There will be no one from Jackson county called to the service at this time as the enlistment from the county total more than the full quota from this county. The drawing at Washington does not draft any from here, it simply shows the order in which they will be called when needed in future drafts. It is not likely that another call will be made this year.

Goethals and Denham Quit New Men Appointed.

Washington, July 24—President Wilson today asked Chairman Denham, of the shipping board, to resign, and accepted the resignation of Major General Goethals as general manager of the Emergency Fleet corporation.

Official announcement of the acceptance of the resignations of Goethals and Captain John B. White was made with publication of a letter from President Wilson to Chairman Denham, asking for his resignation and giving the president's opinion that the only way to end the row which has delayed the shipbuilding program was for both Goethals and Denham to the removed.

President Wilson's action came as a surprise. Officials generally had thought he would make a further effort to patch up differences and divide specifically between Chairman Denham and General Goethal's power conferred on him by the shipping act.

Chairman Denman received the president's request for his resignation at noon and tendered it immediately.

Edward N. Hurley, a Chicago business man and former chairman of the Federal Trade commission, will become chairman of the shipping board. Washington L. Capps, chief constructor of the navy, will succeed General Goethals as general manager of the Emergency Fleet corporation. Bainbridge Colby, of New York, will become a member of the shipping board in place of Captain John B. White.

Guardsman Dead In Bed.

Roseburg, Or., July 25—Private Will Garren, of Company I, of Woodburn, was found dead in bed last night, when called for his turn at guard duty. Garren was a brother of the man who was pushed off a bridge in Southern Oregon It is presumed that death was caused by heart trouble, as there was apparently nothing the matter with the man when he went to bed.

One Cherry Tree Nets Big Sum To Owner.

Salem, Or., July 25—One Bing tree on the L. B. Haberly ranch, northwest of this city, produced 1500 pounds of cherries this season, according to a report received here yesterday. They were sold for $90, it was further reported, and it is believed that the sale establishes a record.

Pet Cat Bites Little Klamath Girl In face.

Klamath Falls, Or., July 25—Grace, 5-year old daughter of A. C. Geinger, a merchant of this city, was playing on the floor at home with her pet cat sitting about five feet away from her. The cat jumped and bit her through the nose and then dashed madly around the room, biting and striking at everything in reach until it was killed. Dr. Warren Hunt, the attending physician, fearing rabies has sent the head of the cat away for examination.

Expect Victory After Long War.

Washington, July 26.— Secretary Baker, announcing the return of the American army officers sent to France to study technical questions, said that the mission "is unanimous in praise of the splendid morale of the allied forces on the Western front, and while it shares the general realization of the gravity of this war, it has returned without any pessimistic opinion whatever as to its final outcome."

The secretary said that there was no truth in stories published yesterday purporting to quote the party as saying the German lines are impregnable.

No attempt is made here to minimize the seriouness of the situation in theaters in Europe The United States is in the war and will go through with it; but any hope of a short struggle has gone glimmering with apparant almost complete collapse of the Russian war machine.

Maybe the crown prince thinks the road to Verdun is now easier than the road to Berlin.

Germany certainly got its hands on the fruits of victory, but could not get away with them.

Weevil To be Combatted

Hood River, Or., July 25—F. R. Cole an expert of the United States Department of Agriculture, is here to engage in experiments of a year's duration, by which he hopes to evolve methods for the control of the strawberry weevil. Mr. Cole is working in connection with the local branch of the Oregon Experiment Station.

While the strawberry weevil is unknown to most Hood River berry growers, it has made its appearance in certain tracts, and possible spread of the pest has alarmed growers who know of the devatation following its attacks in other districts. The weevil, it if said, has put a number of strawberry sections out of business.

Goat Herd Brings Owner $25 A Head.

Canyonville, Or., July 24—F. A. Pierce, the champion goat raiser, shipped today from Riddle 18 head of goats that brought him $450. Pierce raised the champion goat Dodo, whose fleece measured 41½ inches long. It was shown at the San Francisco exposition. Pierce started 10 head a few years ago now he has over 200 head which are guarded by his dog in the mountains during the day. As soon as the dog has his breakfast he rounds up the goats and leads the way. They follow him wherever he goes. Molested by wild animals, the goats gather and the dog either fights off the marauders or rushes the goats home. Should any be gone the dog returns to the hills and finds them. If he is unable to get them home, he remains until morning, then he brings them in.

Hotel Destroyed By Fire From Cigarette.

Bend, Or., July 24—Fire starting shortly before midnight last night destroyed the Millview hotel here, damaged $5000 worth of property, and seriously menaced the plant of the Brooks-Scanlon Lumber company, 100 yards distant. A lighted cigarette dropped from the mouth of a drunken logger, started the flames. Charles Nelson, laborer, was badly burned when he reentered the flaming building to recover valuables left in his room.

Mysterious Fire Burns Residence At Metzger.

Metzger, Or., July 24—A fire this morning consumed the residence of J. A. Brosse, who lives half a mile north of this place. Although Mrs. Brosse was in the rear of the building at the time she was unable to account for the fire, which rapidly spread, and fanned by a heavy wind, threatened several other buildings and another house across the road. As nothing was saved the loss will be considerable.
