Seven Indicted In Bank Case

The investigations of the bank of Jacksonville failure, now being conducted by the grand jury are involving more people than was expected. Six indictments against well known business men have been returned and there are rumors of others. The six indicted are Chester Kubli of Applegate, A. W. Walker, garage man of Medford, J. E. Bartlett, of Medford, Benj. Collins of Grants Pass, S. L. Johnson of Applegate and Elmer Quigley, a stockman of Yreka Calif Ben Collins, who at one time was a resident of Jacksonville when he was cashier of the bank, appeared in court Wednesday to answer the indictment. S. L. Johnson, who operates a sawmill on Thompson creek was also a resident of Jacksonville at one time. His bonds were placed at $1000, and he is at liberty as are all the others.

Attorneys for Walker, Kubli, Bartlett, Johnson and Quigley have filed demurrers to the indictments on the grounds of "insufficient evidence to constitute a case".

It is said that a seventh man is still at large with his whereabouts unknown.

Thirty indictments have been returned against W. H. Johnson, whose bail was reduced to $25,000 by the court. R. D. Hines ex-vice president of the defunct bank is at liberty having procured his bonds of $10,000.

The grand jury filed a presentment with the court setting forth the facts relative to the county courts part in the handling of funds entrusted to the defunct bank, and asked for an opinion from the bench. The court ruled that under the present law, the responsibility rested with the county treasurer and not with the county court.

There are several robbery cases as well as the trial of Lark Evans to come before the court, so it is probable that the bank cases will be postponed till the February session.

Shrinkage of Market Hay.

Shrinkage occurring in good market hay is due almost entirely to a loss of water which has no feeding value, say specialists of the United States Bureau of Markets. Such shrinkage seldom causes an actual money loss to the farmer, because loss in weight in baled hay is borne by the shipper, who usually receives the hay as soon as it is baled.

If the shipper stores baled hay for speculation there often will be a money loss caused by shrinkage because he has purchased an excess amount of water.

There is practically no loss of dry matter in market hay that has been properly cured. Proper curing is indicated by a bright natural green color. Improperly cured hay may lose dry matter but such hay is not in demand in any of the terminal markets.

The water content of hay at different periods of curing and storage, methods of making hay to prevent excessive shrinkage in storage, methods of determining shrinkage on individual farms, and other general shrinkage information of interest to all agencies engaged in the production and marketing of market hay is given in a publication soon to be issued by the Department of Agriculture.

Vain Pursuit.
"So Nibltz is dead?" "Yes." "Did he leave any property?" "Nothing to speak of. Nibltz was the kind of man who had an idea that fortune was always just around the corner." "But he never succeeded in overtaking her?" "No. He has either mistaken in the location of the corner or he lingered in the middle of the block until fortune moved on to some other corner."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

A Fool's Paradise.
In the fool's paradise everybody will have an office and nothing to do.—Ohio State Journal.

The American Red Cross

The "Greatest Mother" concept which was visualized in the famous art poster used by the American Red Cross in its second war fund campaign has had its symbolism adapted to the Red Cross work of the post-war era and will illuminate the main poster to be used in the Fourth Roll Call November 11-25. This adaptation will bear the title "Still the Greatest Mother in the World." Everyone is familiar with the original "The Greatest Mother in the World," the effectiveness of which has been shown in part by the fact that it has furnished a synonym for Red Cross that has come to almost a household term. More than any other symbol, except the red cross itself, the public has made it the trademark of the American Red Cross.

J'ville Will Celebrate

The Jacksonville County Seat Club met at City Hall Tuesday evening for the transaction of business connected with the campaign against county seat removal and to plan a celebration that shall fittingly crown Jacksonville's victory. Accordingly, arrangements are being made to serve a banquet to which not only all Jacksonville but friends in the surrounding country are cordially invited and Saturday, Nov. 20th, is the time and I. O. O. F. Hall the place where and when we celebrate. No pains will be spared to make this an occasion long to be remembered and it is the wish of the committee that every resident of Jacksonville consider the success of the affair a personal matter. If you have a suggestion to offer that will add to the attractiveness of the occasion, don't fail to get in touch with some committee member—your cooperation and assistance will be appreciated.

The following well-known ladies have been appointed as members of different committees:

Reception Committee—Mrs. H. H. Sargent, Mrs. J. W. Robinson, Miss Iessie McCully, Mrs. D. Harbaugh.

Refreshments Committee—Miss Volle Britt, Mrs. D. W. Bagshaw, Mrs. M. Dox, Mrs. Amy Dow, Mrs. G. R. Chapman, Mrs. Kate Hoffman, Mrs. S. E. Dunnington, Mrs. Fred J. Fick, Mrs. L. Ulrich, Miss Alice Hanley, Mrs. Bush, Miss Audrey Holmes, Miss Gladys Holmes, Miss Stella Levy, Miss Lizzie Reuter.

Entertainment Committee—Mrs. H. K. Hanna, Mrs. Frank Sausberry, Miss Alice Hoefs, Miss Edith Hoefs, Mrs. G. A. Gardner, Mrs. Tom Fulton.

It is a recognized fact that such a community gathering as this promises to be, is of material aid in arousing civic pride and the pull together spirit that gets results. Jacksonville, like every small town, has in the past suffered more or less from factional strife—and factional strife has invariably proven a death blow to achievement. It is now more than ever important that a determined effort be made to place Jacksonville among the live, progressive cities of the state. To accomplish this result the cooperation of all our people, all the time in all matters great and small is needed. Start right by attending this banquet. Among other things it is intended as a tribute to a man to whom Jacksonville owes much. Bring your appetite, a determination to enjoy yourself and a firmer determination to loyally line up with your fellow townsmen in support of any proposed civic improvement.

A Communication

Nov. 7 1920.

Jacksonville County Seat Club, Jacksonville, Oregon.

Dear Friends and Neighbors:

Congratulations! You surely showed fight in your recent contest and I think you are deserving of much credit.

But now, folks, keep the good work up, make Jacksonville such a town that no one will ever utter a word against her.

Make Medford and Southern Oregon point to J'ville with pride and utter her name in reverence.

A good plan is to follow the lead of Col. Sargent for he is a liv. one. Yours for "Jacksonville the Beautiful." D. W. Bagshaw, Jr.

Rogue Riveo Woman Kills Bob Cat

While returning to her home on the old James Calvert place about eight miles northwest of Rogue River Mrs James Foss killed a large bob cat recently. Mrs Foss has gone for the mail and had her dog with her. The dog saw the cat and troed it and Mrs Foss went after it although she had only a 22 caliber rifle. It took six shots to kill the cat which measured about three and a half feet long. It weighed 19 pounds.—Grants Pass Courier.

Heaviest Woman Dies

Bristol, Eng. Nov. 3—Lucy Moore, reported to be the heaviest woman in the world has just died here. At one time she weighed 668 pounds.

Miss Moore was born in Kentucky and had been in the show business for many years. She traveled all over the world and was said to have received many offers of marriage.

Farm Bookkeeping.

Farmers, as a rule, are highly individualistic in their methods, and farm business conditions vary widely, accordingly, ready made systems of farm accounts seldom bring out all the facts the farmer ought to know. Systems must be developed to fit each man's requirements, and efforts to shape ones needs according to a prepared system not based primarily on these needs will almost inevitably result in failure.

Armenian an Ancient Tongue.

The Armenian tongue, however, much it has changed in the course of centuries is descended from the language that Priam and Hector spoke. The Armenians hail, like the Homeric Trojans, from Thrace, which subsequently became incorporated in the Byzantine or eastern Roman empire. Erzerum, capital of Armenia, has retained the deathless name of Rome. It was founded in the year 415, by Theodosius, a sebastos, that is, emperor, of eastern Rome. He called it Theodosiopolis; but its native name is Erzerum, or Armenian Rome.—Ernest Hartwitz in Asia Magazine.

A Fix Indeed.

She—I'm in an awful fix! Just fancy! My husband has received an anonymous letter informing him of something I did before marriage!

He—The best thing you can do is to confess.

She—That's just it! He won't let me read the letter—and I don't know what to confess!
