If you have made up your mind to live in a town, then stand up for it, and if you know positively no good, then silence is golden. Do all you can to help along every man who is engaged in any legitimate business. Do not send away for everything nice you want and still expect the home merchant to keep a stock to suit the whim of one or two customers. The success of your fellow townsmen will be your success. No man liveth to himself and no man does business independently of his fellow business men. Take your home paper. Do not imagine the big dailies fill up all this space. There are many little crevices of a good cheer, social sunshine, personal mention, in the home paper that the big dailies do not print. Then do not abuse your neighbor. The main difference in the number of his faults and your own is that you see through a magnifying glass as a critic. The homed, the croaker, can do a town more harm in a minute than two good citizens can repair in a month.

After wasting oodles of the "dear public's" money, our statesmen have adjourned. While in session they tore the peace treaty apart a dozen times and pieced it together as many times. But now the key seems to have been lost, until after election. Who loses?

The government and the American Legion have the alien agitator on the jump. Give him a swift one if he comes your way.

Announcement.

Owing to need for larger quarters, I have moved my offices to the Ryan Block on California street, where I will be pleased to meet my friends and clients, both old and new. The City Recorder and the Justice of the Peace can be found at the Ryan Block, also.

EDITORIAL

Knowledge gained from books is not all we are hoping to gain through our school work. Even "Black Man" trains one in the alertness, speed and accuracy in measuring the distance to the opposite fence and one's rate of speed per minute.
But the A. V. H. S. boys are coming to the front with an entirely new idea as shown by the sounds issuing from the roof and interior of the new building going up on the premises. Though their activities might be called work, the boys have their share of fun out of the job, and we hope the occupants of the building will not have to endure leaky roofs, the wind waisting through the cracks and knot-holes we may have neglected - Lester Hill, assistant editor.

SPORTS.

The H. S. girls and primary boys seem to like to play base ball and are not following the example of the leaders, the H. S. boys.
The boys are playing "take away" with the volley ball. We will have to start a hospital if they keep it up.
The girls and smaller boys of the H. S., together with the eight grade room played an interesting game of base ball. The girls claim they won. But girls are awful to exaggerate you know.

GENERAL NEWS ITEMS.

Our new school house is almost completed. The school is going to give an entertainment as soon as it finished.
The boys are organizing their basket ball team and laying out a basket ball court.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL NEWS

Three new pupils have started in the grade room, Hazel Carl, Marvin Carl and Norville Carl.
The grade room has subscribed three dollars and fifty-eight cents to the Roosevelt fund.

SOCIETY.

The two Misses Roberts and Wilma Sparlin have entered the Applegate High School.
Lester and Everett Smith have purchased them a new Ford car.
Mr. George Cogle has been absent from school for the past year.
The new cottage which has been erected on the school ground for Mr. and Mrs. James and the Misses Roberts and Miss Wilma Sparlins is now ready for use.

CHAFF

George: "Gee, I feel like thirty cents."
Cliff: "Yes everything is higher priced lately."
Gertrude (in music store) "Have you 'Kissed Me In Moonlight?'"
Clerk: "I don't think I did. It must have been the other man. I just came."
One of the H. S. boys was painting a fence at a rapid rate of speed.
"Why are you in such a hurry Gene," said Lance who was passing by.
"I want to get through before my paint runs out," replied Gene.

Prof's by Experience.

Of course others may do as they please, but personally, we never expect to invest in another oil well until it proves able to grease its own machinery.—Dallas News.

Where "Loot" Originated.

The word "loot" came into the English language by way of India, and is supposed to be derived from the Sanscrit "lota," signifying booty. Originally all booty taken from the enemy in war pertained to the crown of the victorious nation, the title thereto being regarded as indisputable. The crown was supposed to dispose of these spoils of war according to its pleasure, bearing in mind the services of the captors of the prize law at sea. But at every international congress at which the laws of war and of mutual relations came under discussion it was agreed to exempt from seizure private property on land and to restrict confiscation to the national property of the victor.

Mr. Godward and Miss Spulak. <h4>EDITORIAL.</h4> In addition to the good library in Jacksonville, about 100 new books have been received lately. There are about three hundred books now in the library suitable for high school students. Besides about eight hundred books suitable for the grades. Among the books newly purchased are books treating on many sciences by the latest authors. These books are very useful in the study of General Science. Scores of the best books on history and literature are also among them. The high school library has been completely indexed and now needs rearranging in cases in regard to subjects. State Superintendent Churchill is expected here sometime this week to check up the books and apparatus, and to determine whether there is enough equipment to make our school a standard high school. <h4>SQUIBS.</h4> We thank the Applegate Valley High School very much for their kind intentions and hope to be surprised some morning by coming to school and finding our tennis court entirely finished. Come on with your committee and we will show you a good time. <h4>A FEW DON'TS</h4> Don't whisper about it. Don't get out of step. Don't slouch in your seats. Don't lean out of the windows. Don't run up or down the stairs. Don't scrape your feet on the floor. Don't sharpen your pencil on the floor. Don't leave the room during physical torture. Johnnie Neidermeyer: "Friends, Romans, Countrymen, lend me your ears." Paul Ager: Just like him, always trying to borrow something. Dalt: Oh gee, here comes our Maxwell. I can tell it by the sound. James: Oh that just Mr. Fitz's lumber wagon coming down the street.	<h3>SPORTS.</h3> Nothing definite has been done yet about a hall. At the last student body meeting, when it was decided that probably no hall could be secured this winter, the suggestion was made that the student body build one. It is still being discussed and perhaps that would be the quickest way to get one. The athletic manager has purchased a standard basket ball and indoor base ball. The student body now possesses two good basket balls, an indoor base ball and a volley ball. The only one that can be used at present is the indoor base ball. But it is expected that baskets will be put up on the school grounds so that the team can get to practicing. <h4>"AS OVERHEARD BY THE HIGH SCHOOL."</h4> Evelyn Childers was absent from school a few days this week on account of illness. The assignments for the 7th and 8th grades are being put on the board, so now every pupil knows where the lessons are. Mollie Bailey and Ruth Fleming had their pictures taken Friday afternoon. Beatrice Eaton has a new burgandy coat. Mrs. Hall's sister was expected Friday evening, but she received a telegram saying she would not be here until Wednesday. Lucille Garrett has been absent a couple of days this week. Archie Rock has been very ill for some time. The 5th and 6th Grades had an interesting peanut party a week ago last Friday. The 5th and 6th Grades had an interesting debate on "Resolved that it is better to live in the country than in the country than in the city." The affirmative won by one point. The Primary Room Grocery Store is now open for trade with the First Grade on Wednesdays and the Second Grade on Fridays. Toy money is used by the small purchasers in making change. Louise and Edgar Weis of the 4th grade leave this week for Portland where they will spend the winter, returning to Jacksonville the first of March. Miss Spulak getting ready for physical torture said, "Everybody! One." Dalt Terrill who had been working Reter's punch board: "I didn't win anything."	<h3>TWO WEEKS ADRIFF.</h3> DALTON TERRILL. Leaving Portland September 1st, 1918, on the ship Dumaru, manned by a very raw crew, I started on a very eventful voyage. Arriving at San Francisco three days later, where a cargo of gasoline, dynamite, caps and torpedo heads were loaded on board. We left for Guam, September 12th, stopping for coal at Honolulu. A quiet voyage brought us to the island of Guam. It was a very quiet place, inhabited only by natives and a few naval men. We discharged several tons of supplies there. On the sixteenth, we left Guam expecting to finish our voyage in seven days more. But before the island was out of sight, an electric storm had come up. The third crash of lightning struck the forward hatch and exploded the gasoline. Intense flames rushed up from the ship and the captain ordered everyone to the life-boats with all haste. Two life boats were filled and gradually drifted apart as they left the ship. We had a small supply of food and water. When six days and nights had passed we were out of food and water, and there was no land or ship in sight. The sun poured down upon our poorly clad backs and caused much suffering and several deaths. Then the question came to each man's man, "Am I to be the next?" Early one morning there came a sudden rain which furnished each person with a third of a cup of water. Several hours later that which we had so eagerly watched and longed for slipped up before us in the form of a rocky coast. This sight sent our men into a state of wild excitement. When we were about to land our boat capsized and we were left to reach shore as best we could. All landed safely after two weeks at sea except two unfortunate who were drowned in the surf while struggling to reach shore. We went back from the coast and found that natives were living there. They could not understand English or Spanish. But we managed to make them understand our need of food and water, which they gladly give us. The place where we were, proved to be the Philippine Islands. We were conducted to a colony of native homes where we were clothed and fed. One morning an American teacher surprised us and took us to the town of Samar, where we learned that the other life-boat had landed on the island of Luzon. After about five days we left for Manila and from there we started on our homeward journey on the transport Thomas.
