THE WORLD OVER

There is only one known thing that can get out of date as quick as a battleship, and that is a woman's hat.

Because you may lack a noble and successful past is no sign you cannot get and enjoy a noble and successful future.

It is usually the case that when a man wants to sell his automobile either he or the machine is broke.

Just because marriages are made in heaven is no excuse for anybody to put it off until they get to headquarters. Do it now!

We trust both of those plug-uglies get beat up until they have to invade a hospital, but Dempsey deserves the harder knocks of the two, for Carpenter did go to the war and fight, while Dempsey didn't.

We have been reading a book by Dr. Slosser on things chemically compounded, and now we don't know whether we are an atom, a man critter or a transmogrified monkey gland, or all three in one. Did you know that all flesh is really grass, or that your head is solidified sunshine, or that memory is a kind of perfume?

Well, that's what this doctor says, anyhow. When we want to get the Willies we always read something a professor or doctor has written.

Every back yard has a sloop pail and two or three cats. Human nature is about the same the world over. Just now the biggest strawberries are on top of the box.

Colorado was among the first to go on the water wagon, but it has been getting more of it than it bargained for. The Colorado Fuel and Iron company, a Standard Oil adjunct, had better fill in the lowlands of Pueblo with its smelter slag.

Mr. Hearst says in a signed editorial that all men are born equal. Seems like we have heard something like that before; still, it has to be admitted that some men get more prunes into their systems than others, which, of course, is not insinuating that Mr. Hearst is one of that kind.

Soap has dropped 25 per cent in price and we can all now take a bath every Saturday night, but things for the other six days and nights still need fixing.

We are not overly anxious to take Bobby Burn's advice and see ourselves as others see us—our vanity might get an awful slam.

If fortune were a crawling worm
Some folks would scarcely fall
To be just half a minute late
In stepping on its tail.

The telephone young lady really must get a move on. A sad case has just come to light where a man called up his sweetheart to propose to her, and by the time he got the right number she had married another and had twins.

A gun has been invented to shoot aviators. Why shoot them? They kill themselves off fast enough to keep the supply below normal.

CORN COBS ARE DIET OF HUNGRY CHINESE

Oregon Nurse Writes That Misery Stalks Through North China.

That a steady diet of ground-up corn cobs and sweet potato vines is not conducive to an ideal physical condition is attested by Miss Marie Rustin, graduate nurse, well known in Oregon, who is now in charge of the Taylor Memorial hospital, under the management of the American Presbyterian mission at Paotingfu, China.

In a letter written by Miss Rustin less than eight weeks ago to the members of the Sangrael Christian Endeavor society of the First Presbyterian church in Portland, Miss Rustin tells of the appalling conditions throughout North China, where 45,000,000 men, women and children are confronted with starvation and where 15,000 are dying daily. Miss Rustin has been at Paotingfu for about three years and for many months past, like all other mission attaches and relief workers in China, has been concentrating all efforts on the task of lessening the suffering of the famine victims.

While Paotingfu is on the outskirts of the great drought-ridden famine district, just south of Peking, Miss Rustin writes that even there all the missions and relief stations are literally swamped with the supplications of many thousand men, women and children who are half-clad in thin rags, weak from undernourishment and struggling desperately to keep alive on roots, bark or anything that offers sustenance. The situation in the heart of the famine section, she says, is simply beyond the imagination.

"We are doing all we can," writes Miss Rustin, "here in our hospital trying to build up the weakened bodies of famine sufferers who come to us in frightful condition. We are getting patients who have been trying to live on ground-up corn cobs and sweet potato vines. We have all been asked to give until it hurts, and now that it has grown so cold we do not dare to think of freezing, starving thousands right at our door. In going to a soup kitchen where we feed 670 people twice a day, I was surrounded so by the poor creatures that I thought they would crush the life out of me before I could get in."

Dysentery is a very serious and often a dangerous disease, but it can be cured. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has cured it even when malignant. For sale by all dealers.
