Film Picture Freaks.

Freak pictures are usually the result of clever manipulation of the camera or the film. Articles or individuals can be made to instantly disappear by stopping the camera while the article is removed or the person walks off the stage, the other characters holding their pose until the camera is again put in motion. In some films in which a person is thrown from a height or is apparently crushed under a steam roller the effect is gained by the live person walking away after the camera is stopped and a dummy substituted to undergo the death penalty.

By projecting the picture at a faster rate than it was taken exorcising comic scenes are sometimes devised. An automobile going ten miles an hour by speeding up the projection machine may be made to apparently move at 100 miles an hour, and by increasing the same way the apparent speed of persons dodging the demonic auto exceedingly ludicrous effects are had.

By mechanical means in combining two or more negatives into one positive a man can be shown fencing with himself or even cutting his own head off.—Philadelphia Press.

Gold In Carats.

We often hear people in speaking of their watches say, "It is an 18 carat case." Others speak of 14 carat watches or 22 carat or solid gold rings. When you see the marks on a watch case or the inside of a gold ring they read 18 K. or 14 K., or whatever number of carats the maker wishes to indicate. A piece of gold jewelry marked 18 K., or 18 carats, means that it is three-fourths pure gold. In arranging this basis of marking things made of gold absolutely pure gold is called 24 carats. Then if two, six or ten twenty-fourths of alloy has been added the amount of the alloy is deducted from twenty-four, and the result is either 22, 18 or 14 carats fine, and so on. On ordinary articles made by jewelers the amount of pure gold used is seldom over 18 carats, or three-fourths. Wedding rings (and these are considered solid gold) are generally made 22 carats fine—that is, there are only two twenty-fourths parts of alloy in them.

Words.

Words are used for various purposes—to evade issues, to put people to sleep, to break up homes, to present literature and to conceal ideas. Nothing exceeds like words.

Words are used in speeches, debates and stories. Massed in serried groups in newspapers and text books they prevent people from learning anything. Last words are most effective and are employed exclusively by women and prominent citizens who are dying.

Words are nothing in themselves, but only in their relationship to other words. It is the system of putting them together that counts. Most words are like unorganized militia. In war the mortality among them is fearful. They never win battles. When words are found in regular army style, however, disciplined and experienced, they are likely to be invincible.—Judge.

PRACTICAL HEALTH HINT.

Food Poisoning.

The symptoms of food poisoning are usually those of severe cholera morbus—vomiting, diarrhea, pain in the abdomen, restlessness, prostration, headache and sometimes fever. Mild food poisoning is undoubtedly very common, and many cases of biliousness, indigestion or summer complaint are really of that nature.

In all cases of real ptomaine poisoning the first thing to do is to empty the stomach. Even though vomiting has already occurred, some of the poisonous material may be left, and only the artificial production of vomiting will remove it. After that the symptoms must be treated as they appear. The physician's chief concern must be to sustain the heart until the system has eliminated the poison and the attack is over.

Where Women Don't Like to Shop.

The stranger in Korea finds that he has struck topsy turvy when he learns that women do not like shopping, that the prominent merchants keep their wares concealed in closets instead of displaying them in show-cases and that the customer who does not fancy the first piece of goods brought from concealment is likely to be told that the merchant is quite sure he has nothing better. Elsewhere the street sign plays an important part in attracting trade. The large merchant houses in Korea are entirely without street signs.

Making It Easy.
