Trade with the home merchants.

Keep a roof of prosperity over your head and help your neighbor to do likewise by trading with him in business.

DEMOCRATIC CONTROL FOR STATE CHAMBER

Subscribers to Budget Will Have Voice in Matter of Expenditures.

"After I have subscribed to the Oregon State Chamber of Commerce, what part will I have in the organization?"

This question is frequently heard in connection with the State Chamber expansion movement now in progress.

The answer is that all subscribers will have a voice in saying how the money will be spent. By this and other methods the fundamental democracy of the organization is assured. Of course the Board of Directors,—to which every member is eligible,—will actually expend the funds of the organization; but they will be guided in their expenditures by the wishes of the subscribers.

To determine what the subscribers want the State Chamber to do, group meetings will be held in every center of population in the state, when all subscribers will be called together and asked to answer, in writing, the following questions:

1. What can the Oregon State Chamber of Commerce do to improve conditions of opportunities in your own line of business or profession?
2. What do you believe the Oregon State Chamber of Commerce should do to advance the interests of your own community?
3. What in your opinion as a citizen, is the thing of first importance for the Oregon State Chamber of Commerce to do for the good of the state as a whole?

After these group meetings have been held under the direction of the executive committee in charge of the campaign, each district will select one representative to attend a convention with the officers and directors of the State Chamber, and the answers to the questions will be formulated into a program of activities designed to unite the entire state on definite tasks.

The program of work will also control expenditures. When work is started on this program the directors will follow their present practice of submitting questions of wide importance by means of referendum.

The Directors represent every city and county in the state. Representation on the Board is arranged geographically and not based on population. Eastern Oregon is represented by five Directors, Western Oregon by five, Multnomah County by two, and there are three at large; making a total of fifteen, which avoids the possibility of control by any one section.

To sum up: The State Chamber will do what the subscribers themselves say should be done. It will function through a Board of Directors elected by delegates and officers, including an executive secretary elected by the Board. Voting will be done by constituent members. Individual subscribers help make up the program of activities and carry them to completion through committee service.

WORLD'S POOREST CITY IS MADE RICHEST BY TOURIST TRAVEL

From the poorest republic in the world to the richest is what tourists travel did for Switzerland. That little republic practically unknown a century ago is now recognized the world over as a playground for tourists because its scenic beauties were capitalized.

Data showing what the tourist business has done for Switzerland has been prepared by Alfred A. Aya representing the Swift interests in Oregon and turned over to the Oregon State Chamber of Commerce to be used in connection with its state-wide expansion campaign now in progress.

It has a direct bearing on the campaign by reason of the fact that one of the chief arguments being used by the State Chamber is that cities are spending huge sums to advertise their interests along civic industrial lines.

In the article prepared by Mr. Aya showing the economic value of tourist travel he says:

"It is estimated that tourists annually spend more than $750,000,000 in the United States. Of this sum it is estimated Maine and Colorado receive close to $50,000,000; the New England states close to $100,000,000; Florida close to $200,000,000 and southern California close to $300,000,000—while in 1918 it was estimated that Oregon with scenery second to none in the world received less than $5,000,000 from this source.

"The best example in the world of the possibilities of the tourist business is Switzerland, with an area of 15,965 square miles, or about one-third larger than Harney county in eastern Oregon.

"The Swiss did not consciously begin development of the tourist business until about 100 years ago, starting with the single guest in the spare room until today the little republic has, according to the latest hotel guide, 959 hotels and doubles its population annually through the tourists. It is said the little village of St. Moritz has few over fifty native population, but 2700 beds for tourists."

Specific cities cited by the State to advertise their possibilities include Chamber that are spending huge sums San Francisco which is now raising a fund of $250,000; Seattle now engaged in raising $250,000 and New Orleans which put $100,000 into an advertising campaign.

Highland Superstitions.
Did you know that if you lived in Scotland all salt cellars in the house must be full on New Year's day, else the household will suffer want during the year?

That is not the only superstition peculiar to Scotland. The country is full of them. For instance, the Highland nurses believe that if an infant's feet are put in snow he will never have colds during his life. A regular practice among the farmers used to be the placing of honeysuckle branches in their cow houses on May 2 to keep their cattle from being withed.

A bad storm is prophesied when a cat frolics about a room. If the cat washes its face with its paws before the fire, the coming day will be rainy.

Ancient Admonition.
Thoughtless persons who insist on talking during a musical performance, marring the pleasure of those who would listen to the music, we have always with us. It is curious to note that this particular pest was already extant more than 2,000 years ago. In the ancient book "Ecclesiasticus" we read, "Speak, thou that art the elder, for it becometh thee, but with sound judgment, and hinder not music."

SALVATION ARMY MAKES MEN OF SOCIAL OUTCASTS

Following a well known rule the Salvation Army, in its industrial homes, is taking the class of man who early finds his way to the poor house and rehabilitates him, makes him over, gives him confidence in himself and turns him over to employment that enables him to sustain himself.

The County Government makes its "down and out" habitual indigents. It makes them a monthly allowance of money or goods for which it requires no service.

The Salvation Army takes the same man and gives him, not money, but work.

It pays him money for his work, and renews in him the knowledge that conscious and directed effort is entitled to and will bring him commensurate return.

It bathes him and wins him again to clean habit and thought.

It builds up his strength and his morale until he is fit again for the fight with the world.

Then it finds him employment and sends him forth to work that he is fitted to do.

Here in a nut shell is the story of the Salvation Army's Industrial Homes and the story of the industrial home in Portland, where scores of men from all over the state have found themselves.

HIGH SPOT OF ADVENTURE

Pacific Coast Has for Many Years Been the "Hunting Ground" of Gentlemen Adventurers.

The Pacific coast seems to be favored of the "gentleman adventurer," for one, a Scot, has given a great collection of South Sea relics, arms, armor and utensils to the University of British Columbia at Vancouver. The other, an American, a veteran of the regular army who has seen much service in the army and out of it, has given a Boxer flag to the Golden Gate Memorial museum at San Francisco.

Both loved the open, the stir of arms and the savor of strange places. The Boxer flag brings up what today is almost ancient history; the siege of the legations, the coming of the occidental troops and the perils and sufferings of the men and women in that struggle, have furnished novelists and writers of stories with much "stuff." The South sea and its vast stretches have had the same lure for the adventurous, and now in their respective resting places these relics and trophies are there to show what two strong men of other lands found and kept. When we say that the Boxer flag was with its owner through St. Mihiel, the Meuse and the Argonne combats, and at Ypres, we have let an Odyssey describe itself.

Statue of the Greek Slave.
This famous statue was the work of Hiram Powers (1805-1873), the American sculptor, completed in 1843. Five replicas are said to have been made by the artist, the first of which was sold to Captain Grant and taken to England, and is now in the gallery of the duke of Cleveland. The second copy is now in the Corcoran Art gallery at Washington; the third is in possession of the earl of Dudley; the fourth was purchased by A. Y. Stewart, the New York merchant, and the fifth became the property of Hon. E. W. Stoughton.
