SOAR is Portland's outdoor program for adults with physical disabilities. Each year with SOAR brings days of skiing, rock climbing, river rafting, hiking, bicycling, and many other outdoor adventures. In the midst of all these instructional trips comes SOAR's Can Do Challenge, a yearly event since 1984.

The Can Do Challenge began as and remains SOAR's primary fundraising event. Over the years it has also grown into one of the most exciting and fun-filled family events held in the Portland area for disabled and non-disabled people to share. The "CDC" is a pledge walk-run-or-wheel-a-thon, held on the track at Grant Park. People do laps for one hour, forming a kaleidoscope of variety of speeds and types of motion. Following the Challenge, we have a glorious party, with food and drink, bluegrass music by Wood Putty, great prizes for the top pledge earners, and door prizes.

If you believe in equal access to outdoor adventure for disabled and non-disabled people alike, and you want to have a day of fun for yourself and everyone else in your family, contact SOAR for pledge sheets and join us in the Can Do Challenge '87, Saturday, July 25th. (SOAR
