

SKILLFUL IN USE OF POISON

South African Bushmen Had Weapon Which in Other Hands Might Have Been Invaluable.

The bushmen, Africa's pygmies of the South, who succumbed so readily to civilization, are becoming rarer every day. Famine, wars and the white man's encroachments have killed off thousands.

The one great achievement of these children of the woods is their skillful use of poisons. In the hands of a more subtle people the poisoned arrow might have been an invincible weapon, but for the bushman it only delayed inevitable defeat.

The bushman's arrow is a toy of light wood until he turns it into a certain death dealer by covering the tip with one of his favorite poisons. A certain entomologist of the jungle, the most venomous snakes and spiders, poisonous roots and leaves all yield their power to kill to the use of these natives.

Special men of the tribe prepare the poisons for their purpose, usually heating them in a dish before dipping the dart into them. While waiting for their
