FORGER ESCAPES.

Ira Sullivan, After Being Sentenced Breaks Out of Curry County Jail.

Gold Beach, Or., Aug. 27.—Ira Sullivan, sentenced yesterday in the Circuit Court here to serve from two to 20 years in the penitentiary for forgery, committed at Brookings, in this county, by raising and passing a check of the Brookings Lumber Company, sawed his way out of jail late last night and escaped. He had secured a piece of a sharp hacksaw, and with this he severed the bars in the window of his cell. When last seen the man was clad in a blue serge suit, and wore a soft black hat. Sheriff Bailey is taking steps to head the prisoner off, in the belief that the man is making for the mountains, as it is thought that, once he enters their fastnesses he will not be easily re-captured.

NEW SYSTEM.

Will Simplify Accounting in Sheriff's Office.

Sheriff W. H. Singler and his chief office deputy, Mr. Harper, were in town last week and while here left an order, with the Record job printing department for a new lot of tax receipts. The new receipts will be an entirely new form from what has been used in Jackson county for the past many years and will be the means of greatly simplifying the handling of the tax funds in the future. Recently Mr. Harper spent several weeks in the tax-collecting offices of other counties and from his visit was able to see that Jackson county's methods of handling the funds were entirely out of date, and so he has compiled a new system, and by it the work will be cut down to a minimum. The new system to be adopted in this county is also being used in Multnomah county.

Tobacco Can as Pocketbook.

Federick Barnhart was given a hearing before Justice of the Peace Glenn O. Taylor yesterday afternoon on a charge of stealing $33 from Mike Carey, and bound over to the grand jury. Carey, too, will be compelled to remain in the city until the grand jury session, being the only witness. The evidence showed that Barnhart, being desirous of a smoke, asked Carey for a cigarette. The latter said he had no tailor-mades but that he had the maker's. Carey produced a can of tobacco and a package of papers. The two men entered into a discussion about the European war and Barnhart proceeded to fumble the can in search of tobacco. It is alleged that instead of tobacco he found $33 in gold and silver. Pocketing the money he returned the can and said good-bye. A half hour later Carey started to pay for a glass of soda and found that he had no change. He notified the police and yesterday morning Barnhart was found and arrested.—Sun.

Learning Should Direct Labor.

Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, Ore. Aug. 25.—"One half of the work of the world is either useless or positively harmful, because it is unnecessary," said a recent noted speaker at the Agricultural College. "It is the mission of learning to direct labor that its product shall be community betterment. Learning means more than training the eye and the hand to do the task skillfully; it means supplying the desire to do the thing that produces useful commodities. "There is a useless toil as well as a useful labor. The pyramids were built not for the good of the people, but to perpetuate the memory of those who never did anything worth while to perpetuate it for themselves. There is no dignity in such labor, or in any other that serves no good purpose—no allows time for the laborer to lift his head into the light of the natural and social world around him. The labor that slants the brow and bows the shoulders has no dignity. "Modern as well as ancient times witnesses this form of folly. An eastern potentate had a canal dug to his doors merely that he might have fresh fish for breakfast. The manufacturer of harmful luxuries and of the gimcracks and gew gaws of fashion represents toil that is useless. The modern freak of fashion that paraded herself in a two-million dollar gown loaded with spangles and other trimming strutted in products of useless toil. All labor that ministers to the idle fancies of the idle rich is but labor in vain.

Notice of Sheriff's Sale.

By virtue of an execution and order of sale duly issued out and under the seal of the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for the County of Jackson, dated the 27th day of August, 1914, in a certain cause wherein John R. Carpenter, Mary L. Carpenter and Louise C. Livingstone as plaintiffs recovered judgment against Meric B. Glover and Lillian G. Glover for the sum of Three Thousand ($3000.00) Dollars with interest thereon from said 19th day of February, 1914, at the rate of 10 per cent per annum and Two Hundred ($200) Dollars attorney's fee, and the further sum of Eleven and 40/100 ($11.40) Dollars costs, which judgment and decree was dated the 22nd day of August, 1914, and was enrolled and docketed in the office of the Clerk of said Court on the same day, and is now of record in Volume 21 at page 528 of the Circuit Court Journal.

Now, therefore, in compliance with the command of said execution and order of sale I will on MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 28th, 1914, at the hour of 10:30 o'clock A. M. at the front door of the Court House in Jacksonville, Jackson County, Oregon, offer for sale and will sell to the highest bidder for cash, subject to redemption as is by law provided, all the right, title and interest of the defendants Meric B. Glover and Lillian G. Glover in and to the following described real property, to-wit: Commencing at the Northeast corner of Donation Land Claim No. 80 in Township Thirty-seven (37) South of Range Two (2) West of Willamette Meridian; and running thence South 13.75 chains; thence West 14.64 chains; thence north 13.75 chains to the North line of said Donation Land Claim; thence East on said North line 14.54 chains to the place of beginning, containing 1.667 acres.

Also commencing at the Northeast corner of Lot One (1) in Block Five (5) of the Orchard Home Association tract, according to the official plat thereof on file and of record in the office of the County Recorder in and for said Jackson County, and running thence West along the north line of said Lot One, Two Hundred and Forty-two (242) feet to the Northwest corner of said Lot One; thence South One Hundred and Eighteen (118) feet to corner; thence East Two Hundred and Forty-two (242) feet to the West side line of street; thence North along the West side line of said street One Hundred and Eighteen (118) feet to the place of beginning, being the North 118 feet of said Lot One. Said property will be sold at said time and place in two separate parcels. First an acre square out of the Southeast corner of the above described twenty acre tract lying within said Donation Land Claim No. 80, which tract or parcel containing one square acre, said Defendant Frank P. Dutton will be permitted to purchase for One Hundred Dollars without interest, as in said decree provided. Second: All of the remainder of said property will be offered for sale to the highest bidder for cash, and all the proceeds of both sales will be applied to the judgment in favor of the plaintiffs and against the defendants heretofore mentioned. Dated at Jacksonville, Oregon, this 27th day of August, A. D. 1914. W. H. SINGLER, Sheriff of Jackson County, Oregon. By E. W. WILSON, Deputy.

Tennyson's First Poems. The wind came sweeping through the garden of an old Lincolnshire rectory one morning in the beginning of last century and blew upon a child five years old, who opened his arms to the blast and let it carry him along, crying as he traveled, "I hear a voice that's calling in the wind." That was Tennyson's first line of poetry. The first poem he ever composed was written upon a slate one Sunday morning at Louth. The subject, set him by his brother Charles, was "Flowers," and little Alfred covered his slate with blank verse after the model of Thomson's "Seasons." His next attempt was an elegy upon his grandmother, who had just died, written at the request of his grandfather. When it was written the old man put 10 shillings into the boy's hand and said, "There; that is the first money you have ever earned by your poetry, and, take my word for it, it will be the last."—Westminster Gazette.

Different Doctors. There are a great many "doctors" who know nothing of medicine. In its technical sense doctor is a university degree, the highest given. It is given in recognition of attainments in many branches of learning, and so there are several kinds of doctors. There is the familiar M. D., doctor of medicine; the LL. D., doctor of laws; the Ph. D., doctor of philosophy; the D. D., doctor of divinity; the J. D., doctor of jurisprudence; the D. D. S., doctor of dental surgery, and many another. So if you hear a man referred to as "doctor" you must find out what he is doctor of before you can determine to which profession he belongs. Doctor of laws seems to have been the earliest of the doctor's degrees, it having been awarded as early as the twelfth century. Doctors of divinity appeared somewhat later. It was a century before the now familiar M. D. (doctor of medicine) came into use.—American Boy.

Sunstroke on Mountains. Sunstroke, according to experiments made by Professors Victor Henry and Molyet and reported to the French Academie des Sciences is due to the invisible ultra violet rays at the extreme limit of the spectrum. If the solar spectrum be examined at an altitude of from 3,000 to 4,000 meters it will be seen that the limit of these rays varies little, but that their intensity is greatly increased. At sea level this intensity is comparatively feeble. So one is much more likely to have sunstroke on a high mountain than in a valley.—New York World.

Better Still. One of the principal owners of a promising gold mine was expatiating on its merits to a capitalist and prospective investor. He described the vein in which the miners were working, showed him specimens of the ore and backed up his statements with the written opinions of experts. "Well," admitted the capitalist, "it looks as if it might be a good investment. As my old Uncle Harum would say, it has 'pits'." "Pits?" exclaimed the owner, carried away perhaps by his over anxiety. "Why, sir, we're in quartz right now!"

Buried With Dolls. In the Chinese morgue one of the strange sights is a number of life size dolls which are burned to accompany the corpses as their servants to the next world. They are doubtless a relic of the time when human beings were thus burned as companions of the deceased.

More Darkness. "I'm all in the dark about how these bills are to be paid," said Mr. Hardup to his wife. "Well, Henry," said she as she pulled out a colored one and laid it on the pile, "you will be if you don't pay that one, for it's the gas bill."

Vegetable Sponges. Vegetable sponges are used a great deal by the poorer class of natives in Ecuador. They assert they are better in washing dishes and in bathing than are the animal sponges.

Athletes of India. The wrestlers and athletes of India develop great strength by living on milk a little goat's flesh and plenty of food made from flour.

Culture. Culture is familiarity with the best that has been done or thought. It is the soul's warm friendship of the great spirits, living and dead. HULLS.

Up to the Author. "I am thoroughly ashamed of this composition, Charles," said the teacher sternly, "and I shall certainly send for your mother and show her how badly you are doing." "All right," said Charles cheerfully. "Send for her. My mother wrote it."—Exchange.

Surprising Cure of Stomach Trouble. When you have trouble with your stomach or chronic constipation, don't imagine that your case is beyond help just because your doctor fails to give you relief. Mr. G. Stengele, Plainfield, N. J., writes, "For over a month past I have been troubled with my stomach. Everything I ate upset me. Finally, one of Chamberlain's advertised tablets came to me. After reading a few of the letters from people who had been cured by Chamberlain's Tablets, I decided to try them. I have taken nearly three fourths a package of them and can now eat almost anything that I want." For sale by all druggists.—Advertisement.
