Portland area endorsements

Portland's city government is in a state of flux. A neighborhood activist is running a serious campaign in opposition to the 'good ol' boy' downtown business interests with whom Frank Ivancie is aligned.

Bud Clark wants to unseat the mayor. Clark wants to break up that downtown power and help small businesses. A vote for Bud Clark is a healthy vote.

In the other major race, it appears that the "good ol' boys" are trying to buy another seat on the city commission. Mike Lindberg should be retained, his opponent should be ashamed of himself.

City Commissioners

Mike Lindberg

Lindberg is a capable city commissioner. He almost always votes progressively. His opponent has been running a conservative campaign. The loss of Lindberg would be a detriment to the city's health.

Charles Jordan

Jordan's record on human rights is excellent.

Mayor

J.E. "Bud" Clark

Bud Clark would be everybody's mayor. His politics are geared toward the neighborhoods. He is a progressive.

Multnomah County Ballot Measures

Ballot Measure #3. This ballot measure would authorize a $3 million annual levy for three years to restore library services and avoid further curtailments.

Ballot Measure #4. This ballot measure would establish a county library commission. The public library system is now primarily funded by the county but managed by a private organization known as The Library Association of Portland. This measure would create a public county agency administered by a commission appointed by the Multnomah County Commission.

Ballot Measure #5. This measure is a request for more than $15 million "to address the problem of overcrowding in county correctional facilities." $12 million is earmarked for facilities and diversionary programs.
