Recruiting Week For Regular Army.

Washington, June 20—President Wilson issued a proclamation today designating the week of June 23-30 as recruiting week for the regular army, and called upon unmarried men without dependents to enroll for war service in order that the ranks of the regulars might be filled promptly.

The proclamation follows: "Proclamation by the president: 'I hereby designate the period of June 23 to June 30 next as recruiting week for the regular army, and call upon unmarried men between the ages of 18 and 40 years who have no dependents and who are not engaged in pursuits vitally necessary to the prosecution of the war, to present themselves for enlistment during the week herein designated, to the number of 70,000.'"

Those Japanese Gunboats

We take it that the German submarines will fight shy of those Japanese gunboats in the Mediterranean and Adriatic waters. They are manned by fatalists who do not fear death, and who are likewise alert and trained to their duties so there will be no mistakes in their work. Throughout the day they will keep an unflinching watch for the gunboats, and at night their searchlights will be the eye to scan the sea in all directions.

It begins to look as though the submarines have already been discounted in a measure, that hereafter they will have to go further out to sea to continue their work with any success. Moreover, the danger to them appear to have greatly increased.

It was a crazy thought on the part of Germany to get the United States into the war and make Japan an active and direct factor in the cause of the entente allies.—Ex.

Service Absolutely Free.

Many lines of business have been complimented for the loyal work they have done in aiding the government in its great plan of preparedness.

Behind this all stands one industry, without which, little could have been accomplished.

The newspapers have made it possible to spread broadcast over our land in a single day the appeals of the government to its citizens in all walks of life.

The newspapers alone make it possible to explain to the nation the plans.

On the newspapers fall the work of informing the people of the Red Cross plans to raise 100,000,000 in the U. S. All of this work is done freely, cheerfully and without pay.

Publishers are probably the only class of men who as a whole are furnishing their service free to the government.

Is there any other line of business exhibiting the same class of patriotism? Now is the time to give 'the publisher credit and not after he is dead.

On the newspapers fall the work of informing the people of the Red Cross plans to raise 100,000,000 in the U. S.

England Will Strike at Germany From Air.

London, June 18—Replying to a series of questions in the house of commons this afternoon as to whether the British government had decided upon reprisals for the German air raids on England, Andrew Bonar Law, member of the British war council, said the government intended to take steps not only for damaging the enemy, but for preventing raids on England.

Alleged Slacker Was 31 Years Old On June 14

North Yakima, Wash., June 19—George Murry, an alleged slacker, who told Deputy Clerk Cleaver of the federal court that since he was "going to be 31 in a few days, anyhow," he didn't think it was worth while to register on June 5, was held in $5000 bonds to await the action of the federal grand jury. Unless bail is furnished, which Murry says is impossible, the accused will have a long wait in jail, though he says he was 31 on June 14.

Electric Sparks

(From Our Wireless)

Let no man of military age get the idea that the U-boats will be exterminated in 30 days.

Is a congressman voluntarily surrendering a salary of $7,500 to go to war a patriot? Does a patriot ever surrender?

Bonar Law told the House of Commons that wholly aside from money the United States has already given assistance of the greatest value.

Those Pennsylvanians couldn't be polling a larger vote at the recruiting offices if Penrose had issued the order himself.

Poor old Zimmermann is denounced in foreign countries for his memorable overture to Mexico, and shunned at Berlin for the mess he made of it.

A Kentucky husband was shot at by his wife the other day with fatal results to a $100 Jersey cow and the cow was not insured while the husband war.

President Wilson is right in insisting on a censorship law during the war. A censorship law keeps valuable information from the enemy as well as from curiosity seekers over here. It saves the lives of our "boys" and therefore should be enacted.

Gen. Cadorna may be unable to move Austrian mountains, but he has proved himself expert in climbing over them.

Don't judge a man by his coat or a ham by its canvas cover.

There is just as much kicking in baseball as there is in football, only it is not so brutal.

When a man knows his own imperfections he is just about as perfect as it is possible for a man to be.

France is without cactus or horned toads, but Gen. Pershing and his troops will soon get used to new conditions.

"Who can remember how to pronounce Przemal?" inquires the New York Sun. Any one confessing it would be liable to arrest as a spy.

Taboo

You may call a girl a "kitten," but you mustn't call her "cat." You can say she is a "pippin"—a "crab apple"—never that.

Should Have Known Better

"Willie," said his mother, "I wish you would run across the street and see how old Mrs. Brown is this morning."

A few minutes later Willie returned and reported:

"Mrs. Brown says it's none of your business how old she is."—Ex.

Saw Mill and Box Factory To Start Monday.

Ashland, Or., June 22—A crew of 50 men will begin logging operations and operate the saw mill and box factory located on Neil creek, seven miles south of here, next Monday. The property was recently purchased by Los Angeles capitalists represented by George E. Hart, of that city. A crew of men has been busy for several weeks getting the machinery and equipment into readiness for active operations. Two auto trucks will be employed in hauling the lumber from the sawmill to the box factory and in delivering it throughout the valley. Box shooks will be delivered direct to the valley orchards, and the millmen hope to supply a great proportion of the demand this year.

Wisdom of Persia.

Purity is for man, next to life, the greatest good. That purity is procured by the law of Mazda to him who cleanses his own self with good thoughts, words and deeds.

Thou shouldst not become presumptuous through any happiness of the world, for the happiness of the world is such like as a cloud that comes on a rainy day, which one does not ward off by any hill.—From the Zend-Avesta, Ancient Persian Scriptures.

Continental Congress.

The first session of the continental congress was held in Carpenter's hall, Philadelphia, Sept. 5, 1774, with forty-four members present. All the colonies were represented except Georgia and North Carolina. Peyton Randolph of Virginia was president and Charles Thomson was secretary.

Correct.

"It's easy to find out what time it is," said a married man. "If the hall clock says 5:20, and the drawing room clock says 5:50, and the dining room clock says 6:05, and my watch says 6:15, and my wife's little dinky watch says 6, it's 6 o'clock in our house."—Exchange.

Dad Gets Back.

"So you are going to marry a chorus girl, hey?" "Now, don't kick up a fuss, dad. Two can live as cheaply as one."

"I'll give you a chance to prove that. Not a cent increase of allowance do you get."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Perseverance.

Perseverance is more prevailing than violence, and many things which cannot be overcome when they are together yield themselves up when taken little by little.

To know how to wait is the great secret of success.—De Maistre.

The Horns of Venus.

References are made in some cuneiform literature to the "horns of Venus," from which it is concluded by some that in the clear air of Mesopotamia the crescent form of the planet was detected in early times without optical aid. Since Venus, when at a sufficient angular distance from the sun not to be lost in the glare of the latter, is hardly more than half a minute of arc in diameter at the utmost, such an observation seems quite out of the question, and Professor Campbell thinks the allusion to the horns was merely a lucky guess on the part of the ancient astronomers.

Magnesia and Grease Spots.

Magnesia will take grease spots out of carpets and rugs. Get a block of it from the drugstore for five cents. Scrape it with a knife into fine powder and lay this on the grease spot, covering it entirely. Rub it in a little and let it stand overnight. Remove it the next day with a clean whisk broom and the spot will be gone.

Taxes On Grant Lands May Be Paid Soon.

Washington, June 19—The commissioner of the general land office has advised Senator Chamberlain that the general land office, through the department of justice, was endeavoring to ascertain the amounts of taxes accrued unpaid and due the Oregon counties on the reverted lands of the Oregon-California grant. It is expected that a settlement will be made when the amounts due the several counties are determined.

"We'll come across" is suggested as an American substitute for "We'll do our bit." Interpreted geographically and referring to the ocean it should prove popular in France.
