

OUT

About Town

26 THURSDAY

For the Christmas season, Sirius Productions presents William Shakespeare's romantic comedy, Twelfth Night, Or What You Will. Opening at the Cubiculo Theater, 938 N.W. Everett. Twelfth Night will run through January 18, 1986 with one performance in January artistically interpreted for the hearing impaired.

The cast of Twelfth Night includes Anne Marie Endres as Viola, Arthur Harold as Duke Orsino, pining for Olivia played by Cathryn Cushing. Gary Basey as Sir Toby Belch and Edward Klein as Sir Andrew Aguecheek add to the evening's fun. Director Peter Fornara celebrates his 100th production appearing as Malvolio.

A special feature for the holidays will be Sunday matinees at 2:00 pm for the whole family to enjoy. This warm, touching comedy is the perfect way to introduce children to the classical theater of William Shakespeare. For matinees, ticket prices will be $6.00 for adults and $4.00 for children.

Twelfth Night will play through January 18 at 8:00 pm Thursdays through Saturdays at the Cubiculo Theater, 938 N.W. Everett. Tickets will be $6.00 Thurs., $7.00 Fri., and $8.00 Sat. with group discounts of 20% for 10 or more people. The number to call for more information and reservations is 224-9481.

31 TUESDAY

KBOO presents the Grateful Dead live in concert from the Oakland Coliseum on New Year's Eve December 31st from 10 pm to 2:00 am. Master of Ceremonies at the concert will be Father Guido Sarducci a.k.a. Don Novello. Special guest for the concert will be Nigerian master drummer Babatunde Michael Olatunje.

Grateful Dead concerts are always a cult event for loyal dead-heads and the New Years Eve show is a particular hit. This is the second year KBOO has presented the Dead's New Years's Eve show.

3 FRIDAY

Today through January 29, Blue Sky Gallery will show black and white photographs by Canadian Photographer Donigan Cumming.

Showing concurrently in the Outerspace will be the black and white landscape photographs of Lukas Feizmann.

A reception will be held, today from 8-10 p.m. at the Blue Sky, 117 N.W. 5th Ave., Portland, Oregon is open free to the public, noon to 5, Tuesday through Sunday. For more information, call 225-0210.

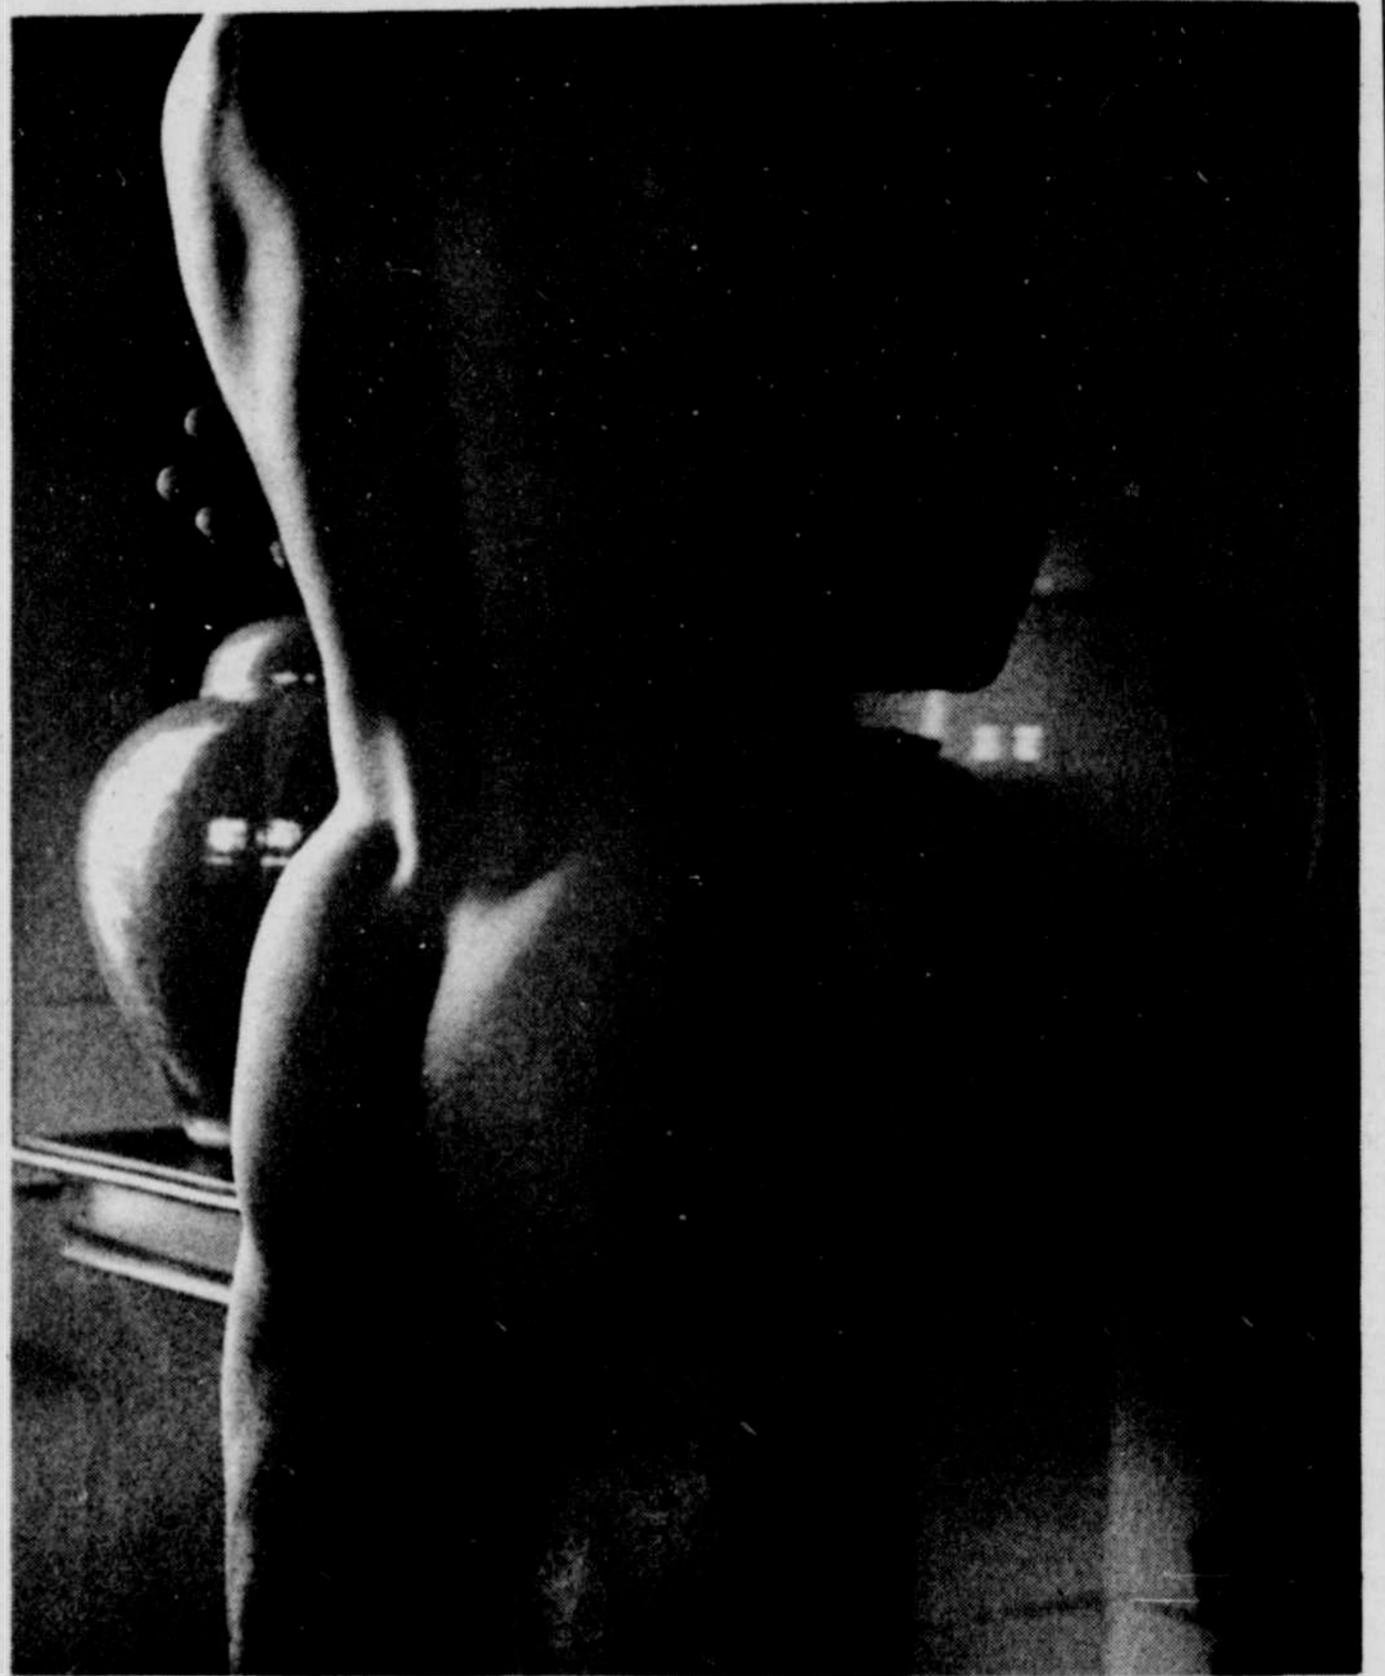

9 THURSDAY

Today is the day for the 1986 community meeting that marks the beginning of Lesbian and Gay Pride '86 activities in Portland. The meeting is scheduled from 7-9 p.m. at the Main Library, 801 SW 10th Avenue.

Lesbian and Gay Pride is scheduled for June 21-29, 1986.

13 MONDAY

The Lesbian Community Project will be having a Focus Group meeting January

"UNTITLED" by Paul Dahlquist is part of the showing at Photographic Image Gallery January 9-February 16. Opening reception Thursday, January 9, 5:00-8:00.

James Harp and Sarah Buff in The Art of Dining at Storefront Theatre.

13th at the Multnomah County Library, 7 p.m., Room E.

Agenda items will include broadening our outreach, the housemeeting format, questions for the in-depth interviews, and talk about preliminary results of the survey. Questions? Call 233-9069.

16 THURSDAY

In recognition of Black History Month, and also of Oregon Artsweek during February, the IFCC Theatre presents the West Coast Premiere of The Resurrection of Lady Lester, a play about jazz musician Lester Young.

Written by Black playwright Oyamo and first produced at Yale Repertory Theatre in 1981, The Resurrection of Lady Lester is subtitled "A Poetic Mood Song Based on the Legend of Lester Young." It is a provocative play, suffused with the great tenor saxophonist's special music and poetry, following the story of his life in fragmented, flashback style, always returning to his last day in a cheap New York hotel in 1959.

The Resurrection of Lady Lester will play Thursday, Friday and Saturday at 8 p.m., and Sunday at 2 p.m., January 16 through February 22, 1986. Tickets are $8 on Thursday and Sunday, $9 on Friday and Saturday. Reservations are strongly advised; call the IFCC at 243-7930 between 10 a.m. and 5 p.m., Monday through Saturday. The IFCC is located at 5340 N. Interstate Avenue, on Tri-Met Bus Routes #5 and #71. The theatre is wheelchair accessible.

Melbourne, Australia Radical Women organizer Allison Thome will speak on the