In the evening, one of the most magnificent displays of Fireworks ever burned on the Pacific Coast, manufactured for the occasion by Prof. Hughes, at his Laboratory in the City Park. The last piece of the evening will, while burning, cover an area of 300 feet by 300 feet, the central figure of which will be Washington on horseback. Seats will be arranged for 15,000 people on the City Park blocks west of the city, south of which the fireworks will be burned.

July 5th.

Morning Trial of Fire Engines—Steam and Hand. Not less than ten engines will enter the contest for the prizes.

During the afternoon there will be a regatta on the river, opposite the city. From the number of boats now completed for the occasion, there is little doubt but the race will be exciting.

In the evening there will be given a grand Centennial Ball, also Open Air Concert on the fireworks grounds. During the day, the Turners will hold a Picnic at East Portland, where they will contend for prizes offered by the Committee.

July 6th.

Boat racing by the finest boats of the Northwest Coast.

Afternoon—Base Ball games, in which several of the best clubs in the State will take part.

Evening—Billiard Match, Open Air Concert, &c.

July 7th.

Rifle Shooting, Wing Shooting, and Contest of Military Companies for Medal.

Fares on All Routes.

One-half fare for two-weeks from Wednesday, June 28. From all points south of Eugene City, on O. & C. R. R., at Eugene rates, which will enable the people of the southern portion of the State to visit Portland at a small cost, compared with usual rates.

The Telegram, a spicy, lively, and newsy semi-weekly newspaper, has made its appearance at Independence, Polk County. Price, per annum $2.50; Pipes & Wheeler, Publishers.

Wood's Museum at Portland will have the largest show and the best one west of Philadelphia Centennial week. Call and see.

By last steamer Gray's Music Store received a large shipment of the world renowned Steinway Pianos and matchless Burdett Organs, as well as a full line of Centennial sheet music. Mr. J. A. Carr, the gentlemanly manager, will be pleased to see you. Give him a call.

Geo. W. Traver, the Manufacturers Agent of the New Home Sewing Machine, has just received another supply of these favorite machines at the south west corner Third and Morrison Streets.

Wigandia! what in the world is Wigandia? why it is Weatherford's wonderful preparation of Mountain Balm, said to be an excellent, exhilarating expectorant and alterative tonic. It purifies the blood and improves digestion, thereby increasing the appetite. By all means read the advertisement and then buy a bottle.

We take pleasure in calling special attention to the advertisement of W. S. Newbury, the Managing Agent for Oregon and Washington Territory, for Frank Bros., one of the largest Agricultural Establishments on the Coast. They are the sole Agents for the well and favorably known Walter A. Wood Mowing, and Reaping, and Harvesting Machines. These machines have received more than 700 prizes, including the "World's highest prize" for mowing and reaping machines at the Paris Exposition in 1867, as well as at the Vienna Exposition in 1873.

great many lateral streams tributary to these named, near the foot hills; and altogether, as was before remarked, present an array of possibilities for manufacturing that will aggregate an immense water power.

There are three first class flouring mills in Clackamas county, two at Oregon City and one at Milwaukie; there are besides, three or four custom mills, five or six saw mills, one large first class woolen mill, tub and bucket factory, paper mill, and iron ore and reduction works in the county, and altogether gives token of its greatness, in leading in the several productions and manufactures named, and presages still greater things for its future. There are many trades still unprecedented in the manufacturing line that ought to be in operation here, where water power could be employed as an aid thereto.

Clackamas county has twenty post-offices and a population of about seven thousand.

While we do not wish to make invidious comparisons between this and other counties of our young and growing State, we do not think for variety and beauty of landscape, salubrity of climate, and abundance and purity of living water, it is surpassed in this or any other State.

Oregon City, the county seat of Clackamas county, is most beautifully located on the Willamette river, immediately below the Falls, one of the most picturesque spots on the coast. It has the honor of being the first city established in the State. The first cabin was built there in 1835, by Dr. McLaughlin, the chief factor of the Hudson Bay Company. Our engraving represents the south part of the city as seen from the cliffs, showing the Oregon City Woolen Mills, a magnificent four-story brick structure, owned by a Company, of which Ralph Jacobs, Esq., is President. Immediately in its rear we observe the roof of the Tub and Pail Company's Factory, whilst almost adjoining it on the left we see the far-famed "Imperial Mills." Lying on the bank of the river, as partly seen in the extreme right end of the engraving, is the splendid Flouring Mill of Miller, Marshall & Co., a beautiful brick structure with stone foundation, built on the bed-rock, and perhaps the finest and largest flouring mill on the coast. On the opposite bank of the river are the locks of the Willamette, (constructed at an expense of half a million of dollars) allowing the passage of steamboats from the upper to the lower river, and vice versa. On the left bank of the river, about one mile distant, is seen the suburban village of Canemah. Taking it altogether, Oregon City is one of the most delightful places in the State to spend a week during the summer season, as the scenery about its immediate vicinity is difficult to excel. The population is about 1,500. A most excellent newspaper, the Oregon City Enterprise, is published here, by Mr. F. S. Dement, a young gentleman possessing more than ordinary ability. The Alden Fruit Preserving Company of Oregon City have their dry-house located in the northern part of the town. Their fruits are gaining a most excellent reputation abroad, and their exhibit at the Centennial is highly spoken of by Eastern newspapers. A most excellent school, under supervision of S. D. Pope, is in a most flourishing condition. A good hotel, the "Cliff House," is kept by T. W. Rhoades. Opposite to it we find the "Barlow House," also a good house, but kept on a cheaper plan, by James Cochran. The stores and shops will compare favorably with any other in the State. Amongst the leading ones we notice the general merchandise establishment of Ackerman Bros.; Thos. Charman's; B. A. Hughes'; A. Levy's; John Myers'; R. Canfield's and I. Selling's. Each of the above keep full stocks and as late styles as can be obtained in any store in Portland. Messrs. Ward & Harding have a very neat Drug Store; C. W. Pope & Co.'s stock of Stoves, Tinware and House-furnishing Goods, is well selected; J. M. Bacon, the obliging Postmaster, who also acts as agent for the West Stores, has a good assortment of Books and Stationery, as well as Cigars and Tobacco; H. C. Stephens, Esq., is the Railroad Company's Agent, and few can be found along the entire line of a more obliging nature. Of Attorneys-at-Law we find the firm of Johnson, McCown & Macrum, as well as Huelat & Eastman. Of Physicians, Dr. H. W. Ross, and Drs. Hoover and Norris. The Machine Shop of John H. Moore's is one of the manufacturing institutions of the town, and is kept pretty busy at all seasons. Wm. Broughton utilizes part of the water power here for his saw mill, which may be seen in the engraving—the first building above the Imperial Mills. The Lincoln Bakery is kept by Williams & Harding, who also deal in Groceries. Andy Willis runs a Livery Stable—the only one in town—and does a good business. Worsham & Ramsey supply the city with fresh meats of all kinds. In Boot and Shoe stores we make special mention—the establishment of J. F. Miller, as well as the one of J. H. Shepherd. Messrs. Fields & Srickler keep a full line of Groceries. The city, for its size, has but few Saloons. This, however, is perhaps owing to the fact that the water supply is unlimited. F. Wilde attends to repairing Guns and Sporting Implements, and has been established here since 1852. C. P. Winesett manufactures and repairs Wagons and Agricultural Implements. Messrs. Weatherston & Mullins conduct a Furniture store—the only one in town; they keep a full supply of everything required for house-furnishing. C. M. Kester manufactures Sacks and Tents; his machines are all run by water power, thereby saving considerable muscle. In the Blacksmithing line, the town is supplied by two firms, namely: McKinnon & Miller, and Willis Bros. With this we close our description for the present of Clackamas county and its county seat, Oregon City.

The Pacific Boot and Shoe House No. 77 First Street, Dekum's Block, has the largest stock of Boots and Shoes in Portland, and are now receiving 30 different Styles of Centennial Boots and Shoes for men and boys, as well as an immense stock of Ladies' and Children's latest styles of fine shoes. They make all importations direct from manufacturers, and are therefore enabled to offer at lower prices than any house in this City.

A large assortment of Field and Marine Glasses, just the thing to take to the seaside with you, received by Steamer Ajax at Wm. Beck & Son's, 107 Front Street.

The "Royal Boot and Shoe Store," soon to be opened on First Street, between Yamhill and Taylor, is now nearly ready to receive the well assorted stock of Boots and Shoes, soon to arrive, both of San Francisco and Eastern manufacture. Send your orders to J. L. Royal.

The Salem Marble Works of Mr. Staiger are the largest in the State. His assortment of Mantles, Statuary, Fountains, Monuments and Headstones is unsurpassed.

One of the most complete establishments in the State, in the Boot and Shoe line, is the Store of John W. Gilbert at Salem, always has a very large stock of ladies' and children's latest styles of shoes on hand, and he has the exclusive sale of the celebrated "Hersome Gaiter." Also deals extensively in Leather and Shoe Findings, and pays the highest market rate for Hides, Furs and Pelts. People south of Portland will find it to their advantage to call at Gilbert's.
