The Lesbian Community Project is concerned with the social, political and economic well-being of Lesbian Community. We are working to build a Lesbian Community that is inclusive yet rich in diversity, a community that can move forward in areas of agreement while acknowledging differences. Our activities are designed to assist the Lesbian Community as it organizes to meet today's challenges and as it plans for creating tomorrow's future.

Call us at: 233-9079 or write: P.O. Box 5931, Portland, OR 97228.

The Columbia Theater Company, located in the old Fine Arts Theater, will offer theater classes for children and adults beginning September 22. Children's classes include Creative Drama for ages 6-8 and Beginning Acting for ages 9-12. For the teenagers 13-15, Drama for Adolescents will be offered.

Adult acting classes will include sessions for beginning and advanced students. In addition, the C.T.C. will offer a class for Reluctant Orators, designed for people who must speak in front of groups but don't want to, Living Portraits, a class combining acting and writing skills, and The Actor's Tools, an exploration of voice, movement and improvisation.

Registration for fall classes is now open. Call the theater at 232-7005 for further information.

GALLERIES

Blue Sky Gallery, 117 NW 5th Ave., will present the photographs of Christopher Rauschenberg, September 12-October 15.

The show will consist of black and white photographs taken on recent trips to China and Europe. All of the photographs were taken with a panoramic camera that records 140 degrees of the surroundings.

Christopher Rauschenberg's photographs have been in several publications including a photographic monograph, Christopher Rauschenberg Photographs 1973-1980. He has had numerous solo and group exhibitions throughout the US and Europe.

NW Artists Workshop announces On the Job, a group juried exhibition dealing with the theme of art and work. The show opens with a free, public reception on Thursday, September 4 from 7-9 p.m. The exhibit continues through Saturday, September 23 with a closing reception featuring a performance by Portland's own Urban Art Workers, formerly the Ironkore Industrial Workers.

On the Job promises to be an exciting and thought-provoking show featuring works of art in all media in the main gallery, a mail art show in the vault room, and a special exhibition of Northwest Artists Workshop's board of directors' artworks in the east gallery. Some of the themes dealt with by artists include the job environment, the individual psychological and sociological reactions to the job situation.

Artists' Open Studios — Graphic Arts Building — 108 NW 9th. Friday, September 5 from 5-8 p.m. and Saturday, September 6 from 12-5 p.m. Fifteen artists open their studios for public viewing and sales. Visit work spaces, meet the artists, and see works in a variety of media during this weekend event.

Participating artists are Ann Bailey, Rosie Biskar, Mark Bornowski, Mario Caolle, Jim Dunn, Mar Goman, Sandy Haefker, Linda Hutchins, Margarita Leon, Cynthia Nawalinski, Marie Neufeld, Ellie Pine, Maggie Rudy, Manya Shapiro, and Peggy Weil.
