W. C. HAWLEY

For Congress

The Grants Pass Observer said editorially on Feb. 13, 1914, concerning Representative Hawley that "he has stood for all classes of the people and has continually been keen to help all rightful affairs submitted to him. Along with that he has mainained an unflinching interest in every question that concerns Oregon in general. From the commencement of his political career, Mr. Hawley has followed the rule that his first duty is to the people he represents. His own motto is, "No interest to serve but the public interests" and he has held to that persistently. He is clean, capable and energetic, and altogether the right kind of man to represent others. He is approved by this paper entirely on his merits as a faithful representative."

He freely and gladly does all that can be done for every man, woman, and child in the district who makes a request, and has aided thousands.

When Congress is not in session, he spends the time going over the district, learning its needs and the wishes of the people.

FOUR PER CENT OF THE WHOLE amount appropriated in the present Rivers and Harbors bill is for this district.

He has already secured over $4,000,000 for waterways, buildings, and other public purposes and will add to that at this session over $2,000,000 more, which is an average of over $875,000 per year.

Mr. Mealey is the junior member of the law firm of Neff & Mealey. He is a progressive republican and was an enthusiastic supporter of La Follette in the primary election two years ago, having been secretary of the La Follette Progressive Republican Club of Jacksonville County.

His platform is quarterly payment of taxes; passage of fewer but better laws; the elimination of unnecessary and excessive appropriations and a comprehensive state highway system, payable one half by the state and one half by the counties through which the highway is constructed.

REPUBLICAN VOTERS SHOULD BEWARE

Party Should Be Represented on National Committee By a Republican

The Republicans of Oregon are entitled to have a Republican named as the National Republican Committeeman from this State. C. W. Ackerson, who claims to be a Republican, is a candidate. He registered as a Progressive January 8, 1914. Then signed petition of H. W. Coe to be Progressive National Committeeman. Then cancelled his registration as a Progressive and registered as a Republican and immediately filed his candidacy for membership on Republican National Committee. Has been an intimate and convenient understudy of the Progressive National Committeeman and seems now to be in combination with him in an attempt to shanghai the Republican organization. His candidacy is being actively backed by parties hostile to the Republican party and having personal interests and private personal grudges to serve. His erratic and excitable temperament has frequently led him to flood the columns of the press with violent attacks upon the Republican party and vicious personal abuse of prominent Republicans and life-long residents of the State.

It is a grave abuse for parties who are not Republican to register as such. It is a graver abuse for outsiders to attempt the capture of a political party to gratify a personal grudge and to promote party discord. It is an abuse against which fair-minded men of all parties will rise in protest. We can never have a reunited party by pushing to the front political hotheads and men who are political reformers simply for the sake of office. Having been a Republican only twenty-four hours when he announced his candidacy for the highest honorary position in the gift of the party, is some indication of what Mr. Ackerson's motive was in registering as a Republican. As Hon. Ralph E. Williams is the only Republican who is a candidate for Republican National Committeeman, we feel warranted in urging all loyal Republicans in the state to give him their earnest and enthusiastic support.

Bill's Terrible Condition.

There was only a thin partition between the bar parlor and the taproom of the suburban hostelry, writes "H." in the Manchester Guardian, so that I could not help hearing what was perhaps a confidence about a certain Bill's terrible condition the previous afternoon. "Well, to cut a long story short," said the voice, which was husky, probably with emotion, "I had to set 'im on a doorstep and leave 'im there. 'E must 'a' fell asleep, and 'is 'at dropped on to 'is 'eadpath, an', would yer believe it, when 'e woke up there was 11 pence in 'is."

Bark of the Dog.

Wild dogs do not bark—that is to say, the explosive sound so familiar to us in the "bark" of our dogs is never heard from any species of wild dog. Wild dogs growl, snarl, howl, but they never give a real bark. The true bark of the domesticated dog is the result of his long association with man and of his attempt to "speak" in answer to his master's voice.—New York American.

What a Man Eats.

Mrs. Subbub—I wonder what's come over Harry. Instead of being cross, as usual, he started off happy and whistling like a bird this morning. Nora (a new girl)—It's my fault, mum. I got the wrong package and gave him bird seed for breakfast food.—Woman's Home Companion.

Art Critics.

When Orchardson's picture, "Hard Hit," was exhibited at the Academy the artist was strolling through the rooms one day when he saw, to his alarm, an excited little foreigner making toward him with threatening aspect and brandishing a stick as he came. "Ah, sir," he exclaimed, "if I thought that by killing you I could paint a picture like that I would crush your skull this instant!"

David Murray, a Royal Academician, was once painting in Picardy when his stock of canvases became exhausted. Being desirous of securing an "impression" for use later in a more ambitious attempt, the artist did one bit on a handkerchief tacked on a stretcher. Upon his return to London this piece of work was being inspected, with others, by a wealthy old lady, who expressed a desire to purchase it. Murray thought it advisable to tell her that it had been painted on his pocket handkerchief. "On your pocket handkerchief?" exclaimed the old lady. "Then I'm quite sure you've ruined it. Mr. Murray. The paint will never come off!"—London Spectator.
