, it seems that no one is anxious to fill the position.

Whiskey Dumped in Sewers

Albany, Or., Mar. 19—Eight hundred and forty-two pints of whiskey confiscated on orders of the circuit court, was emptied into the sewers here today by Sheriff Bodine and Chief of Police Austin. Forty pints were similarly disposed of last night. The liquor was seized last night while being transported through the streets on a dray, under the law passed by the legislature in 1913 requiring that all liquor shipped into dry territory shall be labeled as such on the outside of the packages containing it.

The liquor was consigned to an Albany drug firm.

The title of the action which resulted in the confiscation was: "The state of Oregon versus thirty-five packages of whiskey"

HIGHWAY TO THE SEA

Is Advocated in Medford Sun.

A good Idea, Pass it Along.

Everyone in this part of the state wants transportation facilities of some sort to the coast. It is true a railroad tapping the timber, mineral and agricultural belt, then connecting with a seaport would transform this part of Oregon commercially in a twelve months, but in lieu of such a construction why not consider a permanent highway through Jackson and Josephine counties to Crescent City.

This subject was discussed in these columns nearly two years ago, but the projected Grants Pass railroad diverted public attention elsewhere.

When the Pacific Highway is completed north and south, we could conceive of no more important work or one more pregnant with possibilities than a hard surfaced road from Medford to the sea on which both a passenger and freight motor truck service could be maintained.

Here would be a transportation line on which the rates could never be raised and which would be a source of pleasure and profit through all the ages to come.

GRAND JURY SEEKS EVIDENCE

82 Indictments Found at Kalama and Two Druggists are Under Bonds.

Kalama, Wash. March 18—The Cow-litz county grand jury has returned 82 indictments. The charges covered by the indictments are: all for violations of the local-option law. Thomas Stratton, a Woodland druggist, is charged with eight separate violations of the law, and has been released under bonds aggregating $8000. The remaining indictments are against the proprietors and clerks of the Red Cross Pharmacy of Kelso. These last mentioned parties are out on $2000 cash bonds. The grand jurors are still at work and it is expected that they will return further indictments.

IDLE ARMY DISBANDS

Release of 7 I. W. W. Made on Agreement That Crowd Disperse.

Sacramento, Cal., March 18—The "army" of the unemployed that has been camped across the river in Yolo county for the past 10 days, since it was ousted from Sacramento, disbanded today, when the remaining 75 drifted away. All that is left of the "army" of 1400 that entered Sacramento are the 15 in the county jail and a few stragglers.

The action of the Sacramento officials yesterday in consenting to release on suspended sentences the seven leaders of the Industrial Workers of the World faction of the "army" on condition that that faction disperse, resulted in the disruption of the main band as well.

New Machine is Tried.

Port Orford, Or. Mar. 18—The Sweet brothers have invented a machine which they are now trying out at Cape Blanco, to separate the gold and platinum from the beach sand, and which they claim is a success. In one run of 25 hours, the machine saved 2 1/2 ounces of platinum and one ounce of gold, the value of the proceeds being $134. Another run yielded in three hours $6 in gold and 3/4 of an ounce of platinum a total of $42. There is an almost unlimited quantity of this sand on the beach.

Conductors' Patches Are Registered.

"The passenger on a railroad train when he has his ticket punched probably does not know that the punch mark used by the conductor is one of 17,000 different designs," remarked Frank E. Brown, an old time railroad man. "On the big railroads there are no two punches that have marks designed alike, and the interstate commerce commission by examining the punch mark can trace the ticket punched to the conductor, train and road upon which the ticket was given. To get a punch a conductor has to sign seven papers before it is delivered to him. There used to be an old couplet, Mark Twain wrote it, which ran: Punch, punch, punch with care, Punch in the presence of the passenger."

"In the old days the railroads—that was before the days of the interstate commerce commission—didn't care what kind of punches their employees used, but today it is different. Every punch is registered, and every mark is different."—Washington Post.

Ever Eat It?
There is a dish of the olden time that has been crowded almost out of memory by the ruthless tide of modern events. It was a cold weather food that came with the snow and fog-biting time and then vanished with the angry clouds and howling winds.

When one ate it the green grass melted away the snow, the birds sang in the blossoming cherry trees and old frigid winter became the middle of May. It was so easy to eat. It melted in the mouth like ice cream. It was soft and delicate. Let a person fully satisfy his appetite on it, and he could go out in zero weather and enjoy a tropical blessing. This food did not last long, for it was part of an event that soon hurried by, and this was a grateful dispensation, too, for a person would be apt to eat too much of it if it lasted long. But it is well it passed away. This degenerate generation, filled with caramels and angels' food, couldn't appreciate it. But in those beautiful days before the war it was a beloved diet. We refer to hoghead cheese. —Ohio State Journal.

"And you say you never attend weddings any more?" asked the sweet young thing.
"No, I do not," replied the bachelor.
"And why not, pray?"
"Why, don't you see what's happening every day to innocent bystanders?" —Yonkers Statesman.

Testing a Man.
An epigram of Myrtle Reed's seems to have made a hit with New York women. In "Threads of Gray and Gold" she writes:

"The only way to test a man is to marry him. If you live, it's a wash-room. If you die, it's a tomb-stone."
