Referring to P. H. Bell, ex-cashier of the Gold Hill bank, who was indicted by the grand jury this week on eleven counts for the part he played in wrecking that bank, for which he pleaded guilty, the Gold Hill News says: "He will be sentenced in a few days unless the Judge paroles him from the bench, which would please a great many people who are familiar with the case." This is queer argument from a newspaper. How about the hundreds of people who have lost their savings of a lifetime by Bell's dishonesty? Are they entitled to no consideration at all? Bankroting is not the popular sport it once was, and the best way to discourage it is a long term in the penitentiary.

The Gold Hill News announces that the plant will soon be moved to Grants Pass. Editor Wharton says the small amount of business he gets from that town does not justify keeping the paper there. He says he is worn-out wasting his time, energy and money boosting a town where scarcely any of the business men show enough interest in the paper to patronize it—and he figures that such a town does not deserve a paper.

There has been less rain this spring than usual, but fertile old Rogue valley never looked better than at the present time. There is plenty of time yet for rain—perhaps during the dry season, when it would be needed worse than now. Jackson countyites will be eating chicken while others are eating feathers.

It has been demonstrated beyond reasonable doubt that asphalt paving makes better and more lasting roads than those paved with injunction suits.

A hick community is a place where the mail order houses get 90 cents and the local merchants get the other dime.—Clarion.

The Telephone Instrument

The telephone is a highly sensitive, delicately adjusted instrument. Think of it—without regard to distance, instantaneously reproducing every tone of the human voice.

The quality of its service, in great measure, depends upon careful use.

As with your watch, automobile or piano—the more care, better results.

Among the "out of order" reports received by the company, many result from the carelessness of the subscriber. A telephone may fall from desk or stand, breaking the mouthpiece or throwing the apparatus out of adjustment. The cord may become twisted; meaning a "noisy" line. A damp cloth laid on the cord or the moisture from an open window may cause the "short circuit" and an entire interruption of service.

All of these things are avoidable with the exercise of slight care. In protecting the telephone equipment you are protecting your own service.
