HIGH SPOT OF ADVENTURE

Pacific Coast Has for Many Years Been the "Hunting Ground" of Gentlemen Adventurers.

The Pacific coast seems to be favored of the "gentleman adventurer," for one, a Scot, has given a great collection of South Sea relics, arms, armor and utensils to the University of British Columbia at Vancouver. The other, an American, a veteran of the regular army who has seen much service in the army and out of it, has given a Boxer flag to the Golden Gate Memorial museum at San Francisco. Both loved the open, the stir of arms and the savor of strange places. The Boxer flag brings up what today is almost ancient history; the siege of the legations, the coming of the occidental troops and the perils and sufferings of the men and women in that siege, have furnished novelists and writers of stories with much "stuff." The South sea and its vast stretches have had the same lure for the adventurous, and now in their respective resting places these relics and trophies are there to show what two strong men of other lands found and kept. When we say that the Boxer flag was with its owner through St. Mihiel, the Meuse and the Argonne combats, and at Ypres, we have let an Odyssey describe itself.

DIED WITH LOVED BROTHER

Pretty Eastern Legend Concerning the Affection and Loyalty Displayed by Burmese Queen.

A legend concerning Mount Popa, dealing with the time when the Burmese court flourished, tells of a blacksmith of prodigious strength named Mahagiri. He possessed a sister of great beauty who was commanded by the king of Tagaung to be brought before him, shortly afterward being chosen as the principal queen. The king's infatuation brought jealousy among the lesser queens, and they instituted a plot to destroy her.

As a means of destroying the girl's influence over the king, her brother was charged with being a traitor, and the king, in his terror, ordered the blacksmith to be brought to justice and burned. The unhappy sister used all her allurements to save her brother, but failed, finally asking that she might be present at the burning. During the ceremony, before a hand could be outstretched to save her, she jumped into the fire, and was burned with her brother.

A few days after the burning the spirits of the two victims were reported in the form of two "nats." In recognition of this, King Kyan-yit-Tha later issued an edict that all his subjects should honor the spirits by suspending a coconut shell in their houses, this custom still being observed by every Burman in the country.

NOT SO TRAGIC, AFTER ALL

Fair Traveler's Emotion at Seeing Affecting Parting Was in Large Part Uncalled For.

The temperamental difference between a restrained and an emotional race occasionally brings about kindred effects through accident. A lady, waiting for a belated train, witnessed a most affecting parting between an aged father and his son, both Italians. The old man seemed in a frenzy of woe. He moaned, raved, lifted his clenched hands toward heaven and shook them despairingly.

"Poor, poor souls!" she exclaimed, compassionately. "The young man going away to seek his fortune and the old man left behind. I suppose he fears they may never meet again. A common tragedy, but it grips one's very heart."

"Cheer up!" briskly advised her companion, who understood Italian. "The young chap is only going to the next town to visit his married sister and the venerable old person is worried because he loaned him his season ticket and wishes now he hadn't promised to do so. He says he knows the boy will lose it, but, anyway, if he does, he'll break every bone in his body when he gets home. That's all."

MONUMENTS OF VAST SIZE

That on Leipzig Battlefield, Though Higher, Less Costly Than Memorial to Italian King.

Leipzig possesses a monument which rises only a few inches short of 300 feet. "The Battle of the Nations" monument stands in the middle of the plain where Blucher routed Napoleon's army. One million cubic meters of earth were displaced to make room for its base. It is surrounded by an enclosure a quarter of a mile wide and nearly half a mile long.

Next to the Pyramids it is the highest in the world, but it is by no means the costliest. This distinction belongs to the national memorial to Victor Emmanuel II, erected on the Capitoline hill in Rome at a cost of $20,000,000. It took 31 years to complete this huge pile of marble steps, covered with statues, bas-reliefs, and mosaics. Saccont, the architect, who designed it, died long before the work was finished, but he left models complete in every detail, and his original plans were never tampered with.

WAS THE FIRST CINDERELLA

Egyptian Maiden Said to Have Been the Original of the Old and Popular Story.

About 700 years B. C., there is said to have lived a maiden, who, though not called "Cinderella," was undoubtedly the person represented in the popular fairy tale, says the Montreal Herald. It was during the rulings of one of the twelve Egyptian kings that this beautiful eastern girl, Rhodope by name, came under the notice of the then known world. Rhodope had remarkably small feet. One day, while bathing in a river near her home, an eagle is said to have swooped down and, playing the part of the fairy godmother, snapped up one of her sandals which was on the bank. Carrying the little shoe off in his beak the bird is reported to have dropped it immediately in front of the king, and, naturally, the little sandal soon attracted royal attention. Struck by its size so small, and the daintiness, too, the king vowed he would find out the charming possessor. Messengers were dispatched and the country was scoured for the foot that the shoe would fit. At length Rhodope was discovered and the shoe placed on her tiny foot. After a triumphal conveyance to the king's palace she was made queen to her royal lover, "King Psammeticus of Memphis."

Speech Should Be Worth While.

And when you have something to say it's worth saying well. It's not just that you say words. You must say them so they attract and convince. We all use pretty much the same words but they sound so differently from the mouths of different people. There are books galore that are musty with unuse because what they say is poorly said. If the thought had been matured into small compass and told in telling diction they should be popular works. And it's the same with speech. Some men have good ideas, but they take so long to tell them that people get tired. Sometimes they even get weary before the man begins to speak. The world wants what you know, but it isn't willing to waste time listening to mere words.

WORLD'S POOREST CITY IS MADE RICHEST BY TOURIST TRAVEL

From the poorest republic in the world to the richest is what tourists travel did for Switzerland. That little republic practically unknown a century ago is now recognized the world over as a playground for tourists because its scenic beauties were capitalized.

Data showing what the tourist business has done for Switzerland has been prepared by Alfred A. Aya representing the Swift interests in Oregon and turned over to the Oregon State Chamber of Commerce to be used in connection with its state-wide expansion campaign now in progress.

It has a direct bearing on the campaign by reason of the fact that one of the chief arguments being used by the State Chamber is that cities are spending huge sums to advertise their interests along civic industrial lines.

In the article prepared by Mr. Aya showing the economic value of tourist travel he says:

"It is estimated that tourists annually spend more than $750,000,000 in the United States. Of this sum it is estimated Maine and Colorado receive close to $50,000,000; the New England states close to $100,000,000; Florida close to $200,000,000 and southern California close to $300,000,000—while in 1918 it was estimated that Oregon with scenery second to none in the world received less than $5,000,000 from this source.

"The best example in the world of the possibilities of the tourist business is Switzerland, with an area of 15,965 square miles, or about one-third larger than Harney county in eastern Oregon.

"The Swiss did not consciously begin development of the tourist business until about 100 years ago, starting with the single guest in the spare room until today the little republic has, according to the latest hotel guide, 959 hotels and doubles its population annually through the tourists. It is said the little village of St. Moritz has few over fifty native population, but 2700 beds for tourists."

Specific cities cited by the State to advertise their possibilities include Chamber that are spending huge sums San Francisco which is now raising a fund of $250,000; Seattle now engaged in raising $250,000 and New Orleans which put $100,000 into an advertising campaign.
