Our association with just out has been one of the most exciting and beneficial of our 23 years in business ... the staff is full of energy and creative ideas ... the readers are tremendously loyal and supportive ...

When we advertise in just out, we get good patronage, and that's important to an advertiser. We see a lot of people here as a result of the just out ad. I also think the publication is well written and well put together — the people at just out work hard.
