THOUGHTS

- of fears that something terrible might happen
- of forbidden sexual images or impulses
- of perfection, order, exactness, symmetry
- of lucky and unlucky numbers
- of germs, dirt, concern/disgust with bodily secretions

ACTIONS

- repetitive hand washing, bathing, tooth brushing
- checking doors, locks, appliances
- excessive cleaning, ordering, arranging
- hoarding and collecting
- counting, repeated actions

These and other such thoughts and actions may be symptoms of Obsessive-Compulsive Disorder (OCD). Pacific Northwest Clinical Research Center is now studying investigational medication for the treatment of OCD. All care is provided at no cost to eligible participants. If you or someone that you care about suffers from these symptoms, call our 24-hour message line at (503) 288-0011. Qualified participants may be compensated.
