John Philip Sousa
by Walt Mason

The March King's stately name is known wherever music holds its own, wherever drums and cymbals throb, and orchestras hold down their job. A Sousa march—just mention that, and mark how people smile thereat; they know what Sousa's music is; it's melody without the fizz; it's full of energy and pep, and makes old graybeards dance a step; they hear the sound of marching men, of chargers trotting down the glen, the shock of battle and the roar, and billows beating on the shore. And Sousa, when he would compose that music which the whole world knows, fills up his pipe with good old "Tux" (name t'other brands, and he says, "Shucks!"). Tuxedo is the smoke of men who do big things with lyre or pen, who make the old world's wheels go round, whose names will down the ages sound.

And His Band, Says
"All the vim, energy and enthusiasm we put into the playing of 'The Stars and Stripes Forever' we find in the steady use of Tuxedo."

Suppose this was Your Business!

If the Government had asked you to invest your money in a plant to supply Government needs; and after the plant was built, and had become useful for no other purpose, the Government built a plant of its own, making your plant useless and your investment valueless—would that seem fair?

That is precisely what Congress is planning for the Government to do with reference to our investment of $7,000,000 in an armor plant.

Reporting to Congress, Hon. H. A. Herbert, then Secretary of the Navy, said December 31, 1896:

"The two armor contractors, the Bethlehem Iron Company and the Carnegie Steel Company, both entered upon the business at the request of the Navy Department."

Is it wise—is it fair—for the Government to destroy a private industry brought into existence to serve the Government, unless for reasons of compelling force? To show that no such reasons exist, we make this offer to the United States Government:

The Bethlehem Steel Company will manufacture armor plate for the Government of the United States at actual cost of operation plus such charges for overhead expenses, interest, and depreciation as the Federal Trade Commission may fix. We will do this for such period as the Government may designate.

Isn't that fair? The question is now before the United States Senate.

Spice of Life

Little James had been telling a visitor that his father had got a new set of false teeth.
"Indeed!" said the visitor. "And what will he do with the old set?"
"Oh, I s'pose," replied little James, "they'll cut 'em down and make me wear 'em!"
Mr. Jones had recently become the father of twins. The minister stopped him in the street to congratulate him.
"Well, Jones," he said, "I hear that the Lord has smiled on you."
"Smiled on me?" repeated Jones.
"He laughed out loud."—Tit-Bits.
A young woman went into a grocer's shop and asked the assistant if he had some good cheese.
"Yes indeed," he replied, "I have some lovely cheese!"
"It is not correct to call cheese 'lovely' she said."
"How is that?" he enquired.
"Because 'lovely' should be used to qualify only something that is alive."
"Well," retorted the grocer, "I'll stick to 'lovely.'"
"What can be more sad than a man without a country?" feelingly asked the high school teacher of her class.
"A country without a man," responded a pretty girl, just as feelingly.—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Centralia Elks Have Plans For New Home

Centralia, Wash., July 10.—The new home committee of the Centralia Elks yesterday received from Stevens & Stevens, Seattle architects, tentative plans for the new $45,700 building to be erected on property belonging to the Elks in this city. The plans call for a three-story brick building, 60 by 120 feet in size. The basement will contain a swimming pool, gymnasium and bowling alley, while the first floor will contain a banquet hall, lobby, billiard, card rooms and lounge rooms. The lodge hall will be located on the second floor extending through the third floor. The balance of the second and third floors will be taken up with sleeping rooms.

Alleged Auto Thieves To Go Into Juvenile Court

Albany, Or., July 12.—The three Seattle boys arrested at Roseburg last week for the theft of automobiles at Salem and Albany and the looting of a farm house at Shedd, have been returned to this city and their case will come up in the juvenile court as they are under 18.
