

Jacksonville Post

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 18 1915

LOCAL NEWS

With the state gone dry, what will the governor of South Carolina now say to the governor of North Carolina?

W. E. Dunlap of Medford transacted business before the board of equalization at the court house Wednesday afternoon.

A. S. Rosenbaum, agent for the S. P. company at Medford, is reported ill at San Francisco, where he is spending his vacation.

Rev. Dr. H. J. VanFossen, District Supt. of this district, M. E. church was in town Tuesday attending to church business.

FOR SALE—A good family driving horse, with harness and buggy. All in good condition. Inquire at Methodist Parsonage, Jacksonville.

Mrs. Amy Dow made a trip to Klamath Falls, first of the week on account of the death of her brother, Roscoe Cantrall who died there Saturday.

The Ladies of the Presbyterian church are giving a Social consisting of supper and entertainment, at the church on Halloween evening. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Rev. A. Coslet of the M. E. church will leave for Conference Tuesday morning. Next Sunday will be the closing service for Mr. Coslet in this city as his health requires a rest.

Vance H. Henderson, a pioneer of Southern Oregon died at Brownsville, Or., September 12, aged 68 years. Mr. Henderson resided in the vicinity of Phoenix for a number of years.

A postal card received a few days ago from Col. J. M. Williams at the Panama Exposition, states that he "never saw so many people in his life, but they are mostly strangers."

The Public Service Commission have been holding a hearing at Salem this week for the purpose of investigating the rates charged for electric current in Medford, Grants Pass and Klamath Falls.

Mrs. J. A. Norris and little granddaughter, Virginia Harrington, left Monday for a visit to friends at Mrs. Norris' old home in Eastern Tennessee. They expect to remain several months. In the meantime our friend Aleck will be a "young widower."

By a recent decision of the supreme court it is now unlawful to keep open any place of business in the State of Oregon, on Sunday, excepting the theatres, drug stores, physician's office, livery stables, butcher shops, bakeries and undertaking establishments.

A mixup on the street resulted in the arrest of William Eaton and M. D. Jones charged with fighting on the public street. Fines were imposed on each of the combatants but the fine of Mr. Jones was suspended by the Recorder, owing to the fact that the other party was the aggressor.

Ah Kee, a Chinaman well known to many of our readers, died a few days ago at Yreka, Calif. He was successful as a dealer in hogs which he bought in the valley and drove across the mountains to California points where he sold them at good prices. He was also engaged in mining in the Applegate district.

R. M. Collins in backing his auto out of the alley alongside the office Thursday evening, ran against a post supporting the awning in front of the building bringing it to the ground. The Post is "a good thing to tie to," but that particular post was not erected to serve as a buffer for automobiles.

Roscoe E. Cantrall died at Klamath Falls, Saturday from poison taken with suicidal intent. He was a native of the Applegate valley and had resided at Klamath Falls for about 15 years. Worries over financial affairs is given as the cause of his rash act. He leaves a widow, one child, several brothers a sister and a mother.

An express package containing several watches consigned to Martin J. Reddy at Medford was stolen from the express car of No. 16, at Ashland Wednesday night and found next morning in an irrigation ditch near Ashland. The watches were later delivered to Mr. Reddy considerably dampened by the immersion. There is no clue to the thief.

The Ashland Record publishes a lengthy article concerning the alleged capture or killing of a green snake at the court house recently. Incidentally the writer of the article mentions that there are two saloons in Jacksonville, as though that fact had something to do with the snake story. Farther on in the article he declares that his informant was an Ashland man who was personally present at the interview with his snakeship. That is sufficient B. Wolfe, your informant had probably drunk too much lithia water before leaving home and the alleged snake was no result, a booze-fighter might see a million snakes but he would never notice one measly, little green snake.

The public schools opened Monday.

A crew of nine men are working on the Bullis road this week.

Mrs. Josie Stansell returned Monday from a trip to Los Angeles.

B. M. Collins and family spent Sunday in the Table Rock district.

Ralph Jennings of Ruch was a business visitor in this city Tuesday.

Charles Prim Jr. left Monday for Eugene where he will attend school.

Issie McCully attended the Pioneers convention at Ashland Thursday.

Bert Anderson of Medford was a business visitor in this city Monday.

Tom Dunnington is employed in the butcher shop at Ashland this week.

Mrs. Mary Miller attended the Pioneers' Reunion at Ashland Thursday.

B. R. McCabe of Medford spent Thursday afternoon at the court house.

W. H. Johnson attended the Pioneers' Reunion at Ashland Thursday.

Emil and Mollie Britt attended the Pioneer's convention at Ashland Thursday.

Andrew Jeldness of the Blue Ledge district was a recent visitor in this city.

A light shower of rain fell Monday, just enough to lay the dust for an hour or two.

Mr. and Mrs. Chris Ulrich attended the Pioneer's Reunion at Ashland, Thursday.

Ashland schools have been supplied with Victrolas as part of their regular equipment.

G. M. Roberts of Medford transacted legal business at the court house Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Odell of Central Point transacted legal business in this city Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. V. T. Simpson of the Applegate valley were recent visitors in this city.

Harvey Jacobson of the Applegate valley has returned from a trip to California points.

Enos Conger and John B. Renault attended the Soldiers' Reunion at Medford Thursday.

Attorney John H. Carlin of Medford was a business visitor in town Wednesday afternoon.

Misses Kate and Mame Cronemiller attended the Pioneers' Reunion at Ashland Thursday.

H. T. Weller, an attorney of Salem was transacting legal business in this city Friday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. M. Cronemiller attended the Pioneer's convention at Ashland Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Harbaugh and John Renault attended the Pioneers' convention at Ashland Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Ensel won a number of premiums for fruit exhibited at the recent Medford fair.

Sidney Abbott and Alfred Norris left Monday for Klamath county where they expect to obtain employment.

Col. Williams stopped over at Shasta Springs on his return from the exposition and is expected home tomorrow.

Curley Wilson, Dan Bagshaw and G. R. Harper are playing ball at Gold Hill, with the Medford team, to-day.

F. R. Tungate, Alexander Thompson and Frank Kashafer attended the Soldiers' Reunion at Medford this week.

Mrs. J. M. Williams returned Thursday evening from San Francisco where she had been attending the exposition.

Miss Violet Rodgers of Grants Pass who had been visiting friends in this city the past week has returned to her home.

Emil Britt of this city has been chosen president of the Pioneers' Association. W. H. Gore of Medford, vice president and Mamie Dox Nelson, secretary. The next meeting of the association will be held in this city next year.

At a meeting of the Parents and Teachers' Association of this city held Friday, the following named persons were chosen as officers for present term: President Mrs. C. Hansen; Vice President, Mrs. W. A. Harrell; Treasurer, Minnie L. Thompson; Secretary to be chosen each month by the pupils in the high school. Mrs. F. C. Smith and Minnie L. Thompson were chosen as delegates to the Women's Club convention at Medford, Sept. 22-23.

The question of the school district paying fares of the 11th and 12th grades who attend school at Medford, was discussed at a meeting of the board Wednesday night but no action was taken. The parents of these students are taxpayers and besides this, the district draws from the irreducible school fund about $18. for each of these students and it seems only a matter of common justice that the district pay the transportation to a school giving instruction in the grades not put on here. The pupils in the grades mentioned have just as much right to instruction in the studies of their grades as have those in the lower grades. Either pay the fare or provide for instruction in the school here; these people are paying for the instruction and are getting it.

You can find a Notary Public at this office.

Mrs. P. Hines was in Medford Wednesday.

Dave Buckley of Ruch was in town Monday.

A. Rhoten of the Applegate was in town Monday.

Miss Edith Hoefs was a Medford visitor Wednesday.

Arthur Kleinhammer of Buncom was in town Monday.

Mrs. M. L. Nelson was over from Medford Tuesday.

The thermometer registered 90 degrees Thursday.

J. A. Lemery of Ashland was a visitor in town today.

Miss Flora Thompson was a recent visitor at Medford.

All work must be spot cash at W. R. Sparks in 1915.

Judge Prim was a business visitor at Medford Thursday.

Frank Silva of Buncom was a recent visitor in this city.

Chauncey Florey was at Medford Tuesday afternoon.

Gertrude Dunnington was a recent visitor in Medford.

John Ross of Central Point was a visitor in town Friday.

E. J. Stewart of Medford was a recent visitor in town.

Judge TouVelle made a trip to Central Point Thursday.

C. Y. Beall of Hood River was a visitor in town this week.

Good ranch to rent. Inquire of Lewis Ulrich, Jacksonville.

H. T. Goodman was a visitor at Medford Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. E. Mahoney was a visitor in Medford Saturday night.

Chas. Hansen and family were recent visitors in Medford.

Judge J. R. Neil transacted business in Medford Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Ulrich were recent visitors in Medford.

Sheriff Singler was a business visitor at Medford Wednesday.

H. A. Canaday of Medford transacted business in town today.

Uncle Billy Cameron of Uniontown was a visitor in town today.

William Ray of Ruch was a business visitor in this city Saturday.

School Supervisor Peterson has established an office in this city.

George Launsbach transacted business in Medford Wednesday.

Mrs. A. L. Gall has returned from a visit with relatives at Ashland.

We print Trespass Notices and No Hunting, signs, at this office.

Mary Bagshaw and Louise Ensel were visitors at Medford Saturday night.

Mrs. S. E. Dunnington and Mrs. C. Combust were visitors in Medford Saturday night.

Get your stationery printed at this office. Our work is guaranteed and our prices are right.

Bob Finney returned home Saturday from West, where he has been employed during the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Kelly of Grants Pass and Mr. and Mrs. John Dunnington left Saturday for a trip to Crater Lake.

Better get your butter wrappers printed at this office and comply with the law governing the sale of butter products.

FOR SALE—TIMBER LAND.—Have for sale at a bargain, four tracts of timber, totalling 630 acres, all in the same region, for sale at a bargain if taken at once. Land is located in Douglas county and is worth double the price asked. Apply to D. W. Bagshaw, Jacksonville, Oregon.

Classes at St. Mary's Academy, at Medford, Oregon, will open Sept. 7. Both boarders and day pupils are received. Full high school course. Individual attention in primary and grammar grades. Exceptional advantages in art, music, china painting and modern languages. Excellent commercial course. For particulars, address Sister Superior.

Latest New York Styles! at New York Prices!

I have more than 100 models of New York's Latest Styles in Coats, Suits, Dresses, Skirts, Waists and Children's Coats, etc.

Made to Your Own Measure or Ready Made.

Satisfaction guaranteed. Call and see models and learn prices.

Mrs. M. Robinson.

MARRIED

SAUNDERS—SMITH.—At Jacksonville, Oregon, Wednesday, September 16, 1915, by Henry G. Dox, J. P. Claude A. Saunders and Leona A. Smith, both of Ashland.

Was It Spirit Or Illusion?

By F. A. MITCHEL

There is nothing so strong in nature as the chains that draw two persons together, and nothing better typifies it than two vines that originally could have been broken apart by a child's delicate fingers, each becoming after a lapse of, say, half a century as large as an athlete's biceps and much harder to bend.

The most remarkable case of this kind came under my observation. I will relate the story.

Donald Gregory, when he was too young to remember the fact, became a playmate of a little girl about his own age, Ella Marston. Their parents' places were side by side, and the children, neither having brother or sister, were together all day. Then they went to the same kindergarten and afterward to the same school. Their first and only separation was when Donald went to college. They planned for each other, and he neglected his studies to write her long letters, receiving equally long replies. When the first examinations came on, though a bright fellow, he failed. This ended his college career. He returned to his love and was never again separated from her till half a century later, when death claimed her.

They were married when the groom was nineteen, the bride eighteen. A son was born to them and a daughter. The former lived; the latter died in infancy. Till the son came to manhood he remained with his parents. Then he broke away to engage in business at another location.

Even in their youth they had few intimate associates and after coming to middle age dropped away from anything social. Those who knew them wondered at this, for they were both attractive and popular. Efforts to get them into social undertakings always failed.

Mrs. Gregory died at seventy. It was a year after this that I made the acquaintance of her son, now a man of nearly fifty. Strange it is that with his parents' happy married life before him he never married. When his mother died he persuaded his father to come to live with him. I had made George Gregory's acquaintance some time before this, and when his father appeared on the scene George and I, both bachelors, were intimate, I being at his house frequently.

When I was introduced to his father I saw a handsome old gentleman with a florid complexion and white hair and mustache. It struck me that if I were a woman I would fall in love with him no matter what was his age. George told me of the close relationship between his father and his late mother, and when the latter died he feared his father would lose his reason. But his father seemed to settle down to an acceptance of his fate and in a measure apparently ceased to grieve. His son noticed something about him which he communicated to no one. I discovered it for myself.

One day when going to George Gregory's house I saw his father putting his night key into the door. He opened it, stepped back as if waiting for some one to enter, then went in himself. The matter made but little impression on me till later I heard the old gentleman talking to himself in the library. At first, thinking that he was reading aloud, I permitted myself to overhear him. I soon became aware that he was talking to some one whom he called "my dear." The two episodes together set me to wondering, and I narrated them to his son. George sighed and said:

"So you have noticed it. I have known that of which you have seen evidence ever since father came to live with me. He ever has my mother with him—just how I don't know. Whether he sees her spirit, whether he fancies that it is present with him, whether he hears her replies when he talks to her—all this is a puzzle to me. I have often heard him talking to her as you heard him, and he says the same things to her that he was used to saying while she lived, only they are more endearing. He was always during her life as gallant to her as when they were young lovers, and when he fancies she is with him he will not sit while she stands, will not go through a doorway without waiting till she has come before him. I have seen him come into the house after having been out of an evening and remove her wraps as tenderly as he ever did while she was with him in the flesh. He had a way of sometimes walking with her hand in hand, and since her death I have often seen him swinging his arm through the empty air as if I often saw him do it when I was a boy."

"Do you observe," I asked, "whether after apparently being with her he is more or less gloomy?"

"He is never what we call gloomy, though there is a certain sadness always in his eyes. It seems to me that Providence, in whose sight such lover-like lives as were his and my mother's must be acceptable, has made some physical change in his brain which causes an illusion to comfort him till the day shall come when he will be reunited to her."

"Did it ever occur to you," I asked, "that the strong affection between him and your mother has enabled him to see and commune with her spirit?"

"It has," was the reply, "but I don't know."

Since then the same door has closed behind Donald Gregory that closed behind his wife.

Weather Report.

Following is the report of U. S. Volunteer Cooperative Observer, E. Britt, Jacksonville, for month of July. Latitude 42 deg. 18. min. north; longitude 123 deg. 5 min. west.

Date	Maximum	Minimum	Precipitation
1	74	49
2	82	59
3	85	51
4	87	51
5	90	53
6	86	53
7	88	54
8	92	52
9	90	54
10	88	56
11	86	55
12	89	49
13	90	50
14	90	55
15	83	58
16	90	59
17	96	55
18	100	24
19	100	57
20	100	29
21	95	60
22	99	59
23	98	62
24	97	63
25	97	59
26	97	60
27	98	59
28	101	60
29	100	62
30	92	64
31	81	56

Temperature—mean max. 92.22; mean min. 57.22; mean 74.72. Max. 101 on 28. Minimum, 49, on 1 & 12. Greatest daily range, 45. Total precipitation trace inches. Greatest in 24 hours, 0.00 in., on 0. Number of days with .01 inch or more precipitation, 0, clear, 28; partly cloudy, 2; cloudy, 1. Precipitation for season, 0.00. Precipitation for last season, 0.00. E. BRITT, Cooperative Observer.

BUSINESS CARDS.

GUS NEWBURY

Attorney-at-Law

Will Practise in All Courts in the State of OREGON.

D. W. BAGSHAW

Attorney at Law

NOTARY PUBLIC AND CONVEYANCER Office with Jacksonville Post.

JACKSONVILLE, OREGON

H. K. HANNA

Lawyer

Office in Bank of Jacksonville Building

JACKSONVILLE, OREGON

DR. T. T. SHAW

Dentist.

Office in Ryan Building, California St.

Upstairs

JACKSONVILLE, OREGON

"MONEY"

The mint makes it and under the terms of the CONTINENTAL MORTGAGE COMPANY you can secure it at 6% for any legal purpose on approved real estate. Terms easy, tell us your wants and we will co-operate with you.

PETTY & COMPANY

313 DENHAM BUILDING DENVER, COLO.

Panama-Pacific Exposition

Is the Most Wonderful
The Most Beautiful
The Most Important in History

It is artistic, it is symmetrical, it is world wide, it is complete.

Only three months more will it be opened. No intelligent person can afford to miss the opportunity of visiting this exposition.

Low Round Trip Fares to San Francisco

on sale daily from all points

If you contemplate a trip East you can travel through California in one direction at small additional expense.

10 days at San Francisco

and

10 days at Los Angeles and 10 days at El Paso are allowed on all tickets to the East reading over

SOUTHERN PACIFIC

Let our nearest Agent outline a trip for you. Our folders "Wayside Notes" and "California Expositions" will be of interest—They are free.

John M. Scott, General Passenger Agent, Portland, Ore.

County Treasurer's 74th Call For Warrants.

State of Oregon, County of Jackson, Treasury Department.

Jacksonville, Oregon, Sept. 18, 1915.

Notice is hereby given that there are funds on hand for the redemption of all County Warrants which were protested on or before September 7th 1911.

Including those which were protested on said date, numbered as follows: Nos. 11335, 11336, 11337.

Also, there are funds for the redemption of All Warrants protested on Sept. 8th, 1911, numbered as follows: Nos. 11338, 11339, 11441, 11445, 11448, 11527, 11528.

Also for the following which were protested on the 9th of Sept., 1911, to-wit: Nos. 11446, 11440, 11442, 11347, 11346, 11359, 11360, 11387, 11388, 11574, 11576, 11576, 11577, 11578, 11579, 11580, 11595, 11317, 11592, and 11529.

Interest ceases on the warrants above numbered and called this 18th day of September, 1915.

FRED L. COLVIG.

Treasurer of Jackson County, Oregon.

Governor for Federal Law

Salem, Or., Sept. 13—Governor Withycombe today authorized O. M. Clark, who will represent the executive this week at the San Francisco convention of the Congressional Union for Women's Suffrage to quote him as favoring a federal amendment for equal suffrage. "I have always believed in equal suffrage for Oregon, and what is good for Oregon is good for the nation," said the governor.

Death Travels on Laborer's Shovel.

Walla Walla, Wash., Sept. 13—When the shovel he was carrying over his shoulder acted as a lightning rod, Angelo Dali, 79, an Italian, was killed yesterday afternoon during an electrical storm that swept the valley.

The storm was one of the most severe that has been known in the valley at this time of the year and was accompanied by a blinding rain storm.

South Carolina Drys Win by Majority of 20,000.

The following 19 of the 48 states of the Union are now dry or have voted for prohibition to become effective within a year: Maine, Georgia, Alabama, North Carolina, South Carolina, Virginia, West Virginia, Tennessee, Mississippi, Oklahoma, Idaho, North Dakota, Oregon, Colorado, Arizona, Washington, Iowa, Arkansas and Kansas.

Columbia, S. C., Sept. 13—United returns from yesterday's election from all the 44 counties of South Carolina indicated a majority of nearly 20,000 for state-wide prohibition. The new law will become effective January 1 next. It will prevent the sale of beers and wines as well as liquors.