

DEVELOP RESOURCES, STATE CHAMBER'S AIM

Expansion Movement Now In Progress Will Allow Broader Activities.

What does Oregon need? What—if it were possible to name the chief factor—does it most need in order to develop with a maximum of success? The question is impossible to answer. There is no "chief factor." The solution lies not in one particular need, but many.

Oregon today, facing an era of development unparalleled in its history, must fill these needs if it expects to go ahead. Of the many factors that must be employed if the state is to progress immigration and colonization stand prominent in order to solve the vital problem of land settlement.

Irrigation, reclamation of land and drainage must be developed as another method of bringing about the solution of this problem. Farm labor must be brought in. Homeseekers who in turn become food producers, must be encouraged and made to see the possibilities that await them in the great northwest.

Good roads must be built. A vast tract of wilderness with their billions of feet of timber are concerted into lumber, highways must be provided over which commerce can be carried and the scenic beauties of the State viewed by the tourist.

Among other needs are industrial expansion, railroad extension and water power development. Advertising and publicity must be carried on if Oregon is to be made known as a country for the homeseeker where Opportunity beckons. Its scenic beauties must be advertised to attract the stream of golden dollars from tourists and pleasure seekers.

Other states, most of them with fewer advantages to attract, are realizing millions each year from tourists—because they realize the value of advertising and making public what advantages they possess.

Oregon must develop its water transportation, its mineral lakes, its ports and reach out for foreign trade and it must develop the state to produce the exports which are to go down to the sea in ships. It must expand its educational facilities as an additional advantage to hold out to the homeseeker with children to educate.

The Oregon State Chamber of Commerce is the most logical agency to carry on this development work simply because a state organization of this nature can work for the mutual good of all communities in the state without favoring any particular one.

HENRY GAINES HAWN

Henry Gaines Hawn of San Francisco, an authority on community building, is one of several speakers now touring the state in connection with the expansion movement of the Oregon State Chamber of Commerce.

The State Chamber is making a state-wide appeal for a budget of $450,000, covering a period of three years, to carry on its development work.

The movement has been endorsed by more than two hundred leading men throughout Oregon. Eighty community executive committees have been organized to co-operate with the State Chamber in the canvass throughout the state which will be conducted during June and July.

STATE CHAMBER TO EXPAND ACTIVITIES

State-wide Appeal For Budget Made to Provide For Development Program.

What is the plan of the expansion movement of the Oregon State Chamber of Commerce? How is it to be carried out? What is it for?

These are the three questions uppermost in the minds of the majority of those who have been informed of the movement which the State Chamber launched April 19th with a survey of the state to set up preliminary organization and establish a direct connection with practically every community in the thirty-six counties of Oregon.

The expansion movement by way of explanation might be divided into three distinct classes. These are:

First—A survey of the state. Second—An educational campaign to be carried on through local newspapers and by mailing literature pertaining to the movement direct to industries, firms and individuals interested in the development of the state.

Third—The intensive organization work at which time a state-wide canvass will be made, county by county, to raise a budget to enable the Oregon State Chamber of Commerce to carry on its program of development work for the state on a broader, more comprehensive scale. This canvass will be made throughout the state during June and July.

This budget is to be obtained by popular subscription. The appeal will be state-wide and to everyone interested in the development of Oregon and his particular community. It is believed the response will be met by the manufacturer, the merchant, the farmer and the individual, for each is vitally interested in seeing Oregon forge ahead and develop its advantages and resources.

Industrial developments depend on two factors: Natural resources or raw materials, and proximity to markets for manufactured products. Granted these and sufficient encouragement development inevitably follows.

Oregon has the raw materials and natural resources. It will be the purpose of the State Chamber of Commerce under its expanded program to acquaint the world with these facts, and through direct solicitation, get industrial management to consider Oregon as a site for their industries.

Furniture and wool manufacture in Oregon are in their infancy. So is the canning and preserving of fruits. With its vast resources in water power, its labor market, geographical location, Oregon offers many advantages to the manufacturer who, however, must first be interested in Oregon and know its advantages.

WESTERN SPIRIT IN CHINA

Head of University in the Great West Low Territory Has Proof of Spread of Occidental Ideas.

"He had been pretty well all over the world," said the professor, "and when I asked him what country had impressed him most, he said at once, China. And when I asked him what in China had impressed him most, he said at once, the West China Union university. The professor's remarks were made to the Daily News, London, and he followed them up with a delightful story of the way in which Chinese eminences showed their appreciation of this blossom of Western enterprise, the university of which the professor happens to be the president. Some dozen years ago he was fleeing for his life 1,500 miles down the Yangtze to save his head. He was a "foreign devil," and no university had been started. Seven or eight years later, the military governor of Szechuan sent him a beautifully inscribed statement of his opinion of the university, and a gift of $3,000. The professor was on his way home via Peking. In the Chinese capital he had an interview with the president of the Chinese republic, then Yuan Shih-Kai, who also gave him a declaration of approval and $4,000 as a personal gift to the university.

The first congress was supposed to meet on March 4, 1789, and it is a curious fact that there was not a quorum of either house present for a month thereafter. Only eight senators were present on March 4, and they adjourned from day to day until April 6, when a quorum was present. Only 13 members of the house assembled on March 4, and a quorum was not present until April 1. The Constitution of the United States took effect in the following states: Delaware, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Georgia, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Maryland, South Carolina, New Hampshire, Virginia and New York, on March 4, 1789.

Dream That Means Death. A peculiar dream is that which has visited a certain Irish family for generations. Invariably before a death or some big change. They call it their kissing lady dream. The person who experiences it dreams that they are sitting in a very old-fashioned room before a blazing wood fire, when suddenly the door behind them opens and a beautiful girl in green, tight-fitting garments enters, and, stealing softly behind them, draws their head gently back and kisses them full on the lips. As she does so there is always the clanging of steel on a stone staircase, the hurried tramp of armed men, and they awake trembling.

Saint Lucy. Refreshing as a spring on a July-noon, lovely as the song of the thrush at the close of a gaudy day, is the life-record of Saint Lucy. The dear girl, whose name, from the Latin (lux, lucis) means "light," was born in Syracuse in 304 A. D. Her startling beauty brought a mob of suitors at her feet. But she had vowed herself to the religious life and declined their addresses. A young nobleman, maddened with love for her, accused her to the governor as professing Christianity. In the fearful persecution under Diocletian she was martyred. She is represented in art as holding a platter with her two eyes upon it.—Chicago Journal.

OREGON PLAYGROUND FOR TOURISTS AIM OF STATE CHAMBER

Switzerland used to be the poorest country, per capita, in the world. Now it is the richest. Tourist travel did it. Main and Colorado each receive $50,000,000 per year from their tourists; Florida gets $250,000,000; California, half a billion a year. Oregon gets $5,000,000.

A three year's advertising campaign by the Oregon State Chamber of Commerce may be expected to bring in at least one-half of what Main and Colorado get, or $25,000,000, which should increase on a rising scale.

STATE CHAMBER SEEKS TO DOUBLE POPULATION ON FARMS IN 3 YEARS

Oregon has water resources to irrigate 4,000,000 acres of land now unproductive, and which would support in comfort, 200,000 new population, or about 40,000 new families.

If in its three year's campaign to put families on Oregon's vacant land, the Oregon State Chamber of Commerce can bring 1,000 families to utilize this land and water, it will mean expenditures alone for such commodities as clothing, food, furniture, etc., of $1,000,000, calculating the expenditures for an entire family at only $1000 per year, to say nothing of the wealth produced by these new settlers.

Land settlement is one of the chief aims of the Oregon State Chamber of Commerce expansion program in its movement to aid in the development of the State.

Oregon has 16,000,000 acres of tillable land now uncultivated. Oregon produced 20,400,000 bushels of wheat in 1919. If Oregon's 16,000,000 acres of tillable but uncultivated land were planted in wheat and the yield were the Oregon average for ten years—21.9 bushels per acre—new production would be $50,400,000 bushels which, at the price today of $3 per bushel, would mean a cash value of $1,512,000,000.

The Oregon State Chamber of Commerce expects to double the number of farmers in three years. If this means double the wheat crop, it will mean an additional yield of 20,400,000 bushels of wheat, which at the prevailing price would mean a cash value of new money of $1,200,000,000.

DOUBLE POPULATION OF OREGON FARMERS STATE CHAMBER PLAN

Oregon now has 5,000,000 acres of land under cultivation. In 1919 the agricultural crop was valued at $206,000,000.00.

By honest advertising the Oregon State Chamber of Commerce can double the agricultural acreage in three years. This would add another $206,000,000.00 to the agricultural revenue of the State, using last year's figures as a basis of figuring.
