4 • SATURDAY

This particular holiday can be a hazardous one for your pet. If your pet is frightened by fireworks, the following suggestions will help get you and your pet safely through the Fourth of July holiday period.

Obtain suitable tranquilizers from your veterinarian at least two weeks prior to the fourth of July. Read and follow label directions carefully. DO NOT use tranquilizers prescribed for humans on your pet!

If fireworks go off while you are with your pet, speak to your pet calmly and reassure him/her with gentle petting.

If you leave your pet unattended at home during the Fourth of July holiday period, it is best to keep it inside. Some pets will jump over fences or dig out of a yard if frightened by fireworks.
