 Northwest Service Center, 1819 N.W. Everett St., Portland, OR
 Tickets are $7.⁰⁰, and available at the door

The groundbreaking work of Drs. Pert and Ruff in neuropeptides has resulted in the discovery of Peptide T, a non-toxic agent that has been found to reverse many symptoms of HIV disease including fatigue, weight loss, diarrhea, and memory loss. It also appears to prevent further T-cell loss and major and minor opportunistic infections. Why, then, has Peptide T's testing progress been so slow? Drs. Pert and Ruff will explore this and other issues.
