News Items of Local Interest

Christmas is coming. So is 4th of July.

Judge and Mrs. F. L. Tou Velle left Saturday in their car for San Diego, where they will spend the winter.

Alf Norris is back again for awhile at his old job of clerking in the Cash store. As an artistic counter-jumper Alf has few equals.

The State Teachers' Examinations for December will be held at Jacksonville beginning at nine o'clock on Wednesday, 19th and continuing until Saturday, 22nd at four o'clock.

Hillah Temple held its regular annual election of officers in Ashland Friday and was attended by a large number of Mystic Shriners. Mayor Emil Britt was re-elected chief rabban.

Mrs. A. H. Maegly and daughters—Mrs. Erma Tomlinson and Miss Monta Maegly, who spent the last couple of months in Los Angeles, are returning to their homes in Portland this week in their car. They stopped over here several days to visit their sister and aunt—Miss Stella Levy.

E. R. Jones, who moved with his family last summer to Escondido, Cal., renewed his subscription to the Post this week. Ed writes that they are well pleased with their new home and that Mrs. Jones' health is better than it had been for years. He says it would be up-hill work to keep house without the J'ville Post.

The wild goose family dwindled in number pretty rapidly for several days last week in the Klamath country. Dr. Oftedal and Dave Cronemiller returned Sunday from that region with their cars loaded to the roof with as toothsome a bunch of geese as ever gladdened a stomach. They treated a number of their friends to a goose feast—the Post among them.

Among the several new business enterprises to be established here soon is a moving picture show by a man who has had considerable experience in this line of work. He proposes to erect a concrete building for the business, but if it can be had, will open up within a few weeks in a portion of the U. S. hotel building, now the property of the town of Jacksonville.

Amy Dow is moving her restaurant and stock of groceries and confectionery from the telephone office corner to her building opposite the U. S. hotel. This is the two-story brick building Mrs. Dow recently purchased from Luke Ryan. It has just been re-calculated, painted and fitted up in elegant style and is now one of the neatest and most comfortable places of the kind in the county.

Jacksonville High School News

The basket ball teams have been practicing every night this week in preparation for the games with Sams Valley, which will take place soon. The line-up for each team is: Boys—center, Lester Hodson; forwards, Art Davies and Dick Hartman; guards, Chase Oftedal, Jack Moore. Girls—centers, Cora Long, Ona Varney; forwards, Clair Coleman, Berniece Reter; guards, Marguerite Sparks, Reta Varney.

A community Christmas tree will be held at the Presbyterian church on Friday before Christmas. In addition to this, each room in the school will have a "Christmas tree" with an appropriate program. Mr. Cook has appointed several girls to solicit money to buy candy for the community Christmas tree.

John Hueners has been absent from school the last few days, as a result of being scalded. The radiator of a car he was driving was frozen, causing the water to heat quickly and when he took the cap off steam rushed out, scalding him.

Capt. O. C. Applegate is in town for a brief visit with his relatives.

A. L. Bixby, an old and experienced newspaper editor and lecturer and at present one of the editors of the State Journal, published at Lincoln, Neb., visited here this week at the home of his brother, R. A. Bixby, one mile east of town.

Mrs. M. J. Swinden is recovering from her recent illness. Thursday she entertained Misses Tharp, Moy and Spenker of Medford and Mrs. L. H. Wakefield and Mrs. Al Boggis of Jacksonville. Miss Spenker gave a health talk on Viavi treatment.

Some candidate for the penitentiary one night last week stole a tire and rim from Rev. Edgar's car in his garage at the parsonage—which entitles him to the title of champion thief of this district. History records that the lowest-down thief in the world was the wretch who stole the hide from a blind tumblebug and then started it home on the wrong road.

In circuit court this week in the case of the state vs James Moore, charged with stabbing "Blackie" Moore at Medford, the jury Wednesday evening returned a verdict of not guilty—taking the view that it was a case of self-defense. The case of Homer Tellett of Medford, charged with driving a car while drunk on jackass booze, is on trial today. After tomorrow, what court business is left, will be postponed until Jan. 21st—after a session is held at Grants Pass.
