The Chicago Tribune says: "It is noticeable that, coupled with the announcement of the death of almost every man of note nowadays, comes the further statement that his life was insured for a more or less heavy sum."

Fifty-Two People in Oregon and Washington Territory have been paid through this Agency over ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS on Ten-Year Endowment Policies by the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company of Milwaukee, Wis.

These Policies returned the total amount paid for them with BETTER INTEREST than Government Bonds pay, besides the insurance.

Because of that very favorable experience, the same people have since taken new insurance in the company for a much larger amount.

For reference, the names of a few of them are here given:

Amount Money Received.	Name.	New Insurance Taken.
$ 2,500	J. B. Congle	$ 5,000
1,500	George A. Reed	5,000
1,000	Henry Fleckenstein	5,000
5,000	John Gates	10,000
2,500	Capt. Richard Hoyt	5,000
1,500	Capt. J. Hood	5,000
1,000	Capt. J. M. Gilman	10,000
2,000	D. D. Clark	5,000
2,000	D. B. Jackson	5,000
2,000	John Marshall	5,000
5,000	C. H. Woodard	20,000

$26,000 $76,000

The Northwestern, being the only purely Mutual Life Company in the West, furnishes insurance to its policy-holders (who alone constitute the company) at a net cost below that afforded by any other company in the United States, and has done so for more than a dozen years.

Harper's Weekly says: "Its unusually large dividends to policy-holders, economical management and low rates recommend it to everybody."

The Insurance Times, New York, says: "It is gratifying to find that it is, without exception, one of the soundest organizations in existence." The leading life business of the Pacific Northwest, now aggregating millions, is carried by the NORTHWESTERN.
