A large audience enjoyed the interesting lecture of B. H. Boyd of Brooklyn, in the city hall Tuesday evening. His remarks dwelt mainly on the wonderful and miraculous advancement of the world generally in the last 40 years in the way of inventions, etc., and in his way of translating the Bible about everything has been accomplished that the Creator intended before the world is to come to an end, or of the second coming of Christ on earth. According to his way of thinking and teaching, the end of the world will come before the year 1925. The Post hopes everybody will be ready for this coming great event.

That fellow, W. B. Barrett, of the state highway commission, is quite a josh. In order to make a "good fellow" of himself, whenever anybody treats him to a cigar or drink of moonshine he jollies them by promising to move the county seat to their town. About the most useful thing Barrett has yet done was to send in his resignation, to take effect Dec. 31. Of course he knows that the first official act of our new governor would be to "bump" him out of his fat job—and he simply beat the governor to it.

If you owe the Post anything, better pay it and get on the "right side" before the world comes to an end—which is scheduled to be pulled off any time now—according to a noted lecturer who preached here Tuesday night. You can't hope to be saved if you dodge your honest debts.

If the Post is not up to its usual standard of excellence this issue the fault may be laid to yesterday being a holiday, when the office was not open.

Cheer up! These short gloomy days will soon be over. After Dec. 22nd the days will grow longer at the rate of a couple of minutes per day.
