

eral other museums after its Portland showing. Counterpoint has been made possible by generous support from Howard and Jean Vollum. The Portland showing will include a group of the artist's sculptures shown in the adjoining Focus Gallery.

Folk Craft Gallery, 300 SW 1st Ave., 222-0063. Tin sculpture and assemblages by Robert Wilkerson, through Sept. 29.

19 WEDNESDAY

Gay Males Together (GMT) meets at PSU's Lincoln Hall, Rm. 75, at 7:30 p.m. to discuss issues pertinent to gay men. Newcomers welcome.

The Portland Lesbian and Gay Pride Community band practices at Atkinson School, 58th and SE Division. The band exists to promote gay pride, improve skills and to be an ensemble of men and women working together. Call 287-3260 or 233-1206 for more information.

The Toussaint L'Ouverture Series, 41 gouache paintings by the preeminent black American artist Jacob Lawrence, will be on view in the First Floor Corridor Gallery. Created in 1938, the series dramatically illustrates the story of the slave Toussaint L'Ouverture, who organized the revolt in Haiti that led to the island's independence in 1804. This exhibition, on view through November 4, is circulated by the Amistad Research Center in New Orleans, Louisiana, and supported by the American Missionary Association, part of the United Church Board for Homeland Ministries, and the National Endowment for the Arts. The Portland showing is made possible by the Oregon Arts Commission, the National Endowment for the Arts, and Links, Inc.

Long Days Journey into Night, Eugene O'Neill's masterpiece, with a first-rate cast. Jay Randall Horenstein as Edmund, Twig Webster as Jamie, Linda Williams Janke as Mary Tyrone and Steven Clark-Pachosa as James Tyrone. New Rose Theatre, 904 S.W. Main, 222-2487.

Alana Beth Lipp, who directed three productions at the New Rose Theatre in 1983-84 (Hedda Gabler and Crimes of the Heart), as well as O'Neill's A Moon for the Misbegotten, will direct this magnificent and powerful autobiographical drama. The play will run through October 20, 1984. For more information, call 222-2495.

Alix Dobkin, lesbian singer, songwriter, performs at 9 p.m. MCC, 24th and NE Broadway, Women only, childcare available by reservation, wheelchair access, ASL interpreted, sliding scale $5-7. For info call 648-3081 or 234-5623.

Spectrum Gallery presents original serigraphs and posters by Jerry Schurr through October 6. Opening Reception 5:30-8:00 p.m.

Continuing on its well-established path of theatrical excellence, Sirius Productions has opened its 1984-85 season at the Eastside Performance Center, 5414 SE 145th, with Brendan Behan's The Hostage, the terrorist musical comedy.

21 FRIDAY

ARTQUAKE, 21, 22, 23rd.

Prints by Mark Tobey at Elizabeth Leach Gallery, 207 Southwest Pine Street, 224-0521. Reception, 8-10 p.m.

Portland Gallery Association, makes

Long Day's Journey Into Night stars Twig Webster, Linda Williams Janke, and Jay Randall Horenstein.

The Hostage runs through September 29th. Performances are Friday and Saturday at 8 p.m. Tickets available through TicketLink, 227-4080, or at the door.

Plenty, written by David Hare, directed by Rebecca Adams and produced by Artists Repertory Theatre, 1111 SW 10th, Portland, OR 97205, 223-6281, will open tonight at 8 p.m. Tickets available through TicketLink, 227-4080.

Counterpointing the heroine's experience helping the French Resistance during the war with her life in the following years in England, the play makes a powerful statement about changing values and the collapse of ideals embodied in a single life.

a 16 Art "Gallery Loop" 4:00-9:00 p.m. in honor of Artquake. for information call 222-0063, 224-0521.

22 SATURDAY

Windfire, a rap group for gay, lesbian, and bisexual youth meets at 2:30 p.m. in Old Wives Tales banquet room, 1300 Burnside.

A Toast to the Arts... Northwest Artists Workshop and and The Virginia Cafe once again collaborate in bringing back a local tradition: Buck Night at the Virginia Cafe. To be held in conjunction with Artquake on Saturday, September 22, Buck Night features a $1 cover charge with all drinks selling for $1 between 9:30 p.m. and midnight. This is a great opportunity to Hob-Nob with the art crowd as they re-hash the merits of the art, the entertainment, and especially the food. And... you can gossip with your friends in good conscience since the cover charge goes to the Workshop. Supporting arts was never so easy. 9:30-midnight, at the Virginia Cafe, 725 SW Park.

Artquake activities at the Portland Art Museum. Call 226-2811 for details.

23 SUNDAY

Judy Fjell, House Concert at 7:30 p.m., 2738 NE 9th (off Knott), sliding scale $3-5. Workshop Monday, Sept. 24, at 7 p.m., $3-5, "Music, education and healing," location to be announced. Please call 295-6938 or 234-5623 for more information.

Crimes of the Heart, has been extended due to sellout audiences at the New Rose Theatre, 904 S.W. Main. Reopens tonight. A high-spirited comedy about the lives of three unlikely sisters... on sale through TicketLink: 227-4080.

CCSM presents their annual Benefit in support of the Gay Hotline. The doors will open at 8:00 p.m. for a no-host social hour, at the Embers Avenue, Broadway & NW Couch.

Under the musical direction of Joe Anderson will be "Fairy Tyler Moore" a.k.a. Jeff Ditzler and "Pearl," a creation of Paul Schamberg. Tim Bowman and Cydne Pigeon will join Fairy and Pear for comedy and music, both performing duets and solos.

Of special interest will be the appearance of B.J. Castleman, renowned pianist and singer. Rounding out the evening will be the group dynamics and sizzling showmanship of Tom Enyart's Dusty Rose, and The Other Side of the Gay Men's Chorus.

The Gay Hotline provides non-judgmental counseling each day from 7:00 until 11:00 a.m. Medical, social and service referrals are given; the group operates solely on public generosity and the income from the annual Benefit production.

Tickets are available at the door for $5.00 and are tax deductible. Further information may be obtained by calling the Hotline at 228-6785 or Benefit Chairman Michael at 281-9647.

24 MONDAY

The Bisexual Exploration Group meets tonight from 7-10 p.m. at Old Wives Tales, 1300 SE Burnside.