SMILES

"Smile--and the World Smiles With You;
Weep and You Weep Alone."

Traveler: "Your son threw a stone at me."

Irishman: "Did he hit you?"

Traveler: "No."

Irishman: "Well, then, he wasn't my boy."—American Boy.

Wife: "Didn't I hear the clock strike two as you came in last night?"

Other Half: "You did. It started to strike eleven an' I stopped it so's not to waken yot.—Ex.

Wife: "This pudding is a sample of the new cook's work. What do you think of it?"

Husband: "I call it mediocre."

Wife: "No, dear, it's tapioca."—Ex.

"How would you classify a telephone girl? Is hers a business or a profession?"

"Neither. It's a calling."

Mother: "No, Bobby; for the third time I tell you you can't have another chocolate."

Bobby (in despair): "I don't see where father gets the idea that you're always changing your mind!"

Teacher: "What is the difference between a stoic and a cynic?"

East Side New Yorker: "A stoic is a boid what brings the babies and a cynic is a place where you wash the dishes."

"As I was crossing the bridge the other day," said an Irishman, "I met Pat O'Brien. 'O'Brien,' says I, 'how are you?' 'Pretty well, thank you, Brady,' says he. 'Brady!' says I, 'that's not my name.' 'Faith,' says he, 'and mine's not O'Brien.'"

"With that we again looked at each other, and sure enough it was nather of us!"

Girls do some foolish things but they don't wear stiff white collars any more.

He who sitteth upon a throne or in a presidential chair, hearing the complaints of the multitude, hath nothing on him who sitteth behind the wheel of the family car with his wife in the back seat.

A high-brow is one who says: "Please, possess your soul in patience."

A medium-brow is one who says: "Hold your horses."

A low-brow is one who says: "Keep your shirt on."—The Kablegram.

A certain school teacher had a great deal of trouble in making a boy understand his lesson and when he finally succeeded he drew a long breath and said, "Well, if it were not for me you'd be the biggest donkey in the state."—Kablegram.

Mrs. Newlywed (who has been hearing news of an old sweetheart, whom she jilted): "And when you told him I was married did he seem to be sorry?"

"Yes, he said he was very sorry—although he didn't know the man personally."—Ex.

At the close of a recent Sunday school talk the teacher asked the pupils if they had any questions to ask, and immediately a small hand shot skyward.

"Please, sir," the little one wanted to know, "why was Adam never a baby?"

The teacher paused, in doubt as to what answer to make to this momentous question, but a little girl, the eldest of several brothers and sisters, came to his aid:

"Please, sir, there was nobody to nurse him."

COMPARE THIS WITH THE GROWTH OF YOUR OTHER PROPERTY

—then invest in one of your community's fastest-growing enterprises

Gross earnings of The California Oregon Power Company today are One Million Dollars a year greater than the gross earnings for 1913.

Revenue-producing assets—solid structures of wood, steel, copper and concrete—now reach nearly twelve million dollars—over seven millions more than twelve years ago.

In eight years, the volume of electricity produced by this company has quadrupled. Electric energy from the eight Copco power houses operates entire sawmills, runs mine machinery, irrigates thousands of productive acres, supplies power for domestic uses and lights the lamps of streets and homes in forty-four prosperous and growing communities.

New expansion is your opportunity

The demand for hydro electric power is only in its infancy. The California Oregon Power Company already has a definite market for the output of new power plants and additional extensions now under construction.

An investment now in the new issue of The California Oregon Power Company 7% Preferred Stock (yielding 7.14% at its price of $98 a share) opens to you the opportunity of sharing in this steady growth.

7.14% for your savings

To make this investment convenient for all of its customers the Company offers an unusual Savings Investment Plan.

An initial deposit of $5 per share and payments of $5 per share per month will make you an owner in one of the fastest growing enterprises in Southern Oregon and Northern California.
