THEATER

Catch Me If You Can, the exciting

Linda Williams Janke as Jessie in 'Night, Mother', at New Rose Theater through April 27.

whodunit by Jack Weinstock and Willie Gilbert will play in the Blue Room of the Portland Civic Theater through April 27. Directed by Greg Tamblyn, Catch Me will keep you on the edge of your chair with a cheerful game of homicide, red herrings and sleight-of-hand. An advertising man, having brought his new bride to the boss' mountain lodge for a honeymoon, has called in the local police to investigate her sudden disappearance. A young woman enters and against his protests, insists that she is the missing wife. A sinister priest comes along as well as a funny little delicatessen man who backs up her story and before you know it there are two murders at the isolated lodge. Catch Me has enough laughs and a couple of surprise twists that will keep everyone entertained and baffled.

Kent Phillips stars as Daniel Corban, the confused man in search of his wife, Elizabeth, played by Beth Harper (the wife who may not be a wife). Others in the cast include Bryan Luttrell as the inspector; Michael Parker as the Priest; Sam Hally as Sidney, the sandwich man; and Brian John Merit and Kimberly McCann as the boss and his wife.

Catch Me If You Can will play Thursdays through Saturdays at 8 p.m. and Sundays at 7 p.m. Tickets are $7.50 for adults and $6.50 for students and seniors.

Groups of 25 or more can be accommodated at discounted rates. For theatre party information call the Box Office at 226-3048.

The Unseen Hand plays at Storefront Theatre. The Unseen Hand is a science fiction comedy western written by Sam Shepard. See Out About Town for more information.

The Portland Globe presents Julius Caesar by William Shakespeare Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays through May 5 at the N.W. Service Center, 18th and NW Everett.

This Globe production will launch Portland's newest theatre company's inaugural season. Rollie Wulff directs Julius Caesar, James Edward Harp portrays Brutus, David Heath plays Cassius, Robert Holden plays Mark Antony, and William Tate portrays Julius Caesar. The supporting cast includes Janet Penner as Casca, Karen Campbell as Calpurnia, and Judy Clover as Portia.
