

afflicted with rheumatic troubles of the worst order who have been entirely cured by following the theory above stated and using the remedy mentioned. Many of these persons had the very worst possible symptoms. Vague aches in different portions of the body were followed by agonies the most intense in some particular spot. Acute and throbbing pains succeeded each other and the coursing poisonous acid inflamed all the veins. Troubles which began with slight disorders increased to derangements the most serious. It is sad to think that all this suffering was endured when it could have been so easily relieved. Acting upon the theory and using the remedy above mentioned the kidneys could have been restored to their usual vigor, the uric poison expelled from the system, the inflammation removed and the pain entirely banished.

These are some of the real and scientific facts regarding rheumatism, attested by the highest authority and they are, beyond question, the only correct ones ever brought forth. We are aware they are advanced ideas, but ten years hence they will be the accepted belief and practice of the world. If people suffer from rheumatic troubles in the future and with these plain truths before them, they certainly can blame no one but themselves.—Scientific American.

A Happy Thought.

It was a happy thought that led to the production of a concentrated fruit syrup, so harmless in its nature that it may be given either to the mother or her babe, relished alike by both, and of such wonderful efficiency that all who take it feel brighter and happier.

All persons feeling dull and depressed, or perhaps feverish, with no appetite, no energy, the system clogged, the liver torpid, and the bowels inactive, who are wondering how to find relief, should purchase a 50 cent or $1 bottle of Syrup of Figs, read the circular around the bottle, follow the directions, taking a few doses of this pleasant remedy and be restored to health and happiness. It may be had of all druggists.

A VALUABLE WORK.—By the compiler, Mr. David Steel, we have been furnished with a copy of "Steel's Express, Telegraph and Postoffice Directory, for Oregon and Washington." After a careful perusal of it, we unhesitatingly commend it to our readers as a most valuable publication. It should be in the office of every business and professional man on the Pacific Northwest.

All the illustrations in this number of the WEST-SHORE were executed at the establishment of A. G. Walling, Lithographer, Steam Job and Book Printer and Book-Binder, Southeast corner of Ash and First streets, Portland, Oregon.

HONESTY HAS ITS OWN REWARD.—The house of Lobe & Co., established only two years in Portland, is considered as doing the largest trade in crockery, glass and china ware, lamps, plate ware, house furnishing goods, wood and willow ware, etc., of any firm in this young city. Why? Because the firm is reliable, never misrepresents, and makes hosts of friends by their honesty. Cut this out, reader, and when you and your family comes to this beautiful State to make it your home, seek out Lobe & Co. They will fit you out in English, German, French or Spanish, and make you think that for house furnishing their store is the cheapest of any in the city. Always on hand, 169 First street.

Words and phrases may be marshalled in every way, but they cannot express the supreme satisfaction that all enjoy, who go to HIMES THE PRINTER for legal, commercial, general, social and corporation job printing. Headquarters, 5 and 7 Washington street, Portland, Oregon. Book binding, paper ruling, engraving, designing and all kindred branches, promptly and satisfactorily executed.

FRESH supplies of books and stationery are received by every steamer at Woodruff, Davis & Co.'s, Seattle. They are the leading dealers in their line, and carry the best assortment on the Sound. All their importations are made direct from publishers and manufacturers.

For the very best photographs, all sizes and styles, go to Abell's Gallery, on First street, between Morrison and Yamhill.
